Ike's Tax-Cut Fire Returned

Plan Is Called Irresponsible By President

Says Backers Lack Courage To Submit Separate Measure

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP) — President Eisenhower blasted the Democrats' $20-a-person tax cut plan today. He called it the height of "fiscal irresponsibility."

He also accused the plan's backers of lacking the courage to submit a separate tax-cutting bill. Thus he challenged them to abandon their present tactic of putting it forward as an amendment to another tax measure backed by the administration.

In a series of vigorous and sometimes heated statements at a news conference, the President declared a further tax cut at this time—while the government is spending more than it takes in—would cut the value of the dollar and hurt the nation's economy.

Cut Next Year Possible

"We simply cannot have this kind of thing in responsibile government," he declared.

But Eisenhower said a tax cut should be possible next year if the budget deficit is reduced.

Eisenhower's tax comments — which drew from Democrats a reminder that the Republicans cut taxes last year in spite of an unbalanced budget—dominated a far-ranging news conference in which the President also said:

1. The United Nations must be kept going as a sort of laboratory in the search for peace even if "our opponents do deliberately use it as a propaganda platform." This was his reaction to a speech last night in which Republican Senate Leader Knowland of California contended the U. N. is not "an effective instrument of collective security."

Little Hope For Arms Pact

2. He has no great optimism about agreement being reached at the U. N. arms limitation meeting opening in London this week.

3. He personally looks askance on the idea of sending surplus wheat to the Soviet Union, but is having his advisers look into the idea.

4. Secretary of State Dulles has "very clear and definite" plans to talk with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and others at the Bangkok conference about possible settlement of the Formosa dispute.

Adenauer Gives Party Ultimatum

BONN, Germany, Feb. 23 (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today threatened expulsion of the Free Democrats (FDP) from his four-party government unless they support the Paris agreement to Europeanize the Saar. A political crisis threatened as the Free Democrats, the No. 2 party, replied defiantly.

Adenauer's ultimatum was delivered on the eve of a parliamentary debate on the Paris accords to arm 500,000 West Germans in Western defense. The Saar deal, unpopular among many West Germans, is among those accords. The French insisted upon it as part of a package deal.

Thomas Dehler, the FDP's national chairman, retorted:

"The threat of the Chancellor can only lead the Free Democratic deputies to a hardening of their attitude. So long as I am chairman of the Free Democrats, our deputies will remain free and will resist any and all threats."

In a statement, the FDP said its deputies in the Bundestag "do not see any other possibility than to vote against the Saar agreement as it does not provide for a true 'European' solution of this territory's status or grant it autonomy."

Deserts To Reds

BONN, Germany, Feb. 23 (AP)—The West German Bundestag (lower house) today expelled Christian Democrat Deputy Karl Franz Schmidt-Wittmack. He has gone over to Communist East Germany.

Senators Vote Selves Boost In Pay

Faure Becomes French Premier

Confirmed By 369-210 Vote

FLED FROM REDS — Miroslava Nachodska, blonde Czech ice skating star, is shown in Linz, Austria, yesterday as she tells her reasons for slipping out from behind the Iron Curtain to U.S. refugee center in Austria's American Zone. She said she had everything but freedom and security in her Communist homeland. (Story at bottom of page). (AP Wirephoto via radio from London)

PARIS, Feb. 23 (AP)—The French National Assembly tonight approved Edgar Faure, a 46-year-old financial expert and attorney, as the nation's new Premier.

By a vote of 369-210, the deputies accepted Faure as the successor to Pierre Mendes-France, who was turned out of office Feb. 5. Faure, who held the job in 1952 for six weeks, will head the 21st government in France's post-liberation history.

Reds, Socialists Oppose

The only blocs of opposition came from Communists and Socialists. Both Faure and Mendes-France are members of the Radical Socialist party, a badly splintered centrist group.

Earlier Faure had announced a Cabinet which included former Premier Antoine Pinay as foreign minister, Pierre Pflimlin as finance minister, former Premier Robert Schuman as justice minister and Gen. Pierre Koenig as defense minister.

The Cabinet has been labeled as one of the farthest to the right in postwar history, despite that Faure is classed a little left of center.

Backs Paris Treaties

In his address of investiture, Faure pledged his government to work for ratification of the Paris treaties for German Rearmament as quickly as possible. The upper house of the French Parliament, the Council of the Republic, still must approve the treaties passed by the Assembly.

Faure was voted into office in 1952 with 401 votes but lasted only six weeks. Many observers believe the same thing might be possible this time, although these same men see the possibility that Faure might hang on until the elections next June.

50% Increase Approved By 62-24 Margin

House OK'd Larger Hike; Differences Must Be Adjusted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP) — Senators voted themselves a 50 per cent pay raise today, from $15,000 a year to $22,500. The vote was 62-24.

The prevailing argument was that living costs have gone up, and it wouldn't do to keep the pay so low that only a rich man could serve in Congress.

The Senate bill will have to be adjusted with a more liberal one voted by the House last week 283-118. The House voted to raise Congress members to $25,000.

Both bills continue a $3,000 income tax exemption granted members of the grounds they must maintain two homes. Both bills also would raise Vice President Nixon and House Speaker Rayburn from $40,000 a year to $45,000.

During Senate debate, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said few people "have any idea of the burdens carried by a senator."

"Have No Vacations"

He noted that nine members had died in the last Congress, and said "we have no vacations" and "it is very seldom we spend less than 12 or 14 hours in a working day."

Knowland said he was sure the people did not want to turn the Senate into a "rich man's club" and make it impossible for anyone to serve who does not have outside income.

Sen. Lehman (D-Lib, NY) said he was financially independent and the proposed pay raise would be "virtually meaningless" to him. Nevertheless, he said, he felt that he must vote for higher salaries "in justice to my colleagues, in fairness to the Congress and in consideration of the best interest of the country."

$35,000 For Warren

The Senate bill would raise Chief Justice Earl Warren to $35,000 and the other justices to $34,500 from $25,500 and $25,000 respectively. The House bill makes it $35,500 and $35,000 respectively.

Judges of federal appellate courts, who now get $17,500, would receive $25,500 under the Senate bill, $25,000 under the House.

Sam Rayburn Recalls 1954 Slash By GOP

Speaker Declares 'Dividend Folks' Got Theirs Last Year

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—House Democrats led by Speaker Sam Rayburn ploughed ahead today with their drive to cut income taxes $20 a year for everybody.

That was their defiant reaction to President Eisenhower's accusations of irresponsibility. The President told his news conference this morning:

"When we talk about decreasing revenues at a time when the government, in spite of every saving we have been able to make, is still spending somewhat more than it takes in, we are reaching some kind of heights in fiscal irresponsibility."

Rayburn, in reply, said the Republicans engineered a tax cut last year in the face of an anticipated deficit almost twice as big as is now estimated, and inquired sarcastically:

"When they didn't give the little folks anything last year and gave the dividend folks theirs, that was responsibility?"

President Pretty Blunt

Eisenhower was pretty blunt, for him. Speaking of the tax cutters, he said: "They have not had the courage to put it in as a bill on its own merits."

Instead, he said, they are trying to tack it onto legislation intended to prevent a drop in tax rates on corporation income and excises.

The House Ways and Means Committee voted 16-9 yesterday to report out a bill which would cut taxes, effective next Jan. 1, by $20 a year for every taxpayer, wife and dependent. It would also continue the corporation and excise rates unchanged.

The House Rules Committee this afternoon cleared the legislation to the floor, for action beginning tomorrow afternoon. Republican leaders called a conference of all GOP House members for the morning. They were obviously trying to whip up support for the Eisenhower stand against voting income tax cuts now.

Unusual Procedure

The Rules Committee decreed an unusual, but not unprecedented, procedure. It would bar any amendment but one: any member of the House could offer an amendment to knock out the income tax cut.

This appeared to be a move by Chairman Smith (D-Va) and Rep. Colmer (D-Miss) to assure a separate test of strength on the single issue of the tax cut. Final House action may come late tomorrow, possibly Friday.

The proposed cut would knock about five million low income people off the tax rolls completely, and help others according to the size of their families—$100 cut for a family of five.

Dulles Opposes Mighty Pacific Forces' Breakup

BANGKOK, Thursday, Feb. 24 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dulles told the Southeast Asia defense conference yesterday that the power of U. S. forces in the Western Pacific is greater than at the height of the war with Japan.

Dulles mentioned new weapons and listed these components of a force that he described as able to strike anywhere in the Pacific:

Four hundred warships including the largest carriers, 300,000 men in the naval forces, 350,000 men in five Army divisions, 30 squadrons of Air Force jet bombers and interceptors plus other strategic forces available if needed.

Opposed To Breakup

A U. S. spokesman told of Dulles' statement 12 hours after he made it before delegates in the first closed session of the three-day conference.

The secretary warned that a period of even greater danger than in the past 10 years may lie ahead of the free nations.

He said he was opposed to breaking up the powerful U. S. force in the Pacific and assigning parts of it to Manila pact nations.

Grave Situation

The force must be kept intact to strike anywhere it is needed, Dulles said. He urged that Manila pact nations add their military strength to that of the U. S. Pacific force.

Dulles strongly urged that military advisors of the eight Manila pact nations start work immediately on military problems confronting this part of the world.

He described the situation as one of gravity.

Communist subversion is a major problem confronting Southeast Asia, Dulles said.

Taylor In Washington

At Least Six Die In Tanker Plane Crash

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—An Air Force KC97 tanker plane with 11 men aboard crashed in flames near its Sedalia, Mo., base tonight. The Air Force here said six bodies have been recovered. Three men are missing. Two bailed out and have been picked up.

The Air Force said the plane crashed in flames 14 miles south of Sedalia two minutes after taking off from the Air Force base there. It was a part of the 340th Refueling Squadron and was on a refueling training mission.

The crash occurred at 7 p.m.

The KC97 ordinarily has a crew of five, the Air Force said. The Air Force here said the six others aboard could have been trainees.

There was no damage to civilians or civilian property, the Air Force said.

The list of the victims will be released by Sedalia, the Air Force said.

Third A-Test Shot Set For Tomorrow

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Feb. 23 (AP)—The third shot of the new atomic series was ordered delayed until Friday morning, at the earliest, after a weather briefing today.

Unfavorable winds forced nuclear scientists to abandon any idea of detonating tomorrow the powerful 500-foot tower shot which has been pending since Feb. 15.

Skater Who Fled Reds Says She Felt Like Bird In Cage

LINZ, Austria, Feb. 23 (AP) — A pretty blonde Czech ice skating star said today she had everything but freedom and security in her Communist homeland. And she told newspapermen that's why she made a break seeking political asylum in the United States.

Miss Mrioslava Nachodska eluded her Czech political supervisor and teammates on a shopping trip in Vienna last Saturday. A cab driver helped her reach a U.S. refugee center in the American zone of Austria.

At a news conference today she said:

"In Czechoslovakia I might be considered as having had everything a person could hope for. Like few others in the country, I was well paid, I could travel, I could sometimes buy things abroad. I was nationally known—I had everything but freedom and security.

"I felt like a bird in a cage who had the freedom to move about the cage, but not beyond."

The blue-eyed ice ballerina said she had been considering escape to the West for years. Her opportunity came when she was sent to Vienna to take part in the recent 1955 world ice skating championships.

"It was my big chance," she said, "because I was not considered politically reliable and had not been permitted to perform in the West since 1947."

She said she hoped to get to the United States or possibly to Canada and continue her skating career. She gave her age as 22.

Woman Escapes Fire By Leaping Into Tarpaulin

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—A woman stood on the third-story ledge of a downtown loft building today screaming for help. Behind her flames licked and smoke billowed.

Three policemen saw her, realized she was trapped.

"Take it easy," yelled William Peisner. "Don't jump. We'll get you down."

They spotted a tarpaulin covered truck. Ten truck drivers and helpers, answering their call, brought the large canvas to the building.

The 13 men held the canvas taut. With the flames pressing perilously close to her, Mrs. Lucy Holas, 50, jumped and landed squarely in the canvas. Except for facial burns, she was unhurt.

President To Spend Weekend At Retreat

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP) — President Eisenhower plans to spend the weekend taking it easy at his Catoctin Mountain retreat at Thurmont, Md., the White House announced today.

From Camp David in the Catoctins, the President probably will drive to the Civil War Battlefield at nearby Gettysburg, Pa., for a look at the new farm home he and Mrs. Eisenhower are building there. The house is nearly ready for occupancy.

Eisenhower plans to leave the White House shortly after noon Friday on the 65 mile drive north to Thurmont.

Mrs. Eisenhower, her sister, Mrs. Gordon Moore, and their mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, will make the trip ahead of the President, leaving Washington tomorrow.

The party intends to return here Sunday evening.

Churchill Cautions Against Pushing U.S. For Isle Surrender

LONDON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill—in an apparent softening of his own government's policy — warned tonight against pressing the United States too far in insisting on surrender of China's offshore islands to the Reds.

He said there was no question of Britain being involved militarily in defense of the offshore islands and that "we should be careful of what advice we should offer to our friends and allies."

In a move apparently directed at smoothing British-American differences on the issue, Churchill spoke sharply to Laborites clamoring for surrender of the islands to Red China.

Red China "Scornful"

Churchill gave a written statement to the House after he verbally described as "scornful" Red China's refusal to attend a Security Council meeting on Formosa. He turned down a Laborite suggestion he intervene personally with Red China's Premier Chou En-lai.

In his written report on the formosan situation, Churchill said:

"There is a great difference between the coastal islands of China and the Island of Formosa.

"As there is no question of our being involved militarily or indeed of our being needed in the defense of the coastal islands, we should be careful of what advice we should offer to our friends and allies upon it. The decision on whether or when these particular islands should be evacuated is not one, the burden of which falls upon her majesty's government. And we must recognize the natural preoccupations of other governments who are immediately affected by the threatened attack from Communist China.

Red Assertion Recalled

"This is especially true at a time when the Chinese Communists keep stridently asserting that the islands are to be regarded as a stepping stone to the seizure of Formosa itself, with all that must mean for the Chinese Nationalists under Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, who have been given shelter and protection there by the United States, and to whom the United States are bound by over 14 years of comradeship in war both against the Chinese Communists and the Japanese invaders of China."

MIGs Downed Under 'Hot Pursuit' Policy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—The State Department disclosed today that American fighters invoked the policy of "hot pursuit" to shoot down two attacking North Korean jets nearly three weeks ago.

At the same time, it charged the North Korean Reds are flagrantly violating the Korean armistice. It said they are "illegally introducing aircraft," including jet fighters into their zone.

An official State Department announcement for the first time disclosed that a Feb. 5 air battle which began over international waters of the Yellow Sea off Korea wound up with American Sabre Jets downing two Russian-built MIG 15s far above the armistice line.

Marilyn To Ride Pink Elephant

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—The circus season will open next month with Marilyn Monroe astride a pink elephant.

Showman Mike Todd, known for previous spectacular enterprise, announced today that Miss Monroe would be his main star in an opening night charity performance of the Ringling Bros.-Barnum & Bailey Circus at Madison Square Garden March 30 on behalf of the New York Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation.

"She'll wear a leotard especially designed," added Todd. A leotard is a formfitting theatrical costume.

The elephant will be pinked up for the event.

Fuzz Only Powdered Milk, Not Radioactive

HORSEHEADS, N.Y., Feb. 23 (AP)—The mysterious cobweb that blanketed parts of this village was only powdered milk, scientists decided tonight. And it was no more radioactive than the air you breathe.

The fuzz was tested all day by chemists at the Westinghouse Electronic Tube Division plant in this South-Central New York village. They concluded that it came from a flue at a nearby dairy.

The substance wafted over the village Sunday night, covering everything — trees, houses and shrubbery — in a half square mile area.

Senator Assails Firm Publishing Matusow's Book

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP) — Harvey Matusow's autobiography, "False Witness," is being published by "a propaganda agency for far left causes," Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) asserted today.

Eastland heads the Senate Internal Security subcommittee which is trying to separate fact from fiction in Matusow's strange tale of perjury as a government witness in a long series of anti-Red inquiries.

The subcommittee spent nearly two hours today questioning Albert E. Kahn, a partner in a New York publishing firm which has agreed to bring out Matusow's book.

"Fifth Amendment Case"

At the end of the closed door session, Eastland told reporters that Kahn is "a Fifth Amendment case" who declined to answer questions about possible Communist connections on the ground he might tend to incriminate himself.

Eastland's charge came on top of these other developments in the Matusow case today:

1. Kahn issued a statement saying he hoped the senators "will soon probe into those individuals and Department of Justice officials who worked closely with Harvey Matusow when he was lying as a paid government witness and as an aide to Sen. McCarthy."

McCarthy, McClellan Clash

2. Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) accused Sens. McClellan (D-Ark) and Hennings (D-Mo), two members of the Internal Security subcommittee, of "coaxing" Matusow "to smear Republican senators."

3. McClellan and Hennings denied the accusation and Sen. Jenner (R-Ind), another subcommittee member who is a friend of McCarthy's, said the Wisconsin senator was mistaken. Jenner said he saw no coaxing and that "you've got to get the truth from this man (Matusow) if you can, and you've got to ask questions to try to get it."

Strip-Teaser Offers $500 Reward For Stolen Photos

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Every problem seems to wind up in Washington, including the unusual troubles facing Bubbles Darlene.

Miss Darlene is an entertainer, an exotic dancer. Or, as she herself explains cheerfully, "that's just a nice name for a strip-teaser."

Anyway, while she was dancing exotically in Nashville, Tenn., someone stole one of her suitcases. When the thief looked at his loot, he was in for a pleasant surprise.

"It contained all the pictures of me that I had had made for years," she said, "including some nudes taken in Cuba. I need them in this line of work, and some of them are absolutely irreplaceable."

Miss D. said she advertised in the Nashville papers, first offering a $100 reward, then upping the ante to $200. Now she has gone to $500. Still no peep from the thief, possibly because he has been so busy studying the pictures he hasn't had time to read the newspapers.

Well, since the conversation has gone this far, and since the government always is interested in the health of the nation's business, it seemed a patriotic duty to ask Miss Darlene how things are in the strip-tease world.

She said, fine, splendid. Where burlesque has faltered, the girls have moved into nightclubs and are prospering.

Miss Darlene is a platinum blonde with twinkling brown eyes and an infectious laugh. As unexotic Virginia Lachimia, she studied ballet, toe and tap dancing back in Minneapolis, and, she says, had no notion when she hired out as a dancer at the Rialto in Chicago that she was moving into burlesque.

100 Nationalist Planes Hit Reds

TAIPEI, Formosa, Thursday, Feb. 24 (AP) — Nationalist planes bombed Red islands yesterday north and south of the menaced Nationalist garrison on Nanchishan Island.

Signs multiplied that the outpost 140 miles northwest of Formosa may have to be abandoned.

An air force communique said that 100 planes, attacking in the face of intense antiaircraft fire, struck from dawn to dusk at a Red buildup area in the Taishans, 30 miles south of Nanchishan, and at the islet of Peichishan, 12 miles north.

The communique asserted military installations were hard hit.

Official Nationalist quarters suddenly stopped saying that all the offshore islands would be defended against Red invasion.

An attempt to pull off the 5,000-man garrison from Nanchishan now appears very much in the cards.

If it happens, it is expected to be an all-Nationalist affair, contrasted with the pullout 80 miles north of Nanchishan of the garrison from the Tachens under the covering guns of the U. S. 7th Fleet.

It appears that the United States might intervene against a Red invasion of Quemoy and the Matsu group, but does not regard Nationalist retention of Nanchishan as essential to defending Formosa and the Pescadores.

HAVANA, Cuba, Feb. 23 (AP) — Fulgencio Batista, who twice has led revolutions in Cuba, will be inaugurated president tomorrow for a four-year term.

Mother Kills Two Sons, Buried Bodies As "Spoiled Venison"

Says She Couldn't Take Care Of Them

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 23 (AP)—Slight Mrs. Ann Williams today calmly related how she slew her two young sons, kept their dismembered bodies for nearly a week and then had them buried as "spoiled venison."

"I'm ill and my husband's in prison. I couldn't take care of them. That's why I killed my boys," she said.

The attractive brunette, 28, was known here as a quiet, well-mannered person.

But the FBI knows her as Annie Laurie Hazel Williams, who took about 50 shots at FBI agents and state police near Smithville, Tenn., as officers sought to arrest her husband as an armed forces deserter.

The shooting occurred Aug. 10, 1946. No disposition of the shooting or desertion charges is noted in FBI files here.

She was arrested about 4 a.m. today after officers kicked in her front door. She was traced through an automobile she purchased Monday.

The boys were Conrad, 8, and Calvin, 9.

Clayton A. Johnson, 19, son of an Algoa Tex., garage owner, yesterday buried four packages which Mrs. Williams told him were spoiled venison. But he became suspicious when he learned she and her two sons had been missing six days. He dug up the packages.

Mrs. Williams, at first denying slaying her sons, broke down after four hours of questioning and told this story:

She gave the boys big sleeping pills "I bought in Mexico." She moved the bodies at night from their trailer home to an apartment she had rented.

"I put the bodies in a bathtub and left them there two or three days, I don't know exactly. I took a single edged razor blade and dismembered the bodies."

She wrapped the bodies neatly in four packages and took them to Algoa in adjoining Galveston County yesterday and asked if she could dump them behind the Johnson garage. The younger Johnson buried them for her.

Mrs. Williams said she is a native of Hammond, Ind. Her husband, Hoyt J. Williams, 33, was sentenced in January to three years on federal car theft charges. They had been married 10 years.

Murder charges were filed against Mrs. Williams today.

Lawyer Eats Glass To Prove His Point

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23 (AP)—An attorney ate a glass sandwich in Superior Court today to prove a legal point.

The lawyer's clients — actress Esther Williams and her husband, Ben Gage—own a Los Angeles restaurant where Ward E. Willcutt claims he was served ice cream containing glass particles.

Willcutt seeks $51,239 damages because, he claimed, the particles injured him internally. Today Atty. Raymond G. Stanbury smashed up a piece of glass, made a sandwich of the pieces, and ate it.

He said it would prove Willcutt couldn't have suffered the injuries he claimed.

Nixon In Panama

PANAMA, Feb. 23 (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon arrived in Panama today after achiving what he called one of the major objectives of his Caribbean good will tour. This was the promise of peace he got from the presidents of Nicaragua and Costsa Rica.

Navy Plane Sets Climbing Record

SANTA MONICA, CAlif., Feb. 23 (AP)—Douglas Aircraft Co., said today that one of its planes, the Navy's F4D Skyray, has set a new unofficial climbing record of 10,000 feet in 56 seconds.

The climb was made last Saturday at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., by Douglas test pilot Robert O. Rahn from a standing start.

Douglas said Rahn clipped 15 seconds off the time set by a Navy F3H-1N Demon on Feb. 12 at St. Louis, Mo.

GOP Winner Charges Chicago Vote Fraud

CHICAGO, Feb. 23 (AP) — Two vigorous men—Richard J. Daley and Robert E. Merriam—squared off today as candidates for mayor of Chicago. Merriam immediately opened the battle with a charge of fraud in yesterday's city primary.

Merriam, onetime Democrat who won the Republican nomination with GOP organization backing, said he has a photograph of a man switching votes on ballots to Daley's favor.

Daley won the Democratic mayoral primary, defeating incumbent Martin H. Kennelly by 100,000 votes. Kennelly was dumped by the party organization in favor of Daley, currently Cook County (Chicago) clerk and Democratic county chairman.

Merriam, an alderman, told the City Council today the vote-switching incident occurred in a West Side ward. He said the photograph shows a man erasing votes for Kennelly and giving them to Daley.

26-Letter Name

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 23 (AP)—George Pappavlahodimitrakopoulous retained the distinction today of having the longest name in the Lansing telephone directory. A restaurant owner, he has a standing offer of a free meal for anyone who can pronounce his name correctly the first time.

Case Won't Back Ike's Road Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Sen. Francis Case (R-SD), who introduced the administration's highway bill yesterday, said today he "cannot support it in its present form."

He said the President's proposal for a 101-billion-dollar highway program over the next 10 years was a "challenging" plan.

But, he added, the financing arrangements in the administration bill "posed some serious questions."

Ranking Democrats in the Senate already have assailed the financing plan. Under it a new federal borrowing agency would float 21 billion dollars worth of bonds to finance a 40,000-mile interstate highway network.

The administration bill calls for new federal spending of 25 billion dollars over the next 10 years to finance most of the cost of the interstate network. The federal government also would put up six billions for other road programs. The remaining 70 billions would come from the states.

Case said he had not read the bill when he introduced it on behalf of himself and Sens. Chavez (D-NM) and Martin (R-Pa).

Butler Hopeful For North-South Demo Harmony

LEXINGTON, Va., Feb. 23 (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler tonight said he hoped that northern and southern Democrats can be brought closer together for the good of "our party."

"I will sincerely welcome cooperation from anyone who seeks this objective," said the new Democratic chairman in an address prepared for delivery at Washington and Lee University.

Butler, discussing the "impact of the cold war on our political parties," also accused the national administration of giving only "lip service" to the principle of bipartisan consultation on foreign policy. He asserted:

"Our own party is understandably annoyed these days at the many professions of attentiveness to the principle and the regularity with which it is ignored by the Eisenhower administration."

Speaking in one of the four southern states that gave its majority vote to Eisenhower in the 1952 election, Butler made a gesture toward Democratic North-South harmony by a polite reference to Virginia's Democratic senators, including Harry F. Byrd, who refused to support Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate in 1952.

He said the university was honored by the presence of Sen. Byrd on its governing board.

8 European Nations Cut Off CARE List

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—CARE, a private relief agency formed to aid war-stricken lands, today called a halt on shipments to eight European nations on grounds they're now able to shift for themselves.

Paul Comly French, the agency's executive director, said the "great degree of recovery" in these countries had put them in a position to handle relief needs of their people without outside help.

Countries cut off the list are Great Britain, France, Belgium, Austria, Norway, Luxembourg, the Netherlands and West Germany.

Since 1946, French said, the agency has sent $84,843,303 worth of goods to the eight countries via 7,116,783 relief packages purchased by Americans at $5 and up each.

Elderly Woman Would Sell Title

CHICAGO, Feb. 23 (AP)—An elderly woman who says she is the widow of a baron, wants to sell the title to the highest bidder.

Mrs. Lina von Lamezan, 81, who lives on the Northwest Side, says the title is 700 years old and belonged to her husband Franz, now dead.

She is childless and says she doesn't want "the title to die with me." She says her husband once was an aide to Archduke Ferdinand of Austria, whose assassination touched off World War I.

The woman plans to offer the title for sale in a want ad tomorrow in the Chicago Daily News.

U. S. Washes Its Hands Of Noel And Herta Field

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—The United States today washed its hands of Noel and Herta Field, Americans in political asylum in Communist Hungary.

This added one more chapter to the fabulous story of the four vanishing Fields.

Noel's brother Herman, spent five years in Communist jails, as did Noel. Noel's adopted daughter, Erika, is still missing, presumably in a Soviet prison camp.

State Department press officer Henry Suydam told his news conference today that U.S. protection has been withdrawn from Noel and Herta, who stayed on in Budapest after being released from jail by the Hungarian government.

"At the moment they haven't a valid passport," Suydam said. That was all he would say.

However, it was learned the effect of the action is this:

Noel and Herta will get no help from the U.S. government if they fall into difficulties again with Hungary's Red regime. If jailed again on "spy" charges, as they were before, no U.S. diplomats would be badgering the Budapest government with inquiries.

The action also takes them one step closer to losing their U.S. citizenship. But the next step is up to them. And it must be one of the 10 or so affirmative acts spelled out by law.

Halan Hearing Delayed

FBI Chief Says Sex Offenders Major Problem

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says sex criminals constantly are being turned out of jail to prey again on the nation's children, and only united community action can solve this growing problem.

Hoover, writing in the current issue of American Magazine, says sex offenses reached an all-time high in 1953 and "the degenerate sex offender looms today as a menace to the safety and well-being of every boy and girl in America."

He urged more watchful care and training by parents, and a more "realistic" attitude toward sex offenders by law enforcement authorities.

"The prevalent practice," he said, "is to handle such an offender like any other criminal and to punish him according to the gravity of his crime, rather than to give him a psychiatric examination or medical attention . . .

"Nothing could be less realistic than this idea, embodied in many laws and implemented by many judges, that the sex offender should be treated like any other criminal.

"Police records all over the country show that punishment alone almost never reforms such an offender. Hardly a day passes that a serious crime is not committed somewhere by a degenerate who, in the past, has been convicted over and over again for similar crimes."

Hoover said in the judgment of the FBI, the increase in sex crimes stems largely from "social and family upheavals which occurred during and immediately after World War II.

"South Stinks" Incident

Douglas Sues For Million After Play Ordered Closed

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23 (AP) — Actor Paul Douglas filed suit today for a million dollars damages against Paul Gregory and Gregory Associates, Inc., charging defamation and injurious falsehood.

Gregory ordered cancellation of the national tour of the play "The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial" in which Douglas had a starring role.

The cancellation followed an interview in the Greensboro, N. C., Daily News in which the actor was quoted as saying "The South stinks. It is a land of sow belly and segregation."

Gregory said the company was scheduled to open Feb. 14 in Charleston, W. Va., and make a seven-week tour of southern cities. A spokesman for the producers said, "the company, which had been doing capacity business in the North, found itself practically boycotted in the South after Douglas' remarks."

Douglas denied making the remark attributed to him. The executive news editor of the newspaper answered, "We think Douglas was correctly quoted."

In filing the damage suit today, Douglas contends Gregory used the article as an excuse to go ahead with a cancellation he had already planned. He charged in his civil suit that statements blaming the tour cancellation on his remarks were "false and malicious." He claimed that subsequent to the Greensboro newspaper story the play was enthusiastically received by capacity or near-capacity audiences in Atlanta, Ga.; Montgomery, Birmingham and Mobile, Ala.; Chattanooga Tenn., and Jackson, Miss.

'Most Educated Hobo,' Struck By Auto, Dies

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—Roger Payne, 78, known as "the world's most educated hobo," died today in a hospital, a week after he was struck by an automobile.

Born in England and reportedly possessor of bachelor of arts and bachelor of laws degrees from Cambridge, he was a successful building contractor until he suffered a nervous breakdown 40 years ago. Recovered, he came to the United States and traveled extensively for the next 20 years.

Harry Baronian, editor of the Bowery News, a monthly publication with the slogan, "The Voice of Society's Basement," said Payne, in the late 1930s, wrote and published a thick volume, "Why Work?" in which he contended working one day a week was enough for anyone.

McKeldin Names Baltimorean To Tidewater Fish Commission

Small Slated To Get Motor Vehicles Post; Munshower Retained As Police Superintendent; Goldstein Gets Movie Censorship Job

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 23 (AP) — The biggest surprise when the Senate opened Gov. McKeldin's "Green Bag" of job nominations today was William Hilgenberg of Baltimore to the Tidewater Fisheries Commission.

The name of the Baltimore seafood merchant and financial backer of its two major sports teams, the Orioles and Colts, didn't even pop up until minutes before the nomination was received by the Senate.

This was in contrast to other major changes and reappointments in the executive list which gets its name from days of old when it was delivered in a green cloth bag.

The "bag" previously had leaked that Gov. McKeldin desires to have Frank Small Jr., defeated Republican congressman, to be motors vehicles commissioner instead of Thomas B. R. Mudd, C. Morton Goldstein chief movie censor as replacement for the controversial Sydney Traub, and defeated attorney general Edward D. E. Rollins for state industrial accident commissioner.

The governor also ended months of speculation by reappointing Elmer F. Munshower of Frederick for four more years as state police superintendent.

The nomination of Hilgenberg was a well kept secret although the job had been the most actively sought of the 37 general jobs the governor has to distribute this year.

Names of four other candidates, Del. White (D-Wicomico), John F. McNulty, former Anne Arundel delegate, Levin Harrison, Tilghman's Island fishing boat operator, and Paul McNabb, former Harford County senator, had been bandied about freely.

The decision obviously was one of the hardest the governor had to make. It held up release of the entire list almost to the last minute.

The legislators and those supporting other candidates were amazed when they learned it was Hilgenberg not only because he hadn't been mentioned publicly before, but also by the fact the choice was a Baltimorean.

Fred P. Glose, another member of the three-man commission, also is from Baltimore and many doubted that Gov. McKeldin would appoint two from the city.

Actually, the governor designated Hilgenberg to continue the term of John P. Tawes of Crisfield which expires in 1957. He in effect then extended the term of Tawes for six years rather than reappoint Arthur Brice.

The governor recently relieved Brice of his duties after the tidewater chairman was charged with violating duck hunting laws. Tawes also was designated by the governor to succeed Brice as chairman, thus raising his salary from $3,000 to $7,500 a year.

A letter dated Monday in which Mudd said he wanted to "formally confirm my statement to you prior to the convening of the Legislature that I would not seek reappointment as commissioner of motor vehicles" was distributed by the governor's office in connection with his nomination of Small.

Police Pick Up Trail Of Suspect In Girl's Slaying

BALTIMORE, Feb. 23 (AP)—Police said today they finally have picked up the trail of a man they've been wanting to question for three months about the slaying of 14-year-old Carolyn Wasilewski.

Capt. George H. Mintiens, chief of detectives, said he is a soldier about 20 years old and detectives working on the case now know where to find him.

Mintiens said he would be brought to Baltimore within a few days. He did not identify the Army camp where he is stationed.

The latest development in one of Baltimore's strangest mysteries apparently developed from the arrest of three women and a man, all in their early 20's, by police yesterday.

Two of the women were released after questioning. The man was held on a traffic charge and the third woman a check on her parole status.

The body of the Wasilewski girl was found almost nude on railroad tracks under a highway bridge in the northern part of Baltimore last Nov. 8.

When she left her nome in southwest Baltimore the evening before she supposedly was headed for a juke joint to meet a girl friend.

Investigators discovered the severe beating which caused her death was administered in a vacant lot near her home.

Court Move May Delay Baltimore Primary

BALTIMORE, Feb. 23 (AP)—Court action launched today over a little-known law could delay Baltimore's primary election, set for next Tuesday.

The law requires police to tell election officials whenever anyone over 21 moves to a new address.

Francis X. Dippel, one of the Democratic candidates for mayor, says the police haven't been following the law and it has resulted in voter registration becoming "grossly inaccurate."

Dippel asked the court to order police to make a complete canvass of registered voters to see if they actually live at the addresses where they are registered.

Judge Joseph L. Carter gave the board of election supervisors and the police commissioner until Friday to present any arguments they may have. A hearing was set for 2 p.m. Friday.

Attorneys for Dippel suggested that if the judge orders the canvass Tuesday's primaries will have to be postponed.

The law Dippel and his attorneys dug up is Section 216 of Article 33 which says:

"It shall be the duty of the police commissioner of Baltimore City to secure from the several patrolmen the name of every person above the age of 21 who shall have remove to or from any permanent residence upon their respective posts. . . and to furnish (the) information at least twice in every month to the board of supervisors of elections. . . ."

A final fall-winter count of whooping cranes at their winter refuge in Texas shows the flock of America's rarest migratory birds has dwindled to a total of 21, three short of the previous year.

Md. Film License Fee Boost Urged

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 23 (AP)—Sydney R. Traub, Maryland's out-going movie censor, proposed today 33-50 per cent increases in state film license fees.

He said the raises are necessary to bolster sagging revenues in his department, which may wind up in the red next fiscal year for the first time since its creation in 1916.

Traub, who officially learned a few hours later that he was not reappointed head of the film censorship board by Gov. McKeldin, made his recommendation at a budget hearing before the Senate Finance Committee.

He said the board's receipts have fallen about $3,200 behind last year's rate and will be less than expenses if the Legislature approves a bill to eliminate newsreels from censorship. The censorship board grosses about $10,000 a year on newsreels, he said, and this is his chief opposition to the bill.

Traub suggested $1 increases on the board's rates for licensing film. Those rates are now $3 per 1,000 feet of film on original prints and $2 on duplicates.

One reason for the board's decreased revenues, said Traub is the recent introduction of various new screen techniques—cinemascope, vista-vision, etc. Exhibitors must run such movies for much longer periods—sometimes for 10 or 12 weeks—because of the costlier processes.

As a result, fewer pictures have been distributed and licensed.

Manslaughter Case Sentence Suspended

BALTIMORE, Feb. 23 (AP)—Clyde Riddle, 27-year-old Havre de Grace man convicted of manslaughter in connection with a fatal traffic accident, won freedom on a suspended sentence today with the provision he must not drive a car for a year.

Riddle was convicted of the charge Feb. 11 and served notice he would ask for a new trial. He dropped that maneuver when Judge Joseph R. Byrnes agreed to the suspended one-year sentence.

Judge Byrnes ruled imprisonment would serve no purpose and work a hardship on Riddle's wife, who is expecting their second child.

Oil Firm President Dies In Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Feb. 23 (AP)—Henry A. Rosenberg, 57-year-old president of Crown Central Petroleum Corp. and a member of the management committee of the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, died of a heart attack today at his home in suburban Eccleston.

Rosenberg was a member of the board of Associated Jewish Charities and of the executive committee of the Boy Scout Council. He formerly was president of the board of Sinai Hospital, treasurer of the symphony, and a trustee of the Baltimore Hebrew Congregation.

Survivors include the widow, a son, two daughters and a sister.

Virginia Firm Low Bidder On Bridge

BALTIMORE, Feb. 23 (AP) — Talbott Marks Co. of Clarksville, Va., today submitted the apparent low bid of $65,947 for building a three-span bridge to carry the new Baltimore-Harrisburg expressway over Bunker Hill Road in Baltimore County.

The Bay City Construction Co. of Baltimore was second low at $69,647 and nine other bids ran as high as $86,557.

U. Of Md. Prexy Calls On Education Forces To Help Sustain Humanity

BALTIMORE, Feb. 23 (AP) — The president of the University of Maryland has traced mankind's progress from simpler times to the present age of ulcers and called upon the forces of education to help sustain humanity in these difficult times.

Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, a Texan recently adopted by Maryland, made his remarks at the 79th Commemoration Day of Johns Hopkins University.

He praised Hopkins as an institution "associated with ideas, discoveries and progress . . ." He also told the students and educators he hoped his appearance before them "presages a long and productive relationship between the Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland."

Dr. Elkins took over last year as University of Maryland president, succeeding H. C. Byrd who left to wage an unsuccessful campaign for election as governor of Maryland.

Hopkins conferred upon the former Texas educator an honorary degree as doctor of laws. Others receiving honorary degrees in today's ceremony were Dr. Samuel J. Crowe, professor-emeritus of the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine, and Dr. Millicent Carey McIntosh, president of Barnard College of Columbia University.

"In the not too distant past the life of the individual was relatively simple," Elkins said.

Expanding his theme, "The Individual In A Complex Society," Elkins pointed to the contrasting conditions of today.

"Free land is no longer available to those who do not choose to live in close proximity with others. . . While food and shelter remain primary requisites, the individual seeks a multitude of conveniences which were unknown a century ago. . .

Elkins listed as fundamental requirements for preparing the individual for society "health, the tools of learning, character, a philosphy of life, an understanding of democracy coupled with a sense of responsibility and the means of making a living."

LONDON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II this week honored the pilot and co-pilot of a British airliner shot down by Red China fighters last July 23 near Hong Kong.

Blown and Carlton successfully crashlanded the plane on the sea and helped the survivors into dinghies.

Police Chief Gets Man, Pay Boost For Cops

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Feb. 23 (AP)—Police Chief Donald Vanarsdall got his man—and $15 more a month for each member of the Police Department.

Mayor A. P. Prather vetoed a City Council vote this week which would have granted the officers a $15 monthly increase.

The measure had passed, 5-2, but this was one vote short of the number needed to override a veto.

Vanarsdall sought—and brought in—the only absent member of the council, O. R. Green. He voted to override the veto.

The increase will boost the officers' pay to $200 a month.

Romania Strengthens Its Heavy Industry

VIENNA, Austria, Feb. 23 (AP)—Communist Romania's Premier Gheorghe Gheorhiu-Dej declared yesterday Romania will put greater emphasis on development of the country's heavy industry.

He said in a speech before the Romanian Parliament, broadcast by radio Bucharest, that "our decision to strengthen the heavy industry is the basis for our national economy."

His speech marked the first time in several weeks the Premier had attended an official function. His absence had given rise to Western speculation he had become the victim of a government shakeup in connection with the ouster from his premiership of Russia's Georgi Malenkov.

"Do-It-Yourself" Trend

Little Woman Now Running Power Tools, Laying Sewer

By RUTH COWAN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—The little woman is putting her manicured fingers to running electric power tools, laying sewer pipe, building barbecue pits as well as hanging wallpaper and painting the house inside and out.

It is the latest chapter in the "do-it-yourself" trend, evident at the 9th annual Washington Home Show now in progress.

Some representatives of building supply concerns report they are amazed at the increasing number of women who are apparently deciding to fix it themselves rather than wait for some man to get around to it.

"I've especially noticed the increase in the last year and a half," said Bryce Weaver, head of one of the city's oldest hardware stores.

Richard W. Conway who has been with one builders supply firm for 27 years said: "I can remember when women wouldn't even come into our store. Now we have them in our home remodeling classes — nailing and sawing away."

"I'll never forget the shock I got when a woman who said she was building a home told me she was installing the kitchen and bathroom equipment," said Al Silver of a plumbing supply house.

"She even dug the trench for the sewer pipe. We took her out in back of the shop and showed her how to lay the pipe. We warned her plumbing installation has to pass city inspection. Well, she got the equipment in and it did pass inspection."

A representative of a lumber yard said women shop for lumber in the same way they buy cloth for a dress. "They come into the shop and ask to see some oak. They'll finger the board as though it were wool yard goods. Then they'll ask for two yards and a half."

Bids For Span To Be Sought Next Month

Bids for the bridge across the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and access roads into the new Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant site at North Branch will be advertised in about a month, William H. Lemmert, president of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, said yesterday.

The commissioners had postponed their regular meeting Tuesday to yesterday because of Washington's Birthday.

Lemmert reported on the meeting he attended in Baltimore last week with State Roads Commission officials along with Commissioner James Orr, Board Secretary James Stevenson and J. Walker Chapman, supervisor of the County Roads Department.

This morning a State Roads Commission report on increase in the cost of the project was approved by the board.

A communication from G. Bates Chaires, district engineer of the SRC, noted the grade elevation on the bridge approach was increased slightly at a cost of $750 in engineering fees, and the overall cost of the project from $500,000 to $510,000. Half of the $10,000 hike would be borne by federal funds.

A breakdown on the project cost was given the county commissioners by the SRC last week.

The bridge will cost $200,000, with $180,000 coming from federal funds and $20,000 from the railroad. The county does not participate in this cost, Lemmert added.

The remaining $310,000 will find $155,000 coming from the county and $155,000 from the federal aid funds obtained by the SRC.

As of January 31, eighty-five per cent of road and bridge engineering had been completed and SRC officials informed the commissioners the project would be ready for advertisement for bids the middle of March.

The SRC will allow contractors only two weeks to get their bids in, Commissioner Orr said he had been informed.

Roads Are Damaged By Timber Cutters

Timber cutters have been chewing up a number of county roads with their big trucks, it was charged at the meeting of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday morning.

After hearing a report of some bad road conditions by phone prior to the meeting, Board President William H. Lemmert said the Dan's Mountain Road is being damaged by lumber trucks.

He pointed out farmers at this time of the year usually do not work in the fields and cut timber along with the commercial cutters.

They use the county roads at a time when frost damage is occurring and the surfaces are more vulnerable to damage, Lemmert said.

J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, said the commercial cutters from Pennsylvania are using the West Shipley Road.

He decried the damage being done by these timbermen, adding that he didn't know the answer to the problem.

Hoppers Wreck In RR Mishap At Oakland

Hitting a bulldozer that had just fallen off an eastbound freight train, three Diesel units and 21 cars of westbound extra B&O Railroad freight wrecked in the heart of Oakland early yesterday.

Cumberland division officials reported that no one was injured on the train which had as its engineer L. H. Hedrick of Keyser.

The wreck caused the rerouting of the Diplomat, crack Washington-St. Louis passenger train from Grafton to Connellsville and then into Cumberland. Due at Keyser at 6:40 a.m. yesterday it was five hours and 20 minutes behind schedule when it pulled into Cumberland at noon after coming in on the Monongah and Pittsburgh divisions.

East and westbound traffic over the West End of the Cumberland Division was halted until noon when wreck crews cleared the pileup on the eastbound track.

The accident occurred at 5 a. m., several hours after the extra freight with 85 empty coal hoppers had left Keyser, A. W. Conley, Cumberland Division superintendent said.

Conley reported the eastbound train had just passed the site of the wreck, one-eighth of a mile west of the Oakland station, prior to the westbound's arrival.

The bulldozer fell from the eastbound train onto the westbound track, just minutes before the Diesel engine hit it, authorities reported.

While the Diplomat was rerouted, other passenger trains were not affected as the eastbound lane was open by noon. Freight trains were backed up on either side and were not rerouted, with the exception of the "Southwest Timesaver," the fast freight that left Cumberland at 10:10 a.m. yesterday, on its way from Washington to St. Louis. This train with high priority was shunted over the Monongah Division from Connellsville getting back on the main southwest line at Grafton.

PTA Favoring Juvenile Court Improvements

A committee from the Allegany County Council of Parents and Teachers has recommended legislation to the county delegates that would add to the facilities and staff of Allegany County Juvenile Court.

The report was made public yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, where a copy had been filed by the committee headed by Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel for the County Board of Education.

These minimum recommendations were made:

Addition of a secretary to the staff which now contains one magistrate, one secretary, and one probation officer, one female probation officer, and one social caseworker to provide a better liaison between the court, the home and other agencies.

The committee commended the present personnel but said the personnel recognizes deficiencies which exist in services to children due to the lack of help.

The court, operating with only three persons, is functioning on a 1925 basis, the report said.

The secretary or clerk is responsible for the collection of $150,000 annually in alimony or support for aid to dependent children, the committee said.

The committee also recommended facilities for physical examinations for children, plus psychological and psychiatric services to those youngsters needing them.

Members of the committee headed by Higgins were Dr. Lilliam C. Compton, retired president of Frostburg State Teachers College; Dr. Adam Baer, Frostburg; Mrs. Stanley Buckley, member of the Board of Education; Mrs. Ralph Isiminger, William Scott, Rev. Kenneth W. Grove and Mrs. Lester B. McGill, county PTA official.

Four Men Are Held In Theft Of Cable

Four men were ordered held under $1,000 bond each yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court for action of the April grand jury on a grand larceny charge resulting from the theft of 2,000 feet of copper trolley cable.

Committed to Allegany County Jail in default were Mosby Densmore, 28; Junior Lee Yates and Glen Morgan, both 24, of Woodland near Klondyke, and Daniel Francis Crable, 22, Lonaconing.

State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher said he will forward details of the case to Pennsylvania authorities.

The cable, he explained, was stolen in Maryland but received in Pennsylvania, and that any action against the receiver of the stolen goods would have to be taken in the state in which the offense occurred.

Lemmert Cites DeHaven Road Work

Work done on DeHaven Road during the month of January was commented upon by William H. Lemmert, president of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, at yesterday morning's meeting.

Lemmert made his observation after J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, made his statistical report for work completed during January.

At one of the first meetings of the board attended by Commissioner C. N. Wilkinson, the former board president and DeHaven Road resident, commented upon the need for work on several county thoroughfares, including DeHaven Road.

Lemmert pointed out after reviewing the report that the Roads Department had covered nearly all of the districts in the county, including the fact that "DeHaven Road had been taken care of," and noted the Post Office Department was involved.

The report showed the Roads Department spent $707.89 in repairs on the road which is in District 23.

The county figures were as follows:

District 1, $2,155; District 2, $1,338; District 3, $522; District 4, $25.60; District 5, $315.10; District 6, $6.53; District 7, $1,017; District 8, $11.30; District 9, $2,071; District 10, $56; District 13, $738.

District 15, $409; District 18, $254; District 19, $337; District 20, $10; District 21, $202; District 22, $937; District 23, $707; District 24, $403; District 25, $123. District 27, $214; District 29, $387; District 31, $632; District 33, $850.

Recapitulation showed $3,925 for snow clearances; $13,042 for labor; and $2,043 for materials, and $3,786, for a total of $18,871 for the cost of keeping the county roads in shape during January.

Mr., Mrs. Isaac Hirsch Will Observe 60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Hirsch will observe their 60th wedding anniversary Saturday at their home, 218 Schley Street, with the family. There will be no formal celebration because of the recent serious illness of Mrs. Hirsch.

The marriage of the former Miss Ray Abrams, Pittsburgh, to Mr. Hirsch, February 26, 1895, was solemnized in Pittsburgh, with Rabbi Harry G. Mayer, Pittsburgh, and Rabbi J. L. Stern, Cumberland, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Hirsch are the parents of one son, Sumner A. Hirsch. They have one grandson.

Although Mrs. Hirsch is regaining her strength, she has not been able to have visitors.

Mr. Hirsch, who goes to his office each morning, is writing his memoirs, dealing mainly with his greatest interest, municipal affairs.

A native of Germany, Mr. Hirsch was reared in Cumberland and educated at the Allegany County Academy. In 1885 he and his brother, the late Louis Hirsch, took over their father's wool and hide business.

Interested in civic affairs, Mr. Hirsch was named a member of the City Council in 1897. It was through his proposal that the voters adopted a municipal street lighting plan, and while he was water commissioner in 1908, that the first dam at Lake Gordon was built. In 1910, as chairman, he drafted a new charter for the city, providing for the present commission form of government.

Mr. Hirsch has been president of the Kiwanis Club, the First National Bank and B'er Chayim Congregation; served on the Public Service Commission for the city and on the State Policy and Revenue Commission; and as a director for the Cumberland Free Public Library. He is a 32nd degree Mason.

Equally active in social, civic and church affairs, Mrs. Hirsch served as president of the Ladies Aid Society of B'er Chayim Congregation, as a trustee of the National Council of Jewish Women and of the Sisterhood of B'er Chayim Congregation, and has been active in the Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, the local chapter of the American Red Cross and the Cumberland Free Public Library.

The former Miss Ida May Daugherty, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Daugherty, Rio, W. Va., became the bride of Mr. Liller, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Liller, Purgittsville, W. Va., February 26, 1895. Rev. John Leatherman officiated at the ceremony in the home of Dr. Nicholas Leatherman.

Prior to their marriage, Mrs. Liller taught school in Purgittsville and Mr. Liller assisted his father on the farm. The couple moved to New Creek, where he was employed in the tannery until 1912, when they came to Cumberland and Mr. Liller was employed by the General Textile Mills. He retired in 1934 and they moved to their present home.

Mr. and Mrs. Liller are the parents of five children, the late Guy Liller, who was killed in World War I; Mrs. Irma Schade, Cumberland; Ronald Liller, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., the late Mrs. Wilhelmina McDaniel, and Mrs. Olive Workman, at home. Rails And Aircrafts Pace Advance In Stock Market

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—Railroads and aircrafts transported the stock market higher today while many industrials lagged behind.

Steels, motors, airlines and most mining stocks favored the minus column, though losses were generally fractions. After spending most of the session in a depressed condition, oils, chemicals and rubber makers turned mixed. Distillers and motion-pictures were also irregular.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced to a new all-time peak of $160.50 with a 40-cent increase. The railroad component rose $1.40 to $127.50, a new 1954-55 high. The utility group inched up 10 cents but industrials dipped 30 cents.

Volume amounted to 3,030,000 shares compared with 3,010,000 shares on Monday, when railroads led the market higher.

Curtis-Wright Corp. raised its quarterly dividend and reported favorable earnings, sending the stock up 1⅞ at 22⅝ on 72,500 shares, the second most active issue.

Wheeling Steel Corp. called its 3½ per cent convertible debentures for redemption by March 28, pushing the stock down 3⅛ at 53⅞.

The more you rush, the more you may regret it — if courtesy is sacrificed along the way!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

It has often been noted that busy and important people — those whom you might expect to be abrupt — are usually the most gracious. This theory is borne out by the experience of a young friend looking for a job.

Betty arrived in New York with letters of introduction to two acquaintances of her former employer. Neither had a job to offer, so after each interview Betty was discouraged. Still, each of these top-notch executives made several calls for her, arranging appointments — one of which resulted in a fine position.

Remarked Betty later: "I expected to be allowed five or ten minutes to sell myself into a job. Instead, all the people I met seemed genuinely interested . . . each spent half an hour or more asking me about myself, and giving advice. I appreciate their being so kind and helpful, but how can people devote so much time to counseling strangers?"

Being Aware

Betty was lucky in encountering "big" people, aware that courtesy is no more time-consuming than curtness, yet far more productive.

When you find yourself snapping at those about you, or cutting them short, remind yourself that time for graciousness is never lacking. The more you rush, often, the less your accomplish.

That certainly is true in the everyday matter of getting along with people. When you are dashing to an appointment and fail to speak to a friend as you pass, don't you think that person wonders at being snubbed? When the telephone rings, and without explanation you say, "Sorry, I can't talk to you," don't you imagine your caller is hurt? Or when discussion becomes argument because you are harassed, aren't you sorry when you think about the incident afterwards?

Time Well Spent

To say "hello" and "how are you" requires only a moment or two. Perhaps the brief exchange of amenities, however, will relax you, or a light conversation enable you to tackle a task with new vigor.

Haste makes waste, the saying goes, and you can waste friendships as well as time if you rush through each day, oblivious to others. Courtesy can't take up too much of your time!

Commissioners Seek Stand On County Roads Program

The Allegany County delegates want the State Roads Commission's stand in writing on a three-point Allegany County program.

Del. Charles M. See, chairman of the delegates, said this was the result of a conference yesterday in Annapolis with Russell McCain, chairman of the SRC.

The program concerns SRC plans for Route 40 improvement SRC to take over maintenance of interstate bridges at Pinto and Luke, and making the Wiley Ford bridge more adequate.

The delegation has scheduled a hearing on Tuesday March 1 at 7 p. m. with a delegation from the Allegany County Bar Association on its proposal to continue two judges in Allegany County.

Del. See said some members feel that present legislation should be amended to provide for continuance of the second jurist.

A conference has been arranged for next Thursday at 7 p.m. with Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of Allegany County schools, who will present the views of the school board on current legislative problems.

Del. See said the delegation has taken no action on the request of the Allegany County Teachers Association for a boost in the salary scale, pending the receipt of the views of the Board of Allegany Commissioners and the Allegany County Board of Education.

Del. Lester B. Reed, Mt. Savage, has introduced a bill to allow the use of volunteer fire houses as voting places.

Mrs. William A. Douglas To Head Md. Women's Clubs

BALTIMORE—Mrs. William A. Douglas, wife of a Cumberland contractor and mother of three children, has been nominated for the presidency of the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs to succeed Mrs. Thomas W. Fleming, of St. Michael's.

Mrs. Douglas' unopposed selection by the nomination makes her election automatic.

Mrs. Fleming's term will expire at the annual convention of the organization, to be held in April at the Emerson Hotel. Her predecessor was Mrs. Harry R. Christopher, of Baltimore, thus, with the election of Mrs. Douglas, such widely separated communities as the city, the Eastern Shore and Western Maryland will have been represented in the head office of the statewide federation.

The president-elect of the Maryland clubwomen is a past president of the First District of the State Federation, which embraces women's clubs in the Western Maryland area.

For the past two years she has been treasurer of the state-wide organization.

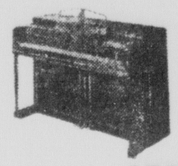

The Douglases have four grandchildren. Their daughter, Mrs. Chauncey S. Sanner, of Cumberland, is the mother of two young daughters, and their son, William Bruce Douglas, is the father of two sons. Their youngest son, D. Alan Douglas, who has been attending the University of Virginia, is awaiting a call to service.

The Persian cat which originated in what is modern Iran has become relatively scarce in that country.

Frostburg Lions Make Report On Club Activities

Spent $681.75 For Community Service

FROSTBURG — The annual report of James Smith, president of the Frostburg Lions Club, submitted at the February meeting disclosed that $681.75 was spent for community work. This total included $306.75 for eye glasses and doctors, appropriated to the sight conservation program which supplies eye glasses for needy children.

Contributions to local drives amounted to $375. This included the March of Dimes, Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Beall High Music Department, Little League, Christmas lights and Maryland Singers.

The club also cooperated in the formation of Teen Town and donated five tables to the club for the youth of the community. Two uniforms for the Little Baseball League were purchased during the past season.

A walker was purchased for the Community Health Center at a cost of $68.75. The national "Lions Magazine" recently carried a photograph of this donation. In past years the Lions have purchased two wheel chairs for the center and a third chair is now on order.

"A Pennsylvania Lions Club is now in the process of studying the Mountain City plan of assisting the Health Center, so they may set up a similar plan," President Smith announced.

Proceeds from the Lions work came from the Rubinoff Concert, the Sample Fair, the Christmas tree sale, and light bulb project, for which Smith thanked the public for their support. The Lions collected $192.87 for the Salvation Army at Christmas time which helped to provide food baskets for the needy in the area.

James Sittig and Jonathan Jenkins were admitted to the Lions at their last meeting at Happy Hills Restaurant, bringing the total membership to 71.

LOGAN (AP)—A rock slide blocked a Chesapeake & Ohio Railway branch line near Gilbert early today.

At the C. & O. yards in nearby Peach Creek, a spokesman said 300 feet of track was damaged. The rails were pushed off the roadbed and partly onto secondary Rt. 80, limiting traffic on that highway to one-way.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

EUSTIS, Fla., Feb. 23 (INS)—A selfless doctor named George Speri Sperti, engaged in an almost sleepless quest of a cure for cancer, has become the new wonder of Florida's billion dollar citrus industry. For Dr. Sperti it is but a passing thing that provides more money for cancer research. For the industry it promises a shot in the arm comparable to the development of concentrated juices.

Americans just can't get enough oranges, grapefruit, lemons, limes, and tangerines. Florida alone will provide 110,000,000 boxes of oranges toward the enormous task of slaking the thirst and appetite (and vitamin needs) of the land during 1955, twice the pre-war output. The U. S. trend is always toward "make it easier."

About 65 per cent of all the oranges picked in Florida today go to the public in concentrate form. The concentrate process relieved the housewife of the job of squeezing the fresh fruit. But a great percentage of the flavor disappears in the process, though not as much as evaporates during the hot pasteurization of ordinary canned orange juice.

The goal of pickers and packers for many years has been a packaged juice that tastes freshly squeezed and will "keep" under ordinary refrigeration. Dr. Sperti found that process down a by-path in his search for a cancer cure.

The dedicated and youthful-looking Sperti, head of the famed Institutum Divi Thomae of Cincinnati and Palm Beach, research centers devoted to greater Catholic participation in the march of medical science, chose the X-ray as his first avenue into the baffling mystery of the causes and cures of cancer. Soon he was deep into the magic of the ultra violet rays' spectrum and the effect of those rays on the enzymes.

Enzymes are organic matter that cause milk to sour, and fruit, meat and vegetables to rot, and juices of all edibles to change taste when neglected. Deep-freezing retards the putrefying enzyme action. But not too many people own deep freeze appliances. For 20 years Dr. Sperti pursued this particular will o' the wisp in the broader picture of cancer research, and in time came across the combination of violet rays that will render food enzymes inert and keep them that way for several weeks at normal ice-box temperatures without a change in the product's taste.

General Foods gave him $300,000 for the process and a share in the profits of two sub-companies. Dr. Sperti gave and gives all this money to the institutum, as he gives every material product of his inventive genius. He could be one of the richest men in his field. Instead, he lives on what amounts to the salary of a clerk . . . or an industrious orange picker.

The institutum is the beneficiary of the money he is currently receiving from "Golden Gift," a comparatively small orange and grapefruit juice company at Eustis and Deland, Fla., which uses his irradiation process. Refrigerated trucks take the fresh-squeezed product to markets and dairies over the eastern half of the U. S. Few drops are more than three days away. The Sperti process holds the anzyme action at bay for at least three weeks, and sometimes more.

It retains the vitamin C content that fades in so many other treatments of that most volatile of berries, the orange, and improves the vitamin D content.

Divi Thomae's fundamental research scientists are now at work in 14 schools and hospitals, attacking cancer largely with funds derived from the public's taste for good orange juice. In time Israel will be contributing to that work, for it is becoming a licensed producer under the Sperti process, and the citrus trade is that nation's largest export business.

A happy figure in the picture is the grower. Because of Dr. Sperti, cancer hunter, he is more secure than ever. If he doesn't realize 15 per cent on his grove investment, he somehow goofed.

This is Brotherhood Week. Eric Johnson, president of the Motion picture Association of America, tells us: "We talk about building bridges of brotherhood around the world in answer to Communist pretensions, and that's a splendid vision. But brotherhood begins on a man to man basis here at home."

Lonaconing Officials Seek Use Of School

The Town of Lonaconing wants "authentic information" from the Allegany County Board of Commissioners concerning the possibility of using the old Jackson School building in Lonaconing.

Sara M. Schramm, city clerk of Lonaconing, sent a letter to the commissioners yesterday asking for clarification. She said that the Town of Lonaconing was informed verbally last August that the county commissioners desired to have the town use the building, last occupied as a school in June 1953.

However, the town has not yet received a lease for the building. The matter was referred to Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the county commissioners.

Swift & Company Marks Centennial

A century of progress in the food industry is being celebrated in Cumberland this year, C. W. Whetzel, manager of the local Swift & Company plant, announced yesterday.

The celebration, he said, will highlight the importance of the Cumberland area in the nation's food industry. The observance coincides with the year-long centennial celebration by Swift & Company.

Swift came to Cumberland in 1898, and has since grown to the point where its local expenditures in wages, supplies and other business costs add more than $175,000 a year to the economic life of the area, Whetzel said.

Russia Ogles Japan With Peace Move

Russia is now wooing Japan. When Moscow remained defiantly obstructive, Washington negotiated a Japanese peace treaty on its own initiative. Russia was invited to participate but declined. Now she proposes to make her own peace with Japan.

In Europe the key to Soviet policy is the Kremlin's desire to achieve direct or indirect control of Germany. In Asia its interest in Japan is almost as great. Now that Japan is again at peace with most of her former enemies, she is of course free to make any arrangements she wishes with Russia.

Russia has additional reasons for wanting a treaty now. Under the San Francisco treaty, Japan gave up all rights to the Kuriles and South Sakhalin —both promised to Russia at Yalta in return for her "help" in beating Japan—but Russia's right to them was not formally recognized.

The same treaty requires Japan to grant "substantially the same terms" to other nations with which she signs a peace treaty within three years. The three years expire on April 28.

Japan will have plenty of concessions to seek at the bargaining table. It will be interesting to see how many of them she gets, which will be a clue to the urgency of Soviet interest and to future Soviet plans. Japan wants United Nations membership, which has been blocked by Russia's veto.

Japan wants Shikotan and the Hobamai Islands back. Russia claims these islands—near which she recently shot down an American plane—belong to her as part of the Kuriles. She seized them and holds them today, but Japan and the United States agree she has no right to them.

Japan wants fishing rights, to seek salmon in the formerly Japanese streams of South Sakhalin, and other fish in the cold northern waters off Siberia. As an island nation, Japan is desperate for trade. Russia can offer concessions. But Russia cannot compete with the United States in providing other forms of economic aid, and there is no reason—if Washington plays its cards expertly—to fear that Japan will gravitate into the Soviet orb.

Indeed, Russia and Red China may have serious disagreements about Japan, an area in which both consider they have vital interests, and the United States should benefit in consequence. But conjecture as to the outcome of the Red campaign to woo Japan remains just that at the moment.

The Miscalculators

The miscalculations of statesmen are no different from the mistakes that any of us make. Statesmen are the same human beings that the rest of us are, except that they are supposed to be possessed of more information about important matters and a wider experience. It is not the possession of information that counts; it is the capacity to reason, to relate current material to the whole of human history, to grasp the impact of social forces and of psychological reactions to a pending matter that counts. Nations have been destroyed by the faulty judgment of those in power.

Of statesmen, it can only be said that some possess such judgment and some do not, and often history, distantly written, discovers the truth. Many of the calculations of European statesmen concerning their own and global affairs were influenced by their certainty that the United States would suffer a severe depression after World War II. Even as late as November 1953, "The Manchester Guardian," that palladium of British liberalism, published two articles on "Danger Signs of an American Slump."

The first article appeared on November 19, 1953, and here we are in the second month of 1955 and we ain't got no depression yet. Mr. Colin Clark said:

"The possible originating causes of depression—trifling or serious—in the American economy are now quite well understood by the ordinary well-informed man (though he may not be familiar with the economist's description of such causes as 'exogenous variables') . . ."

Well, the American people never quite understood what Mr. Clark's "ordinary well-informed man" knew, with the result that we passed through the year 1954 without going to the Devil. Perhaps it is our ignorance that saved us. We just did not know how badly off we were, so we did nothing to make ourselves worse off. We just went on producing goods and helping Europe, including Great Britain, as though nothing were the matter with us. We did not know that we were as sick as Colin Clark diagnosed us to be. It is sad, indeed, that we are so unconscious of our defects, but somehow the Lord takes care of us, as He does of pigeons and drunks. In a learned editorial, "The Manchester Guardian" comments on the views of American economists:

". . . They expect to see between three and four million unemployed at certain periods of next year. Their reasons are much the same that Mr. Clark puts forward. But all of them, so far as we know, differ from him in one crucial point. They are convinced that the government is able to take effective counter-action to prevent the recession from getting out of hand. This is where Mr. Clark makes his chief point. He admits that Washington has learned the lesson taught by Keynes—in a depression, you must spend, not retrench. But if they are Keynesians, they are not Keynesian enough . . ."

The truth of the matter is that the American consumer took care of the American market in 1954 and did rather well. It is true that the administration failed to balance the budget, to reduce the national debt or restore the value of the dollar as it has promised to do. But despite all that, we did not go broke and have, in fact, shouldered a heavier-than-ever budget, which while it has not yet passed Congress, will in one form or another. And General Motors has entered upon a larger production program than ever before.

This is what "The Manchester Guardian" says about us:

"Up and down that vast country, business people, farmers, and ordinary consumers have been looking over their shoulders almost constantly for the last five years. They are always torturing themselves to decide whether they have borrowed too much, bought too much stock, or committed themselves too far to be safe in the event of a set-back. Yet business men have not shown any intention so far of reducing their expenditure for new plant and equipment even in 1954, and consumers have behaved with complete confidence. It would need more than the absence of a new stimulus to thrust that prosperous nation into chaos."

Brother, if you have not been looking over your shoulder, you should have. There is no telling what ghost of a depression you might have seen during 1954!

Honeymoon Trail

Democrats Described As Out To Buy The Electorate

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—There's an even more penetrating way to "share the wealth" as the late Huey Long phrased it, than the Democratic party leaders have thought of with their $20 cut in taxes for everybody. It's equally logical and it could mean an even bigger potential in vote getting.

Thus there are about 55,000,000 citizens with incomes under $5,000 a year. This is a sizeable number of voters and enough to win an election if they vote solely on selfish grounds.

A scheme could be devised to free this entire group from the payment of any federal taxes whatsoever. It would cost the Treasury of the United States $8.5 billions. But if demagoguery is to be the rule, then there's a simple way to make it up—just increase the taxes on the persons with incomes of $25,000 a year or more. They're paying $8.7 billions a year already. The addition of $8.5 billions in tax payments would, of course, virtually confiscate the incomes of the most thrifty and the most successful citizens. Confiscation, however, is the eventual goal of the Socialists, and the Democratic party is rapidly becoming the socialistic party in America anyway.

Carry Heaviest Burden

It so happens that there are about 800,000 taxpayers in this country whose incomes are $25,000 a year or over. They pay more in total taxes than do the 55,000,000 who have incomes under $5,000 a year. They are carrying the heaviest tax burden already.

If the "share the wealth" doctrine is to become dominant, it would mean the eventual destruction of incentive and a consequent drop in the incomes of all persons now earning incomes over $5,000 a year. The goal of communism —as well as of its twin brother, socialism—is to do away with the managerial class or so to weaken its spirit as to cause the whole private-enterprise system to collapse.

Union labor, which has thrived under the system of risk capital, would not be able to get the increases in wages or pension benefits now enjoyed if the management class in America were wiped out as it has been in Soviet Russia or in countries where state capitalism is in vogue.

Democrats Abandon Pledges

It is a paradox that the labor-union leaders in America have lined themselves up politically with the Democratic party, whose latest program confirms a suspicion that the party is bent on impairing the very economic system that has benefitted labor so widely. But the rank and file of the workers do not have much to say about the political maneuvers of the labor bosses. Their dues, which are supposed to be used for union benefits, are applied to pay big salaries to executives of the unions who spend a large part of their time in political activities.

Also, by the use of the compulsory unionization law, the union bosses hold the power of economic life or death over the worker and, unless he goes along with the political-campaign programs, even though they lead to socialistic ends, the ordinary union member can lose his job as a punishment for failing to conform.

The Democratic party in the last election said through its leaders that it would support the President and promised also to favor policies of fiscal soundness. But the Democratic-controlled Congress has been here less than two months, and it is becoming crystal clear that such campaign pledges have already been abandoned.

A pattern of strategy is emerging. The Democratic leaders favor more and more spending — more billions for all kinds of socialistic adventures, including a program of government-owned electric-light-and-power projects. They also favor more and more exemptions from taxation for the maximum number of voters. Both approaches, while contradictory from any standpoint of fiscal soundness, mean a budget unbalanced by a wide margin. Then the Democratic party spokesmen will claim that the Eisenhower administration has failed to balance the budget as promised in 1952.

Deceptive Compaigning

It is beginning to look as if the 1954 election was very costly to the American people because it was influenced by the most deceptive piece of campaigning that the country has ever witnessed. The Democratic argument was that a depression was coming and that the number of unemployed would increase. It turns out now that the mild recession was short-lived and that business is booming because, in making 1955 plans, business men have had confidence in the fiscal policies of the Eisenhower administration. They expanded facilities after making a remarkable adjustment to the post-Korean War shrinkages in government spending.

If, however, the budget is to be heavily unbalanced and the Democratic party in Congress—which never balanced a budget in 20 years—is to continue in power after the next election, the country will experience a real inflation. That would come from a rapid increase in the cost of living and a severe drop in the purchasing power of the dollar. That threat apparently has no terrors for the Democrats, who are out to win in 1956 by what Representative Daniel Reed of New York, a veteran member of Congress, describes as a scheme for buying the electorate. It remains to be seen whether the electorate can be bought by a $20 tax cut per voter, and whether socialism, as offered by the Democratic party leadership, is going to be accepted in preference to a sound dollar and a system of private enterprise.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Cecil DeMille is tailoring for the Air Force out at the Flying Academy. Remember when Earl Carroll designed the smocks for the New Yo k state troopers?

The boys were as snappy as bon-bons and as well-drilled as oil wells in Texas.

The cloud college at Colorado Springs is the West Point of the Air. It is also an upstairs Annapolis.

We're glad Cecil is sprucing up the jet videttes. Back here in New York we just lost our police glee club and band. The lads still have their whistles. And can beat time with their nightsticks on Staten Island sidewalks.

Our brave firemen have also been reduced to hook, ladder and glockenspiel. That makes us look to DeMille to bring back the glamor in uniforms. They buzz us the airmen will look like retired British kernels of the old Indian army. The old boys who bagged their lion and their eyes.

Cecil hasn't released his trailers yet .There will be no high hats in the mess lines but trousers will be short, the waist line loaded, necks long and pup tents pleated. Opening at Grauman's Chinese.

Any cadet wishing to hang by his toes from a trapeze will have his option picked up. Make-up kits will be government issue.

Nearly All Victims Of Rose Rash Are Under 2½ Years

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Some conditions are so mild and unimportant, physicians hesitate to call them a disease. Rose rash (exanthema subitum) belongs in this category and there is doubt whether it should be classified as a typical form of grippe, measles, scarlet fever, or German measles.

The nature of questionable disorders like this usually is determined in time but 40 years have elapsed since exanthema subitum was first described and no progress has been made since then.

Practically all victims are under 2½ years of age. The onset is abrupt, with sudden fever and extreme restlessness. The tyke is irritable, refuses food, and is obviously ill. More than half the youngsters have a convulsion or two and are sick enough to warrant hospital care. The throat is red and tonsils are enlarged.

At first the tot seems to be coming down with a cold, tonsilitis, or a contagious disease. By the end of the third day, however, fever subsides, the child feels better, and everyone is happy.

Suddenly the clue appears in the form of a rash. The lesions start on the neck and trunk and spread over the entire body. The skin of the nose and cheeks is the only part that escapes. The outbreak resembles measles and consists of hundreds of pale or rosy red spots.

By the following morning the rash begins to fade and soon disappears entirely. Hindsight helps in making the diagnosis. But no harm is done by the delay in recognizing the disorder as there are no complications and complete healing is the rule.

The cause is not known although a virus is suspected. The disorder is contagious because epidemics occur occasionally. The reason why diagnosis is important—even when delayed—is because exanthema might be confused with measles, rubella, encephalitis, or other disturbances it mimics.

Treatment is unnecessary except when convulsions occur. This complication may require the use of calcium or one of the sedatives, such as pentobarbital.

Aspirin helps reduce fever and one of the antibiotics may be started when the initial symptoms are severe and bronchopneumonia is suspected. But the wonder drugs have little effect because exanthema subsides on the third day, whether or not these products are used.

Worried parents may be consoled by knowing that when the rash breaks out, the worst is over and the little one is on the mend. Second attacks have not been reported.

HEAT LAMP BURN

L. W. writes: How is a severe burn from a heat lamp bulb treated?

REPLY

Like any other burn. One of the most popular remedies includes thorough cleansing of the skin, followed by the application of sterile petrolatum gauze covered by a pressure bandage.

DOWAGER'S HUMP

J. N. writes: What causes a widow's hump in the back of the neck?

REPLY

Changes in the vertebrae, incident to the aging process, is one possibility. The condition also is associated with emphysema of the lungs and poor posture.

SYMPATHETIC HUSBAND

Mrs. J. S. writes: My girl friend is expecting a baby and her husband has morning sickness every day. Why?

REPLY

No one knows the cause of this phenomenon, which occurs every now and then. Occasionally the grandmother-to-be suffers from morning sickness during her daughter's term of pregnancy.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

A conservative old couple from Garden City, L. I., decided to take a trip all the way to the Pacific Coast. Harry Maule, a neighbor from the publishing world, told them, "You can't afford to miss the Grand Canyon. Be sure you include it in your itinerary."

"I guess not," responded the wanderer, "Mom and I decided we don't need to see that canyon. We were up at Niagara Falls, you know, some years back, and we figure if you've seen one of those places, you've seen 'em all!"

Junior was reluctant, to say the least, to leave his big, luxurious home and go to prep school. "Write us every day for a while," suggested his mother. "It may make you feel less alone and homesick."

He sent his first letter two hours after he had hit the school grounds. "There are 590 boys here this term," he reported, "and how I wish there were 589."

U. S. Dismisses Charges Against Men Accused In Texas Wheat-Mixing Case

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—A peculiar thing happened down in Texas the other day. It was Saturday, February 12, and federal court seldom meets on Saturday. But a special prosecutor for Attorney General Brownell went into court in Houston and asked U. S. District Judge Ben Connally to dismiss criminal charges against five men indicted for secretly mixing frost-damaged Canadian wheat, graded as hog feed, with good government-owned American wheat, and then selling it as edible wheat.

They also had collected wheat subsidies from the U. S. government and were charged with defrauding Uncle Sam of $1,700,000.

Despite this, Attorney General Brownell ordered the indictments against the five men dropped. That there was clear guilt in the case, however, was shown by the fact that the company for which most of them worked, the Argentine Bunge Corporation, pleaded guilty and was fined $5,000.

A corporation, of course, cannot go to jail. Individuals can. And one of the individuals involved was E. H. Thornton Sr., whose son is now Gov. Allan Shivers' highway commissioner, his campaign manager for re-election, and is one of those closest to Shivers in the entire state of Texas.

C. K. Richards, the special prosecutor sent by Attorney General Brownell to dismiss the case on February 12, 1955, was the same prosecutor who had indicted the five men for Brownell on June 10, 1954. The reason he was in such a hurry and got the court to sit on Saturday was because trial was to start in a week.

Richards carefully carried out Brownell's orders but seemed unhappy about it.

"I have nothing more to say about this thing," he said as he left the court.

In Washington, however, it is known that Governor Shivers, the man who swung Texas for Ike, lunched at the white House shortly before the indictments were dismissed. Shivers refused to tell newsmen at the time what he had discussed with the President.

Justice Department and White House officials refused to comment on the nature of details of their conversation.

Kansas City Pattern

What happened in Galveston followed a pattern set only one month before in Kansas City when another special prosecutor for Attorney General Brownell, Earl A. Jinkinson, went into federal court and moved to dismiss a criminal case against Roy Roberts, close personal friend of Ike's and publisher of the Kansas City Star.

This motion to dismiss was made on Friday, January 14, the last court day before the criminal case was to start on Monday, January 17. The Houston motion to dismiss was made on Saturday before trial was to start the next week.

The Kansas City motion was also made shortly after Roy Roberts had called at the White House and after he had been entertained frequently at dinner there. He had also brought his attorney, Elton Marshall, to Washington for a series of conferences on December 12. Roberts was one of the first to urge that Ike run for president and one of his unofficial advisers during the campaign.

As in the Galveston case, the Justice Department proceeded criminally against the Kansas City Star as a corporation and against its advertising manager, Emil A. Sees. It had been known that Stanley Barnes, assistant attorney general in charge of the Anti-trust Division, which brought the Kansas City suit, had been pressured for some months to drop the entire Kansas City case but refused.

Texas Skulduggery

This writer happens to have been among the first to expose influence-peddling around the White House during the Truman administration. Therefore let's take a thorough look at what happened in Galveston to the father of Governor Shivers' close friend and the man who re-elected him last summer.

The records show that it was probably the most flagrant case of cheating the government on grain ever seen in the U.S.A.

"On foggy days," testified E. H. Thornton Sr. before a Senate Agriculture Subcommittee, "the windows of the elevator would be conveniently left open to permit moisture to enter the elevator, thereby increasing the weight of the wheat. This practice would inure to the benefit of the elevator as overages."

"Thornton admitted," reported the Senate committee, "that the elevator, during a five-year period, reaped a profit of over a million dollars on overages."

Elevator B was owned by the City of Galveston. It was managed by the father of Governor Shivers' close friend.

Thornton made no apology for cheating the government. On the other hand he complained that government inspection was too strict.

"Thornton testified," continued the Senate committee, "that Elevator B had too much federal inspection and disclosed that he had pleaded with the U. S. Department of Agriculture over a period of time for less supervision at Elevator B, and more inspection at other elevators.

"Other testimony convinced the subcommittee," reported the senators, "that there had been a woeful lack of inspection at Elevator B."

Hog Vs. Human Wheat

The senators went on to expose in great detail how the Bunge Corporation had shipped frost-damaged wheat into the U.S.A. from Canada, paying 13 cents less than the usual duty because it was "unfit for human consumption."

This damaged wheat was then sent to Elevator B at Galveston, where the Bunge people knew their friend, E. H. Thornton Sr. would mix it with good quality Commodity Credit wheat owned by the U. S. taxpayers. This mixed wheat was then sold as flour fit for human consumption, after which the Bunge Corporation collected a subsidy from the U. S. government under the international wheat agreement.

Thus the Argentine corporation profited three ways: on lower duty, by getting a share of U. S. government wheat stored in Elevator B under Thornton's supervision, and by the wheat subsidy. Yet the Bunge Corporation officials, with Thornton, had their indictments hurriedly dismissed a few hours before going to trial, while the corporation, which could not go to jail, pleaded guilty.

More shocking details on this amazing story will follow soon.

What Mao Said

By Joseph Alsop

TAIPEI, Formosa

The Chinese Communist government has sent another solemn warning, through diplomatic channels, of their determination to conquer Formosa at all costs.

This time, it can also be disclosed, the warning was sounded by Mao Tse-tung in person. And Mao spoke when the Formosa resolution and the strengthened American guarantees of this island were already staring him in the face.

For these two reasons, this latest incident has even greater significance than the previous Chinese Communist boasts that they would conquer Formosa this year, which were made to Burmese and Ceylonese leaders before American policy was so clear. Taken together with these earlier boasts, the new warning by Mao Tse-tung himself makes a pattern. Whether or not they are bluffing, the Peking bosses are doing everything possible to show they mean business.

The recipient of the new warning was Finland's ambassador to Peking, Karl Sundstrom. The Finns evidently are regarded in Peking as valuable diplomatic speaking tubes, for on January 6, Chou En-lai also had his word to say to them.

Fragment Of Pattern

The Chinese premier appeared at an official party honoring Finland's National Day, and took this rather curious opportunity to make a speech to Peking's assembled diplomatic colony. Chou En-lai's speech was another fragment in the pattern already mentioned — a vehement declaration that Formosa had to be and would be added to the Chinese Communist empire.

Shortly thereafter, the Finnish legation was elevated to the status of an embassy and the new ambassador presented his letters of credence on January 28. He was then received by Mao Tse-tung. And what should have been a routine diplomatic occasion was transformed into a major political episode, when Mao took Sundstrom aside to discuss the Formosa problem.

What Mao said, according to authentic report, was marked by the same intransigence that the Chinese Communists have been showing in all they say on this topic. At considerable length and with maximum emphasis Mao developed the theme that nothing could alter his intention to conquer Formosa. He defied the American guarantee. He ridiculed the idea of a ceasefire deal. In short Mao said the Communists meant to have Formosa, come hell or high water.

As though to give added point to Mao's remarks, there is important news of troop movements on the mainland. The picture of 10 days ago is changing. No longer is the reinforcement of the Chinese Communist armies along the coast confined to the Yangtse river delta region, across the water from the Tachen Islands.

Significant Reinforcement

The most significant kind of reinforcement, which is a movement of Korea trained units equipped up to the high standard of the Chinese armies in Korea, has now been noted in Fukien Province. Two additional divisions from the special Korean category have entered this area which directly threatens Quemoy and the Matsus.

It will still be some time before the Fukien airfields can provide the right kind of air cover for operations in the Formosa strait. But this movement of two veteran divisions — an almost sufficient force, in themselves, for an attack on the rather lightly held Matsu Islands — is still a sign that cannot be wisely ignored.

What then is really behind these troop movements and these menaces? No one can say with certainty. But one thing is very certain, as is proven by the experience of Ambassador Sundstrom.

Finland, after all, has the strongest Western sympathies despite the careful neutrality that geography imposes on her. When Mae Tse-tung chose the Finnish ambassador to receive his startling confidences, he surely did so with the expectation that what he said to Sundstrom would eventually be heard in the chanceries of the Western powers. And so it has been, causing no small fluttering in these diplomatic dovecotes.

The truth seems to be that the Chinese Communist leaders are carrying on a carefully calculated war of nerves, which is all the more effective because the most significant maneuvers are made under the impressive guise of diplomatic exchanges.

Roe Decides Not To Hurl

Orioles Pitcher Says He's Retired

BALTIMORE, Feb. 23 (AP) — Preacher Roe, veteran Brooklyn Dodger pitcher who will be 37 Saturday, disclosed tonight he definitely has decided to retire from baseball and will not play for Baltimore this season.

Roe revealed his not-unexpected decision, in a telephone conversation with Sportswriter Bob Maisel of the Baltimore Sun.

"This is no spur of the moment decision," said Preacher, reached at his West Plains, Mo., home. "I kept telling them all last summer at Brooklyn that it was my last year. And then after the season I told them I wasn't going to play anymore.

"It's just too much of a grind for me to get in shape and pitch," said the pitcher who four seasons ago won 22 and lost only 3 games for the Dodgers.

The Dodgers sold Roe to the Orioles, along with Billy Cox for a reported $70,000 last Dec. 14. In addition to the cash, the Orioles also sent pitcher John Jancse and infielder Harry Schwegman from their San Antonio farm club to Brooklyn's Fort Worth team.

Baseball Briefs

OAKLAND, Calif., Feb. 23 (AP)—Veteran outfielder Sam Chapman announced his retirement from baseball today.

Chapman, 37, played with two major league teams and the Pacific Coast League Oakland Oaks during his 17-year career.

He went directly to the Philadelphia Athletics from the University of California campus in June, 1938. He shifted to Cleveland just before coming to Oakland in 1952.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 23 (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies announced today they had signed Jimmy Coker, 19-year-old catcher of Holly Hills, S. C., to a farm club contract. He is being assigned to Reidsville of the Carolina League.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 23 (AP)—Pitcher Joe Presko agreed to terms today with the St. Louis Cardinals, leaving only catcher Del Rice and a "missing" rookie pitcher still unsigned.

The Cardinals said Presko, who had been asked to take a cut in salary, agreed to terms in a telephone conversation with Cardinal Vice President Bill Walsingham. Presko had a 4-9 won-lost record last year.

Rice, who lost his first-string catching job to Bill Sarni after he was injured last season, has balked at taking a pay cut.

And the Cardinals reported they have been unable to locate Tony Jacobs, a relief pitcher who won 13 and lost only 1 with Rochester of the International League last year.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 23 (AP) — Shortstop Dick Groat, recently discharged from the Army after a two-year stint, today signed his 1955 contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Groat, one-time basketball star at Duke University, was a standout in his rookie year with the Pirates in 1952, batting .284 and fielding in stellar fashion.

The 24-year-old Swissvale, Pa., resident came to terms after a brief conference with Branch Rickey Jr., a vice president of the club. Salary was not disclosed.

Only two Pirates are unsigned, outfielder Frank Thomas and pitcher Vernon Law.

CLEARWATER, Fla., Feb. 23 (AP) —The Philadelphia Phillies today signed infielder Granny Hamner for a reported $28,500 and announced he would hold down the shortstop spot this season.

Tennis Moguls Hopeful That Mo Will Return

Queen Of Net Game Announced Retirement

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Feb. 23 (AP)—Uncle Sam's tennis brass refused to take too much stock today in Maureen Connolly's retirement announcement—they think she'll be back.

"I believe this is just temporary," said Lawrence Baker, a leading figure in the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association. "She'll take a year off for her marriage and then we'll be seeing her on the courts again, I'm sure."

"The champions always come back," commented USLTA Secretary Ed Baker. "I don't believe Little Mo will be able to resist the urge to compete again."

Little Mo, at 20 winner of three national and three Wimbledon titles and recognized queen of the world's courts, surprised friends with the announcement yesterday she is through with tournament tennis.

She said she didn't have the "keen interest" any more, that her injured right leg is still giving her trouble and, besides, she is going to marry Norman Brinker in June.

However, she hinted she may be lured back some time later after she is well settled in domestic life.

Mrs. William Kalt, for 20 years head of the USLTA's women's tennis ranking committee, said she felt Little Mo's retirement was more the result of her accident than her wedding plans.

Miss Connolly hurt her right leg in a horse riding accident last July, which prevented the defense of her U.S. title, and she said she was not satisfied with the way the injury was responding to practice.

"Miss Connolly's game is built to a large extent on her remarkable speed of foot," Mrs. Kalt said. I don't think she would attempt a comeback until she is sure she is 100 per cent all right.

"If I were to analyze Maureen's game I think I would call the strong points her speed of foot, intense concentration and fierce competitive spirit."

Gavilan Upset By Constance

Trinidad Youth Wins Unanimous Decision

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 23 (AP) —Hector Constance, a tough young sharpshooter from Trinidad, knocked Kid Gavilan off the comeback trail tonight with a unanimous decision over the ex-welterweight champion.

Gavilan's defeat by the ninth-ranking contender may have ruined the once-great champion's hopes of beating his way back to the title he lost Oct. 20 to Johnny Saxton in Philadelphia.

It was a close fight from start to finish. Referee Cy Gottfried gave Constance, the 9-5 underdog, a margin of 96-95.

Judge Gus Jacobson voted it 97-95 and Judge Morris Feingold 99-97. The Associated Press gave Constance a 97-96 edge.

Terps To Drop Boxing Sport

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Feb. 23 (AP)—The University of Maryland, which will be host to the Eastern Intercollegiate Boxing Tournament March 11 and 12, announced today it will drop boxing as a sport at the end of the season.

Coach Frank Cronin said schedule difficulties, the same reason advanced by Army recently, made it necessary to throw in the towel.

"I am sorry to see boxing go," Cronin said. "With the teams dwindling in the East, we would have to go to the Midwest, Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast areas for opponents. Travel costs are prohibitive."

Maryland, which has a 2-3-1 record so far this season, entertains Syracuse Saturday in a rematch and travels to Virginia next week for the regular season finale.

Best Golfers Seek $30,000 Houston Prize

Open Begins Today With 150 Entries

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 23 (AP) — The nation's top golfers tackle the longest course on the winter tour tomorrow in the first round of the $30,000 Houston Open.

Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis dentist who has won the tournament twice, again is a top favorite to grab the $6,000 first prize, the richest jackpot on the winter tour.

Grouped with Middlecoff, however, are several other long drivers who should gain advantage from the wide fairways on the 7,200-yard, par 72 Memorial Park course.

These include Dave Douglas, the defending champion, and two hometown favorites, Jack Burke Jr. and Tommy Bolt. Others include Gene Littler, recent winner at Los Angeles and Phoenix, and Mike Souchak, who collected his first big championship last Sunday by winning the Texas Open at San Antonio.

Officials of the sponsoring Houston Golf Assn. nervously watched weather reports as the approximately 150 pros and amateurs took their final practice rounds. The severest cold wave of the season had been predicted to arrive here tomorrow afternoon. Late reports indicated however, the full force of the cold wave might not reach the Texas Gulf Coast.

Middlecoff, rejoining the tour after a two-week rest, won the Houston Tournament in 1950 and 1953 and was runnerup in 1949 and 1954. Last year he trailed by two strokes as Douglas recorded the fifth 72-hole 277 winning score in the history of the 7-year-old tournament.

Bolt apparently has recovered from an illness that knocked him out of the Texas Open after having won at San Diego and Tucson. Littler, the season's top money winner, is the only other double winner for the first eight tournaments of 1955.

Morris Harvey Five, Glenville, Concord Win WVIAC Tilts

BUCKHANNON, W. Va., Feb. 23 (AP)—Morris Harvey managed to get past West Liberty 74-67 tonight to join other first-round winners in the State Conference tournament here.

Earlier today Glenville drubbed Beckley 104-74, and Concord upended Salem, 79-73. Tonight's additional game between West Virginia Tech and Davis and Elkins completes first-round action and the quarter finals start tomorrow.

Men's Shuffle Teams To Play Six Matches

Six matches are on tap in the Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League tonight.

Fisher & Robinette, leading the league by the comfortable margin of seven games, takes on the Redmen in the latter's wigwam.

The runner-up Cumberland Knights of Columbus swing into action Friday night when they visit the Woodmen of the World.

Other matches tonight are: Hann's Tavern at Stadium Inn, Golden Nugget at Clingerman's, Purple Heart Club at Hi Dee Club, Frostburg Legion at Cas Taylor's and Frostburg K. of C. at Goodfellowship Club.

VMI Is Favored In Swim Meet

DAVIDSON, N.C., Feb. 23 (AP) — Virginia Military Institute will be an odds-on favorite to win the Southern Conference swimming championship starting here tomorrow night.

The Keydets won the championship last year held in the Virginia Tech pool, taking 11 individual titles and the diving championship for a total of 178 points.

More than 80 swimmers are entered with teams from VMI, VPI, Washington and Lee, Davidson, The Citadel and West Virginia.

Finals are scheduled Friday night and Saturday afternoon.

Blackwell Demanding New Pact Or Release By Yanks

"The Whip" Says He Is Able To Pitch

NEW LSU COACH — Army line coach Paul F. Dietzel, 30, is the new head football coach at Louisiana State University, succeeding Gaynell Tinsley, who was fired. Dietzel was a former star gridder at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and a bomber pilot during the war. (International)

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 23 (AP)—Ewell Blackwell said today he will appeal to Commissioner Ford Frick if the New York Yankees don't give him a contract or his unconditional release.

Asserting he still is the property of the Yankees, the former National League pitching great, harassed by recurring arm trouble, said:

"The Yankees refused to give me a contract last year.

"If they don't want me to play, why don't they release me from my contract. I think I can pitch again. If not with the Yanks, with some other club. I know I can pitch in the Pacific Coast League. I'd love to pitch there."

The righthander, acquired by the Yanks from the Cincinnati Reds in August 1952 for a bundle of cash and four players, developed a sore arm the following year and retired from baseball last spring after the arm failed to respond. In 1947, at the height of his career he won 22 games, 16 of them in a row.

Currently a liquor salesman in Tampa, Blackie said he was eager to come out of retirement but complained the Yankees have lost interest in him. He insisted his arm was sound again and his health, which held back what promised to be a brilliant pitching career, now is perfect.

During a brief rest before embarking for the back nine holes in the ball players' golf tournament at the Tampa Golf and Country Club, the former no run, no-hit ace, spoke bitterly of his relations with the ex-world champions.

Blackwell said he wrote several letters to George Weiss, the Yanks' general manager, last summer asking for his release but was refused.

"Weiss wrote back that the Yankees couldn't release me because they had too much money invested in me," he said. "As if that was my fault."

He then requested and received permission to pitch in the Dominican Republic, in an outlaw league.

"I did all right there," Blackwell said. "I won five games and lost only one. That convinced me my arm was all right again but apparently the Yankees don't believe me. They still refuse to either give me a contract or release me."

The big field, from a record of 339 nominations, was split to put 18 in the first race and 19 in the second. There were no late scratches in the second division.

Queen Margie, breaking from the same inside post position used by Well Marked, won the second division under Jockey Jimmy Nichols, covering the three furlong straightaway course in :32 4-5, only a fifth of a second slower than the record set by Make Swing on this same date in 1949.

St. Michael's is tied with SS. Peter and Paul for first place, each team owning 7-2 records, but a St. Michael's defeat at the hands of St. Peter's would keep "Tubby" Small's quint in the running for

Gov. Marland Withdraws Nomination

Drops Poling From Liquor Commission

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 23 (AP) — Gov. William C. Marland changed his mind today and notified the Senate he was withdrawing the nomination of 63-year-old Clyde Poling to continue on the State Liquor Control Commission.

Poling has served on the comission since 1949. His name was on the list which Marland sent up for confirmation by the Senate several weeks ago.

The governor advised Poling this morning that he was making a substitute, and when the Senate convened at 2 p.m. the formal notification was read in that chamber by the clerk.

Marland said that a substitute nomination for the Republican minority position on the three-man control commission would be submitted later.

The Senate has scheduled a secret meeting tomorrow after the regulation session to act upon executive appointments.

Poling declined comment on the development, other than to confirm that he had talked with the governor by telephone earlier today.

Poling said nothing was mentioned specifically as far as his being fired or his resigning was concerned, but added the governor told him he was withdrawing Poling's name from the list.

Poling was on the list for confirmation for a term to end Feb. 28, 1958.

W. Va. Gas Tax Bill For Roads Hits New Snag

Secondary Road Amendment Proposed

By HERB LITTLE

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 23 (AP)—Del. Davis (D-Kanawha) tried a new tactic today in his effort to have part of the income from a proposed gasoline tax increase applied to the bonded debt on secondary roads.

His maneuver took the form of an amendment to a bill which is a companion measure of the 2-cent gasoline tax increase approved by the House yesterday.

The tax measure, which now goes to the Senate, would raise the tax on gasoline and diesel fuel from five to seven cents a gallon. Half of the proceeds from the increase would be earmarked for "construction and reconstruction" of secondary roads.

At amendment stage in the House today was the companion measure spelling out on a percentage basis each county's share of the earmarked local road fund. It has been estimated the total amount earmarked for local roads would average about five million dollars a year.

Davis, a former majority leader, submitted today an amendment to apply part of the dedicated money to retirement of bonds still outstanding from the 50 million dollar issue voted in 1948 for secondary roads.

His amendment would bar any allocations to counties until enough money had first been set aside to pay one-half of all current and past due principal and interest under the 50 million dollar issue. The present debt under the issue is approximately $39,800,000.

Davis told reporters that, at the rate at which the bonds fall due, his amendment would take some $1,900,000 a year for that purpose.

Primary road funds at present are the source of money for debt service on outstanding bonds for both primary and secondary road purposes. Davis said the combined debt requirement is about 11 million dollars a year.

He was unsuccessful Monday in an effort to have the gasoline tax bill dedicate the earmarked one cent to secondary road bond retirement.

A bill which would establish by law the dates for squirrel hunting seasons now set by the conservation director was passed by the House, 63-35. It now goes to the Senate.

Split seasons of two weeks each would begin on Sept. 15 and Nov. 11. A similar bill passed the House in 1953, but was not acted upon by the Senate.

Interest Mounts In Keyser's Sample Fair And Farm Show

KEYSER — Interest is mounting in the coming Ham, Bacon and Egg Show and the Sample Fair, to be sponsored by the Keyser Kiwanis Club in the Keyser City Fire Hall on March 14 and 15. The Ham, Bacon and Egg show is an annual production by the Future Farmers of America clubs in the five-county area of Pendleton, Grant, Hardy, Hampshire and Mineral counties, and the sponsoring Kiwanians.

The planning has been carried on for several weeks in setting the stage for the presentation, and there is every indication that this will not only be an outstanding show, but one of merit showing an accomplishment that will be pleasing to the city and rural citizens. Already 22 businesses and industries have been accepted for the Sample Fair phase of the combined program.

The Kiwanis committee on Sample Fair exhibits reports that only two booths remain available for potential exhibitors.

The list of door prizes is growing steadily, and it is the expectation that a prize will be awarded to some person every five minutes that the show is open. Donald Heare is chairman of the committee on prizes.

The Kiwanis committee has placed table place mats in restaurants all through the five-county area and has issued automobile bumper stickers, showing the title of the fair and Bacon-Ham and Egg Show and Auction together with the dates, place, etc.

An acre of good farm land will provide forage for a dozen young pigs and the necessary breeding stock.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 23—(INS)—Edmund Grainger's choice for the lead in Robert Hardy Andrews' novel, "Great Day In The Morning" is Richard Burton.

Well, Burton is the choice of many producers these days. However, Grainger, who heads the Edmund Grainger Productions, has started negotiations with the British actor.

June first is the starting date with locations in Denver, and this is the second of the Edmund Grainger Productions, an independent company releasing through RKO. The first is "Treasure Of Pancho Villa" and James Street's "Oh, Promised Land," starring Alan Ladd is the third.

After a week of rest in Honolulu with Jennifer Jones, David Selznick comes to the coast. He said that he will be working with Ben Hecht on the first film that he is making for MGM, although said David, "I have not made a decision on what it will be."

Jennifer is enroute from Hong Kong, where she made "A Many Splendored Thing" with William Holden.

Speaking of Ben Hecht, he has written "Not For Money" for J. Arthur Rank. Katharine Hepburn is now reading the script.

Anita Ekberg, pretty blonde Swedish actress, will have $100,000 spent on exploiting her by the Wayne-Fellows Company.

This includes dramatic coaching, new wardrobe and publicity pictures to put her over. This is all extra special and aside from renewing her contract for another year.

The wolf whistles are loud and lusty whenever Anita appears on the scene, but her chance with the Wayne-Fellows Company is really her first opportunity of any importance.

Visiting on my street are Dr. Charles and Alice Mayo, of Mayo Clinic fame. They are the house guests of Dr. and Mrs. Marc Rabwin.

Dr. Charlie was appointed to the United Nations by President Eisenhower, and now divides his time between Washington and Rochester, Minnesota, where the famous Mayo Clinic is located.

The Rabwins will take the Mayos, who have never been to Palm Springs, there for a weekend at the El Mirador.

When I was in Rochester I saw a great deal of the Mayos. Alice then had her own radio show, and Dr. Charlie was working hard at St. Mary's Hospital and all the other Mayo Clinics.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Marlon Brando and Rita Moreno—yes, you heard me—were a dinner duo.

Johnny Silver, Broadway actor playing Johnny Southwest in "Guys And Dolls," and his wife are expecting a baby.

Rosalind Courtright, back in town, leaves for Europe April 15 to open in London. In answer to the reports that she's marrying Ben H. Silberstein, new owner of the Beverly Hills Hotel, the lady says she has no plans.

Peter Fairchild and Katherine Machris will marry in Las Vegas over the weekend. Their engagement was announced last week.

Duke Wayne has promised Pilar that when he finishes "Blood Alley" he'll go to Peru to meet her relatives in Lima, for the first time. He certainly should take a rest after he finishes this picture.

Dana Andrews says the $30 earned by his two daughters for their bit work in "Strange Lady In Town" has already cost him more than $20 in accountants fees on his income tax. Maybe he'd better pay the salaries himself next time.

Jack Palance surprised everyone on "The Jagged Edge" set at Warners by talking fluently in Polish to Lisa Montell, Polish actress, who paid visit to her boyfriend, Perry Lopez.

Gigi Perreau says it's the third time that Fred MacMurray has been her father, and the second time that Joan Bennett has been her mother in "There's Always Tomorrow."

Fred Clark, back from New York, reports to 20th next Monday for "How To Be Very, Very Popular."

Marguerite Piazza's act at the Cocoanut Grove has been a sensation, and now she's signed by Jack Entratter for two weeks at the Las Vegas Sands starting March 16. And, at the Desert Inn in Las Vegas, Wilbur Clark gets Noel Coward beginning Tuesday, June 7.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

A BAD ALIBI

IT IS all very fine to "place key cards where they figure to be because of an opposing bid," but that is never a sound alibi when the declarer could have used a safety play.

North dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

	♠ 8 4 3 ♥ K 10 9 ♦ A K 5 ♣ A J 10 8
♠ A Q J 10 7 ♥ 5 3 ♦ Q J 9 2 ♣ 7 4	N W E S	♠ 9 6 ♥ 7 2 ♦ 10 8 7 4 ♣ K 6 5 3 2
	♠ K 5 2 ♥ A Q J 8 6 4 ♦ 6 3 ♣ Q 9

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♥	1 ♠
2 ♥	Pass	4 ♥	(final bid)

West opened the queen of diamonds, and when South saw the dummy he announced his regret that he hadn't bid a slam. Taking the first trick, he drew the outstanding trumps and then confidently finessed the queen of clubs through West. He was horrified when East took the trick and returned the nine of spades—and down South went.

It was highly superficial analysis on South's part that placed West so surely with the club king because of his vulnerable spade bid. West's overcall was perfectly correct without the club king, and in any case it was up to South to protect himself if he could.

Full protection in this hand consisted of letting West hold the first trick with the diamond queen. Observe the effect. West can do no better than continue diamonds. Now South draws two rounds of trump, discards a club on dummy's second diamond honor, cashes the club ace and then leads the club jack through East for the safe ruffing-finesse. (If East covers the club jack, South ruffs, goes back to the table with a trump, and discards two spades on the 10-8 of clubs. If East plays low on the club jack, South discards a spade then and there, and continues with the club ten. This method of handling the club suit is called an "avoidance play"—i.e., it avoids the possibility that the dangerous hand, East in this case, will gain the lead.)

If the contract had been six hearts, or even if the hand had occurred at match-point play, South's club finesse through West would have been sound, but at rubber bridge, with overtricks inconsequential, the described safety play was a must.

"Why, Mr. Dale—you remember me, don't you? Class of '48!"

Hazelwood Firm Bids $1,513,440 For New School

Board Decision May Hinge On Alternates

The George F. Hazelwood Company submitted the low overall base bid of $1,513,440 for construction of a new Bruce High School on Philos Avenue Extended at the edge of Westernport when bids were opened by the Allegany County Board of Education yesterday afternoon.

However, the board took the bids under advisement to determine what alternates might be accepted and whether any combination of other bids and alternates might be lower than the Hazelwood proposal.

It had been anticipated that about half of the $3,500,000 allocated in the current school construction program in 1953 would go for the new school at Westernport. That figure would include all equipment and other additional costs.

Six general contractors, three plumbing and heating contractors and two electrical contractors from Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania submitted bids to the board. Between 30 and 40 persons, including a Westernport delegation, were on hand as Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster opened the bids and turned them over to Kenneth R. Malcolm, board president, for his examination.

Three Complete Bids

Three contractors submitted bids covering the general contract, the plumbing, heating and ventilation contract and the electrical contract. Besides Hazelwood's proposal there was one for $1,675,000 from W. Harley Miller, Martinsburg, W.Va., and $1,768,000 from Moyer Brothers Construction Company, Altoona, Pa.

Each general contractor submitted a base bid and prices on two alternates. The first alternate covered use of asphalt tile instead of a plastic material. The second covered the seeding and sodding of the school grounds after the job is finished.

The general contractors' bids, including the two alternates:

Southeastern Construction Company, Charleston, W.Va., $1,058,000, deduct $10,000 on first alternate, add $28,500 on second alternate; John I. Vandegrift Company, this city, $1,064,900, deduct $12,800 on first alternate, add $18,800 on second alternate; Hazelwood, $1,092,000, deduct $10,500 on first alternate, add $34,300 on second alternate.

George Construction Company, $1,153,160, deduct $10,600 on first alternate, add $38,680 on second alternate; Miller, $1,175,000, deduct $12,000 on first alternate, add $23,900 on second alternate; Moyer, $1,283,000, deduct $11,000 on first alternate, add $18,000 on second alternate.

Four Plumbing Bids

There were four bids submitted on the plumbing, heating and ventilating contract. They were H&S Heating and Plumbing Company, this city, $335,151; Walter N. Yoder, McMullen Highway, $349,820; Mulch Brothers, Hollidaysburg, Pa., $397,793, and Moyer, $414,500.

Three bids on the electric contract also were submitted. Each had an alternate covering a change in the distribution system. They were Sterling Electric Company, this city, $124,000, deduct $73 for the alternate; Moyer, $129,447 and add $335 for the alternate; A. K. Everest, Fairmont, W.Va., $142,500 and add $500 for the alternate.

The lowest combination of bids covered Southeastern, general contract; H&S Heating, plumbing, heating and ventilating, and Sterling Electric, electrical, and they totaled $1,517,151, which is $3,711 higher than Hazelwood's overall bid.

The ultimate decision apparently will be determined on what alternates are accepted. For instance, Southeastern bid $5,800 less than Hazelwood on the seeding and sodding alternate, which would more than make up for the $3,711 difference in base bids.

S. Russ Minter, architect for the project, commented after the bids were tabulated that Hazelwood's overall bid was about $175,000 less than the same company's successful bid on the Valley High School job at Lonaconing, a comparable project.

A decision probably will be made soon because Webster would like to have the school ready for occupancy in September 1956. Hazelwood promised to finish the job in 530 calendar days, just under 18 months. Southeastern said it would take 600 days, which is 20 months.

Maplehurst Plans Include Family Recreation Area

A general family recreation area as well as a nine-hole golf course are among the present plans for immediate construction by the Maplehurst Country Club, Inc., upon completion of its drive for 200 charter members.

Temporary officers of the club hope to complete the membership bid by the first of the month in order to insure beginning of construction of the $50,000 golf course by May 15.

In conjunction with the golf course a family picnic area, archery range, children's playground and fishing ponds will be built at the same time.

The club has obtained 120 acres of ground one mile south of Frostburg on Route 36.

One of the foremost golf course architects in the country, James G. Harrison, Turtle Creek, Pa., who is a member of the club, drew up the plans for the nine-hole golf course which will be of championship quality. Club organizers hope in the future to add an additional nine holes for an 18-hole course.

Harrison, in examining the natural terrain of the club grounds, said a course worthy of professional championship play would be built on the locale. He is president of the National Association of Golf Course Architects.

The club grounds are centrally located in the Tri-State area and an overall membership of 300 to 350 is being sought from such cities as Cumberland, Westernport, Grantsville, Keyser, Uniontown, Pa., Salisbury, Pa., Bedford, Pa., and others.

Shares of non-assessable stock will be transferable, the club officers stated. A share entitles a stockholder to family membership in the club, including his wife and any children under 18 years of age.

Upon completion of the 200 charter membership drive the organization's membership will be closed until a permanent organization is formed, incorporated, with officers and directors elected by the stockholders.

Following the formation of the permanent club, membership again will be opened to the public.

Temporary locker and shower facilities and a snack bar will be available upon completion of the golf course and picnic grounds. The course will be open for use by Memorial Day of 1956 if present plans are not delayed.

The organization hopes also to provide for winter sports with ice skating on two large ponds on the club grounds, skiing and sledding on the natural slopes in the area.

Also included in plans for the future are tennis courts, a skeet range, a permanent club house and a larger golf course.

The organization hopes to provide low-cost recreation facilities for future industry which may come to the Tri-State area. Dues will be kept at a minimum, officers say.

A large parking area adjacent to Route 36 will be available with space for more than 200 cars.

The non-profit corporation now has 110 members and 50 other pledged toward its goal of 200 charter members. Temporary officers are Fred Dean, president; Charles Pinto, secretary, and Sidney S. Green, vice president.

The club will hold a sports dance March 4 at the Clary Club with dancing from 9 until 1 to help raise funds for the organization. Money from membership fees is being held in escrow in a Frostburg bank until 200 shares are sold, before construction of the recreation area will begin.

Kirk said that a number of "Keep Maryland Beautiful" signs are being prepared at the State Penitentiary and will be available for use by various county groups. The county representative also added that a special highway clean-up drive is planned throughout the state during Holy Week.

Turnbull, Boone Propose 2-Cent Cigaret Excise

Seek To Avoid Sales Tax Hike

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 23 (AP) — Two Democratic leaders tonight recommended a 2 cents a pack tax on cigarets and lowering of the sales tax to purchases of 14 cents as a means of getting around Gov. McKeldin's proposed penny increase in the sales tax.

They also advocated collecting of corporation income taxes annually instead of quarterly as a substitute to his proposal to boost all income taxes.

Sen. Turnbull and Del. Boone, Finance Committee chairmen of the two houses, said these proposals would raise more than 30 million dollars in extra revenue—enough to get the State out of the 28 million dollar budget hole it faces, and leave some 2 million extra.

They said they would introduce the program in the form of bills in the two houses of the Legislature tomorrow. The proposals still had not been cleared by the finance committees and the president of the Senate and speaker of the House said they had no advance knowledge of it.

Gov. McKeldin had recommended increasing the sales tax from 2 to 3 cents on the dollar, boosting individual income taxes 50 per cent and those on corporations 25 per cent, and putting the state on a pay-as-you-go income tax collection basis as a means for raising needed revenue.

He spurned a suggested cigaret tax as creating a hardship on a Maryland industry.

Turnbull and Boone said their proposed 2-cent cigaret tax would add 6 million dollars a year to the State treasury.

Their provisions to broaden the sales tax would raise an estimated 9½ million dollars.

They stuck with McKeldin's plan to have individual income taxes withheld from pay checks starting July 1 and increasing exemptions for dependents from $600 to $1,000.

However, they would gain additional revenue for one fiscal year by making corporations pay all their income taxes in one lump instead of allowing them to pay on a quarterly basis. This would net an estimated $2,750,000.

They estimated their income tax proposals—without increasing the rate—would raise $21,144,400 extra next fiscal year, of which $6,254,086 would be returned to subdivisions. Some 2½ millions of this would go to Baltimore City and the rest to the counties.

Jewelry Window Smashed; Youth Held By Police

A young Cumberland man was arrested for questioning early today within minutes after a jewelry display window at the L. Bernstein Furniture Company Store on North Centre Street had been smashed.

Assistant Chief B. Frank Gaffney said someone used a rock to break the window, then fled toward Baltimore Street as the glass crashed to the pavement.

Officer Harry A. Iser, on duty on Baltimore Street, heard the crash and went to investigate. He then picked up the young man in the vicinity.

Gaffney said an eyewitness who was standing on the other side of the street when the window was broken at 11:50 p. m. had identified the prisoner. As far as police could determine, nothing was missing from the window.

The prisoner, Gaffney said, will be taken to the State's Attorney's office this morning by Iser and Detective Joseph Stitcher for questioning.

Nine Lawyers Participate In Trial

Lawyers really had their day in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday.

Miss Selma Anderson of Washington, the plaintiff, seeks $10,000 damages from Miss Ada Taylor, now of this city. Miss Anderson asks the damages for a broken leg and other injuries which she contends were received June 14, 1953, while she was a passenger in Miss Taylor's car involved in an accident near Milton, Del.

At the time both were attorneys for the Veterans' Administration in Washington. Two other passengers in the car, also women attorneys, testified at yesterday's jury trial. The four female lawyers had been at Ocean City for a weekend and were returning to Washington when the accident occurred.

Miss Anderson, the plaintiff, is represented by three attorneys, William H. Geppert, this city; Bennett Fitzgerald and Miss Joan Murphy, both of Washington. Miss Taylor, the defendant, has two attorneys representing her. They are William C. Walsh, this city, and Jeffrey B. Smith of Baltimore.

Instructions from Chief Judge George Henderson and final argument to the jury by the five attorneys representing the two participants will conclude the case this morning. Then the lawyers will await the jury's verdict.

Area Sailor Is Reported Missing

Van said the sailor is five feet, eight inches tall, weighs 130 pounds, is of slender build, with dark hair and blue eyes. He was dressed in his uniform.

Meanwhile police have been notified that Gene Kuykendall, 14, of Wiley Ford, who left his home at 8 a. m. Tuesday and failed to return home, has been located at the home of an aunt in Baltimore.

Magistrate Asks State Police To Check Truck Fleet

Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick yesterday ordered Maryland State Police to inspect all of the vehicles of a local trucking firm after the driver of one of the tractor-trailers was arrested on a charge of driving with inadequate brakes.

The magistrate said Bruce Swan, driver for the Harris Motor Express, Inc., was arrested by Trooper L. C. Clark on the traffic charge.

He said the local manager of the firm was instructed to have all vehicles inspected before next Tuesday.

The state trooper yesterday afternoon inspected three vehicles at the terminal here, and condemned one until it is placed in top operating condition.

The trooper said the trailer brakes were not hooked up on the rig which was stopped on McMullen Highway, and that other brakes were inadequate.

JAMES H. RADCLIFFE

J. H. Radcliffe Gets Reserve Commission

James H. Radcliffe, 26, of 803 Trost Avenue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Radcliffe, Monday was commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve in a ceremony at the Naval Reserve Training Center, McKaig's Hill.

Lieutenant Radcliffe, a graduate of the University of Maryland, who received his law degree from Washington and Lee University, was presented his commission and was sworn in by Capt. Henry W. Tubbs Jr., inspector-instructor of the Sixth Special Infantry Company, USMCR.

The newly-appointed officer will report to Quantico, Va. on February 28 for active duty. He is a graduate of Allegany High School. He had been a sergeant in the Reserve and attended platoon leaders' classes for two summers while attending college.

County Officials Again Discuss Salary Question

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners and the Board of Education conducted a two-hour closed door discussion of the teacher salary question yesterday afternoon to give the commissioners a better understanding of the financial problems involved.

William H. Lemmert, president of the county commissioners, said that he and Commissioner James Orr got considerable information on financing and costs but still had not arrived at any decision as to the amount of salary increase they will be able to give the county's teachers.

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster said the school board has made no change in its original recommendation of a $300 increase for county teachers above the state minimum. That would place the salary range between a $3,100 minimum and a $4,900 maximum for those with a bachelor's degree. The board also would up the county salaries another $100 in the 1956-57 school year when they would range between $3,200 and $5,000.

The County Teachers Association has asked for a $500 increase next year, placing the range between $3,300 and $5,100. Then the association wants additional $200 annual raises for the ensuing five years.

Attending the meeting besides Lemmert and Orr were Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the commissioners, and James G. Stevenson, clerk to the commissioners; the five Board of Education members, Kenneth R. Malcolm, Mrs. Albert Cook, Mrs. Stanley Buckley, Edward J. Ryan and W. Earle Cobey as well as Webster. Illness kept Commissioner C. N. Wilkinson away.

The Commissioners were told that the financial problems concerned more than simply finding the funds to raise all of the teachers now employed. There will be additional positions to fill with the opening of the new elementary school in LaVale.

Youths Are Held For Sentencing

Two local youths yesterday pleaded guilty to the theft of about $8 in cash from a Goethe Street delicatessen Monday.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick sent Richard G. Colbert, 17, city, and Charles W. Johnson, 18, of North Mechanic Street, to the County Jail to await sentencing on Monday.

The magistrate said he planned to check into the background of the lads before passing sentence.

He said Lt. James E. Van reported, in Trial Magistrates Court, that the cash has been recovered.

Lt. Van said the youths admitted the money was taken from the store's cash register. One took the money, he said, while the owner was waiting on the other.

Reserve Officers Conference Set

Col. Norman Beasley, USAR, representative of the Reserve Officers Association of Washington, will conduct a conference at the local Army Reserve auditorium in the Footer Building, South Mechanic Street.

The session, for all reserve officers of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps, will be held from 8 p. m. to 10 p. m. March 2. The "Fine Points of the Reserve Officers Program" will be discussed.

Kimble To Make Decision Today On Job Offer

Situation Produces Much Speculation

Senator Robert B. Kimble said last night he will make a definite decision today on his nomination as chairman of the Department of Employment Security.

He said last night from Annapolis the situation was "as is," but that a decision must be made one way or the other today.

The Associated Press yesterday said it is fully believed around the Legislature that Senator Kimble will accept the job of directing the employment security board and leave the Assembly after 22 years of service, adding:

"This set in motion politicking to arrange for the appointment of a Senate successor. The nomination to the governor will be made by the Republican State Central Committee of Allegany County.

Beall, Cook Boomed

"One strong report had J. Glenn Beall Jr., son of the U.S. Senator, being a likely recipient. Another had it that Del. Cook (R-Allegany) would move over to the Senate and that young Beall would take his seat in the House of Delegates."

No position on the possibility of a successor has been taken by the GOP heads.

James S. Getty, chairman of the committee, said yesterday:

"We are taking no position in the matter until Senator Kimble actually resigns. Until he does, there is no vacancy and nothing to consider."

An earlier AP dispatch said that Sen. Kimble had agreed to be nominated for chairman of the Department of Employment Security, but to delay final decision of acceptance if confirmed until some future date.

His agreement with the governor, the dispatch said, is that he be allowed to continue serving during this Legislature while he mulled over whether to resign.

In the meantime, he could be confirmed for the $10,000 a year state job, but would not be sworn into office.

The Allegany delegates promptly went to work to line up a replacement for Kimble in the Senate. Some of the strongest support was for elevation of Del. Cook.

Reluctant To Leave

Also mentioned for the post was Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason, who is serving as legislative assistant to Kimble, the minority floor leader of the Senate.

It was learned from reliable sources that Mason is "not interested" in the post.

Kimble has said he is reluctant to leave his Senate post since it would mean resigning after this session and taking a leave of absence from his job as safety supervisor for the B&O Railroad.

He has served 21 years in the Senate, and is the dean of that legislative body, in addition to a term from 1933-35 in the House of Delegates.

Driver Freed In Accident

A reckless driving charge against the driver of a car which struck and injured a nine-year-old local boy was dismissed yesterday.

William Hartung, son of City Fireman and Mrs. William M. Hartung, 1826 Frederick Street, was in "good" condition last night at Memorial Hospital, where he was admitted for treatment of a fractured right leg after the accident.

The boy was struck at about 8 a. m. in the 1900 block of Frederick Street by a car driven by Grover C. Blissard, 36, of Marshall, Texas.

Blissard said the boy ran in front of his car. Trial Magistrate Morris Baron dismissed the reckless driving charge against Blissard, but the driver posted $1,000 bond pending outcome of the boy's injuries.

Edwin R. Lilya, county investigator, said yesterday afternoon the state has not yet completed its investigation, but that from all indications, the boy had run in front of the car.

Detective Donald H. Smith said the Hartung boy, accompanied by Kenneth Robertson, 1821 Frederick Street, was en route to Gephart School when the accident occurred. He said the Robertson youngster ran back to the curb and was not hit by the oncoming car.

Ike's Tax-Cut Fire Returned

Plan Is Called Irresponsible By President

Says Backers Lack Courage To Submit Separate Measure

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP) — President Eisenhower blasted the Democrats' $20-a-person tax cut plan today. He called it the height of "fiscal irresponsibility."

He also accused the plan's backers of lacking the courage to submit a separate tax-cutting bill. Thus he challenged them to abandon their present tactic of putting it forward as an amendment to another tax measure backed by the administration.

In a series of vigorous and sometimes heated statements at a news conference, the President declared a further tax cut at this time—while the government is spending more than it takes in—would cut the value of the dollar and hurt the nation's economy.

Cut Next Year Possible

"We simply cannot have this kind of thing in responsibile government," he declared.

But Eisenhower said a tax cut should be possible next year if the budget deficit is reduced.

Eisenhower's tax comments — which drew from Democrats a reminder that the Republicans cut taxes last year in spite of an unbalanced budget—dominated a far-ranging news conference in which the President also said:

1. The United Nations must be kept going as a sort of laboratory in the search for peace even if "our opponents do deliberately use it as a propaganda platform." This was his reaction to a speech last night in which Republican Senate Leader Knowland of California contended the U. N. is not "an effective instrument of collective security."

Little Hope For Arms Pact

2. He has no great optimism about agreement being reached at the U. N. arms limitation meeting opening in London this week.

3. He personally looks askance on the idea of sending surplus wheat to the Soviet Union, but is having his advisers look into the idea.

4. Secretary of State Dulles has "very clear and definite" plans to talk with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and others at the Bangkok conference about possible settlement of the Formosa dispute.

Adenauer Gives Party Ultimatum

BONN, Germany, Feb. 23 (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today threatened expulsion of the Free Democrats (FDP) from his four-party government unless they support the Paris agreement to Europeanize the Saar. A political crisis threatened as the Free Democrats, the No. 2 party, replied defiantly.

Adenauer's ultimatum was delivered on the eve of a parliamentary debate on the Paris accords to arm 500,000 West Germans in Western defense. The Saar deal, unpopular among many West Germans, is among those accords. The French insisted upon it as part of a package deal.

Thomas Dehler, the FDP's national chairman, retorted:

"The threat of the Chancellor can only lead the Free Democratic deputies to a hardening of their attitude. So long as I am chairman of the Free Democrats, our deputies will remain free and will resist any and all threats."

In a statement, the FDP said its deputies in the Bundestag "do not see any other possibility than to vote against the Saar agreement as it does not provide for a true 'European' solution of this territory's status or grant it autonomy."

Deserts To Reds

BONN, Germany, Feb. 23 (AP)—The West German Bundestag (lower house) today expelled Christian Democrat Deputy Karl Franz Schmidt-Wittmack. He has gone over to Communist East Germany.

Senators Vote Selves Boost In Pay

Faure Becomes French Premier

Confirmed By 369-210 Vote

FLED FROM REDS — Miroslava Nachodska, blonde Czech ice skating star, is shown in Linz, Austria, yesterday as she tells her reasons for slipping out from behind the Iron Curtain to U.S. refugee center in Austria's American Zone. PARIS, Feb. 23 (AP)—The French National Assembly tonight approved Edgar Faure, a 46-year-old financial expert and attorney, as the nation's new Premier.

By a vote of 369-210, the deputies accepted Faure as the successor to Pierre Mendes-France, who was turned out of office Feb. 5. Faure, who held the job in 1952 for six weeks, will head the 21st government in France's post-liberation history.

Reds, Socialists Oppose

The only blocs of opposition came from Communists and Socialists. Both Faure and Mendes-France are members of the Radical Socialist party, a badly splintered centrist group.

Earlier Faure had announced a Cabinet which included former Premier Antoine Pinay as foreign minister, Pierre Pflimlin as finance minister, former Premier Robert Schuman as justice minister and Gen. Pierre Koenig as defense minister.

The Cabinet has been labeled as one of the farthest to the right in postwar history, despite that Faure is classed a little left of center.

Backs Paris Treaties

In his address of investiture, Faure pledged his government to work for ratification of the Paris treaties for German Rearmament as quickly as possible. The upper house of the French Parliament, the Council of the Republic, still must approve the treaties passed by the Assembly.

Faure was voted into office in 1952 with 401 votes but lasted only six weeks. Many observers believe the same thing might be possible this time, although these same men see the possibility that Faure might hang on until the elections next June.

50% Increase Approved By 62-24 Margin

House OK'd Larger Hike; Differences Must Be Adjusted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP) — Senators voted themselves a 50 per cent pay raise today, from $15,000 a year to $22,500. The vote was 62-24.

The prevailing argument was that living costs have gone up, and it wouldn't do to keep the pay so low that only a rich man could serve in Congress.

The Senate bill will have to be adjusted with a more liberal one voted by the House last week 283-118. The House voted to raise Congress members to $25,000.

Both bills continue a $3,000 income tax exemption granted members of the grounds they must maintain two homes. Both bills also would raise Vice President Nixon and House Speaker Rayburn from $40,000 a year to $45,000.

During Senate debate, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said few people "have any idea of the burdens carried by a senator."

"Have No Vacations"

He noted that nine members had died in the last Congress, and said "we have no vacations" and "it is very seldom we spend less than 12 or 14 hours in a working day."

Knowland said he was sure the people did not want to turn the Senate into a "rich man's club" and make it impossible for anyone to serve who does not have outside income.

Sen. Lehman (D-Lib, NY) said he was financially independent and the proposed pay raise would be "virtually meaningless" to him. Nevertheless, he said, he felt that he must vote for higher salaries "in justice to my colleagues, in fairness to the Congress and in consideration of the best interest of the country."

$35,000 For Warren

The Senate bill would raise Chief Justice Earl Warren to $35,000 and the other justices to $34,500 from $25,500 and $25,000 respectively. The House bill makes it $35,500 and $35,000 respectively.

Judges of federal appellate courts, who now get $17,500, would receive $25,500 under the Senate bill, $25,000 under the House.

Mother Admits Killing Two Sons

Sam Rayburn Recalls 1954 Slash By GOP

Speaker Declares 'Dividend Folks' Got Theirs Last Year

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—House Democrats led by Speaker Sam Rayburn ploughed ahead today with their drive to cut income taxes $20 a year for everybody.

That was their defiant reaction to President Eisenhower's accusations of irresponsibility. The President told his news conference this morning:

"When we talk about decreasing revenues at a time when the government, in spite of every saving we have been able to make, is still spending somewhat more than it takes in, we are reaching some kind of heights in fiscal irresponsibility."

Rayburn, in reply, said the Republicans engineered a tax cut last year in the face of an anticipated deficit almost twice as big as is now estimated, and inquired sarcastically:

"When they didn't give the little folks anything last year and gave the dividend folks theirs, that was responsibility?"

President Pretty Blunt

Eisenhower was pretty blunt, for him. Speaking of the tax cutters, he said: "They have not had the courage to put it in as a bill on its own merits."

Instead, he said, they are trying to tack it onto legislation intended to prevent a drop in tax rates on corporation income and excises.

The House Ways and Means Committee voted 16-9 yesterday to report out a bill which would cut taxes, effective next Jan. 1, by $20 a year for every taxpayer, wife and dependent. It would also continue the corporation and excise rates unchanged.

The House Rules Committee this afternoon cleared the legislation to the floor, for action beginning tomorrow afternoon. Republican leaders called a conference of all GOP House members for the morning. They were obviously trying to whip up support for the Eisenhower stand against voting income tax cuts now.

Unusual Procedure

The Rules Committee decreed an unusual, but not unprecedented, procedure. It would bar any amendment but one: any member of the House could offer an amendment to knock out the income tax cut.

This appeared to be a move by Chairman Smith (D-Va) and Rep. Colmer (D-Miss) to assure a separate test of strength on the single issue of the tax cut. Final House action may come late tomorrow, possibly Friday.

The proposed cut would knock about five million low income people off the tax rolls completely, and help others according to the size of their families—$100 cut for a family of five.

Dulles Opposes Mighty Pacific Forces' Breakup

BANGKOK, Thursday, Feb. 24 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dulles told the Southeast Asia defense conference yesterday that the power of U. S. forces in the Western Pacific is greater than at the height of the war with Japan.

Dulles mentioned new weapons and listed these components of a force that he described as able to strike anywhere in the Pacific:

Four hundred warships including the largest carriers, 300,000 men in the naval forces, 350,000 men in five Army divisions, 30 squadrons of Air Force jet bombers and interceptors plus other strategic forces available if needed.

Opposed To Breakup

A U. S. spokesman told of Dulles' statement 12 hours after he made it before delegates in the first closed session of the three-day conference.

The secretary warned that a period of even greater danger than in the past 10 years may lie ahead of the free nations.

He said he was opposed to breaking up the powerful U. S. force in the Pacific and assigning parts of it to Manila pact nations.

Grave Situation

The force must be kept intact to strike anywhere it is needed, Dulles said. He urged that Manila pact nations add their military strength to that of the U. S. Pacific force.

Dulles strongly urged that military advisors of the eight Manila pact nations start work immediately on military problems confronting this part of the world.

He described the situation as one of gravity.

Communist subversion is a major problem confronting Southeast Asia, Dulles said.

Taylor In Washington

At Least Six Die In Tanker Plane Crash

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—An Air Force KC97 tanker plane with 11 men aboard crashed in flames near its Sedalia, Mo., base tonight. The Air Force here said six bodies have been recovered. Three men are missing. Two bailed out and have been picked up.

The Air Force said the plane crashed in flames 14 miles south of Sedalia two minutes after taking off from the Air Force base there. It was a part of the 340th Refueling Squadron and was on a refueling training mission.

The crash occurred at 7 p.m.

The KC97 ordinarily has a crew of five, the Air Force said. The Air Force here said the six others aboard could have been trainees.

There was no damage to civilians or civilian property, the Air Force said.

The list of the victims will be released by Sedalia, the Air Force said.

Third A-Test Shot Set For Tomorrow

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Feb. 23 (AP)—The third shot of the new atomic series was ordered delayed until Friday morning, at the earliest, after a weather briefing today.

Unfavorable winds forced nuclear scientists to abandon any idea of detonating tomorrow the powerful 500-foot tower shot which has been pending since Feb. 15.

Woman Escapes Fire By Leaping Into Tarpaulin

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—A woman stood on the third-story ledge of a downtown loft building today screaming for help. Behind her flames licked and smoke billowed.

Three policemen saw her, realized she was trapped.

"Take it easy," yelled William Peisner. "Don't jump. We'll get you down."

They spotted a tarpaulin covered truck. Ten truck drivers and helpers, answering their call, brought the large canvas to the building.

The 13 men held the canvas taut. With the flames pressing perilously close to her, Mrs. Lucy Holas, 50, jumped and landed squarely in the canvas. Except for facial burns, she was unhurt.

President To Spend Weekend At Retreat

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP) — President Eisenhower plans to spend the weekend taking it easy at his Catoctin Mountain retreat at Thurmont, Md., the White House announced today.

From Camp David in the Catoctins, the President probably will drive to the Civil War Battlefield at nearby Gettysburg, Pa., for a look at the new farm home he and Mrs. Eisenhower are building there. The house is nearly ready for occupancy.

Eisenhower plans to leave the White House shortly after noon Friday on the 65 mile drive north to Thurmont.

Mrs. Eisenhower, her sister, Mrs. Gordon Moore, and their mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, will make the trip ahead of the President, leaving Washington tomorrow.

The party intends to return here Sunday evening.

Skater Who Fled Reds Says She Felt Like Bird In Cage

LINZ, Austria, Feb. 23 (AP) — A pretty blonde Czech ice skating star said today she had everything but freedom and security in her Communist homeland. And she told newspapermen that's why she made a break seeking political asylum in the United States.

Miss Mrioslava Nachodska eluded her Czech political supervisor and teammates on a shopping trip in Vienna last Saturday. A cab driver helped her reach a U.S. refugee center in the American zone of Austria.

At a news conference today she said:

"In Czechoslovakia I might be considered as having had everything a person could hope for. Like few others in the country, I was well paid, I could travel, I could sometimes buy things abroad. I was nationally known—I had everything but freedom and security.

"I felt like a bird in a cage who had the freedom to move about the cage, but not beyond."

The blue-eyed ice ballerina said she had been considering escape to the West for years. Her opportunity came when she was sent to Vienna to take part in the recent 1955 world ice skating championships.

"It was my big chance," she said, "because I was not considered politically reliable and had not been permitted to perform in the West since 1947."

She said she hoped to get to the United States or possibly to Canada and continue her skating career. She gave her age as 22.

Churchill Cautions Against Pushing U.S. For Isle Surrender

LONDON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill—in an apparent softening of his own government's policy — warned tonight against pressing the United States too far in insisting on surrender of China's offshore islands to the Reds.

He said there was no question of Britain being involved militarily in defense of the offshore islands and that "we should be careful of what advice we should offer to our friends and allies."

In a move apparently directed at smoothing British-American differences on the issue, Churchill spoke sharply to Laborites clamoring for surrender of the islands to Red China.

Red China "Scornful"

Churchill gave a written statement to the House after he verbally described as "scornful" Red China's refusal to attend a Security Council meeting on Formosa. He turned down a Laborite suggestion he intervene personally with Red China's Premier Chou En-lai.

In his written report on the formosan situation, Churchill said:

"There is a great difference between the coastal islands of China and the Island of Formosa.

"As there is no question of our being involved militarily or indeed of our being needed in the defense of the coastal islands, we should be careful of what advice we should offer to our friends and allies upon it. The decision on whether or when these particular islands should be evacuated is not one, the burden of which falls upon her majesty's government. And we must recognize the natural preoccupations of other governments who are immediately affected by the threatened attack from Communist China.

Red Assertion Recalled

"This is especially true at a time when the Chinese Communists keep stridently asserting that the islands are to be regarded as a stepping stone to the seizure of Formosa itself, with all that must mean for the Chinese Nationalists under Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, who have been given shelter and protection there by the United States, and to whom the United States are bound by over 14 years of comradeship in war both against the Chinese Communists and the Japanese invaders of China."

MIGs Downed Under 'Hot Pursuit' Policy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—The State Department disclosed today that American fighters invoked the policy of "hot pursuit" to shoot down two attacking North Korean jets nearly three weeks ago.

At the same time, it charged the North Korean Reds are flagrantly violating the Korean armistice. It said they are "illegally introducing aircraft," including jet fighters into their zone.

An official State Department announcement for the first time disclosed that a Feb. 5 air battle which began over international waters of the Yellow Sea off Korea wound up with American Sabre Jets downing two Russian-built MIG 15s far above the armistice line.

Marilyn To Ride Pink Elephant

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—The circus season will open next month with Marilyn Monroe astride a pink elephant.

Showman Mike Todd, known for previous spectacular enterprise, announced today that Miss Monroe would be his main star in an opening night charity performance of the Ringling Bros.-Barnum & Bailey Circus at Madison Square Garden March 30 on behalf of the New York Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation.

"She'll wear a leotard especially designed," added Todd. A leotard is a formfitting theatrical costume.

The elephant will be pinked up for the event.

Fuzz Only Powdered Milk, Not Radioactive

HORSEHEADS, N.Y., Feb. 23 (AP)—The mysterious cobweb that blanketed parts of this village was only powdered milk, scientists decided tonight. And it was no more radioactive than the air you breathe.

The fuzz was tested all day by chemists at the Westinghouse Electronic Tube Division plant in this South-Central New York village. They concluded that it came from a flue at a nearby dairy.

Senator Assails Firm Publishing Matusow's Book

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP) — Harvey Matusow's autobiography, "False Witness," is being published by "a propaganda agency for far left causes," Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) asserted today.

Eastland heads the Senate Internal Security subcommittee which is trying to separate fact from fiction in Matusow's strange tale of perjury as a government witness in a long series of anti-Red inquiries.

The subcommittee spent nearly two hours today questioning Albert E. Kahn, a partner in a New York publishing firm which has agreed to bring out Matusow's book.

"Fifth Amendment Case"

At the end of the closed door session, Eastland told reporters that Kahn is "a Fifth Amendment case" who declined to answer questions about possible Communist connections on the ground he might tend to incriminate himself.

Eastland's charge came on top of these other developments in the Matusow case today:

1. Kahn issued a statement saying he hoped the senators "will soon probe into those individuals and Department of Justice officials who worked closely with Harvey Matusow when he was lying as a paid government witness and as an aide to Sen. McCarthy."

McCarthy, McClellan Clash

2. Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) accused Sens. McClellan (D-Ark) and Hennings (D-Mo), two members of the Internal Security subcommittee, of "coaxing" Matusow "to smear Republican senators."

3. McClellan and Hennings denied the accusation and Sen. Jenner (R-Ind), another subcommittee member who is a friend of McCarthy's, said the Wisconsin senator was mistaken. Jenner said he saw no coaxing and that "you've got to get the truth from this man (Matusow) if you can, and you've got to ask questions to try to get it."

Strip-Teaser Offers $500 Reward For Stolen Photos

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Every problem seems to wind up in Washington, including the unusual troubles facing Bubbles Darlene.

Miss Darlene is an entertainer, an exotic dancer. Or, as she herself explains cheerfully, "that's just a nice name for a strip-teaser."

Anyway, while she was dancing exotically in Nashville, Tenn., someone stole one of her suitcases. When the thief looked at his loot, he was in for a pleasant surprise.

"It contained all the pictures of me that I had had made for years," she said, "including some nudes taken in Cuba. I need them in this line of work, and some of them are absolutely irreplaceable."

Miss D. said she advertised in the Nashville papers, first offering a $100 reward, then upping the ante to $200. Now she has gone to $500. Still no peep from the thief, possibly because he has been so busy studying the pictures he hasn't had time to read the newspapers.

Well, since the conversation has gone this far, and since the government always is interested in the health of the nation's business, it seemed a patriotic duty to ask Miss Darlene how things are in the strip-tease world.

She said, fine, splendid. Where burlesque has faltered, the girls have moved into nightclubs and are prospering.

Miss Darlene is a platinum blonde with twinkling brown eyes and an infectious laugh. As unexotic Virginia Lachimia, she studied ballet, toe and tap dancing back in Minneapolis, and, she says, had no notion when she hired out as a dancer at the Rialto in Chicago that she was moving into burlesque.

100 Nationalist Planes Hit Reds

TAIPEI, Formosa, Thursday, Feb. 24 (AP) — Nationalist planes bombed Red islands yesterday north and south of the menaced Nationalist garrison on Nanchishan Island.

Signs multiplied that the outpost 140 miles northwest of Formosa may have to be abandoned.

An air force communique said that 100 planes, attacking in the face of intense antiaircraft fire, struck from dawn to dusk at a Red buildup area in the Taishans, 30 miles south of Nanchishan, and at the islet of Peichishan, 12 miles north.

The communique asserted military installations were hard hit.

An attempt to pull off the 5,000-man garrison from Nanchishan now appears very much in the cards.

If it happens, it is expected to be an all-Nationalist affair, contrasted with the pullout 80 miles north of Nanchishan of the garrison from the Tachens under the covering guns of the U. S. 7th Fleet.

It appears that the United States might intervene against a Red invasion of Quemoy and the Matsu group, but does not regard Nationalist retention of Nanchishan as essential to defending Formosa and the Pescadores.

HAVANA, Cuba, Feb. 23 (AP) — Fulgencio Batista, who twice has led revolutions in Cuba, will be inaugurated president tomorrow for a four-year term.

Mother Kills Two Sons, Buried Bodies As "Spoiled Venison"

Says She Couldn't Take Care Of Them

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 23 (AP)—Slight Mrs. Ann Williams today calmly related how she slew her two young sons, kept their dismembered bodies for nearly a week and then had them buried as "spoiled venison."

"I'm ill and my husband's in prison. I couldn't take care of them. That's why I killed my boys," she said.

The attractive brunette, 28, was known here as a quiet, well-mannered person.

But the FBI knows her as Annie Laurie Hazel Williams, who took about 50 shots at FBI agents and state police near Smithville, Tenn., as officers sought to arrest her husband as an armed forces deserter.

The shooting occurred Aug. 10, 1946. No disposition of the shooting or desertion charges is noted in FBI files here.

She was arrested about 4 a.m. today after officers kicked in her front door. She was traced through an automobile she purchased Monday.

The boys were Conrad, 8, and Calvin, 9.

Clayton A. Johnson, 19, son of an Algoa Tex., garage owner, yesterday buried four packages which Mrs. Williams told him were spoiled venison. But he became suspicious when he learned she and her two sons had been missing six days. He dug up the packages.

Mrs. Williams, at first denying slaying her sons, broke down after four hours of questioning and told this story:

She gave the boys big sleeping pills "I bought in Mexico." She moved the bodies at night from their trailer home to an apartment she had rented.

"I put the bodies in a bathtub and left them there two or three days, I don't know exactly. I took a single edged razor blade and dismembered the bodies."

She wrapped the bodies neatly in four packages and took them to Algoa in adjoining Galveston County yesterday and asked if she could dump them behind the Johnson garage. The younger Johnson buried them for her.

Mrs. Williams said she is a native of Hammond, Ind. Her husband, Hoyt J. Williams, 33, was sentenced in January to three years on federal car theft charges. They had been married 10 years.

Murder charges were filed against Mrs. Williams today.

Lawyer Eats Glass To Prove His Point

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23 (AP)—An attorney ate a glass sandwich in Superior Court today to prove a legal point.

The lawyer's clients — actress Esther Williams and her husband, Ben Gage—own a Los Angeles restaurant where Ward E. Willcutt claims he was served ice cream containing glass particles.

Willcutt seeks $51,239 damages because, he claimed, the particles injured him internally. Today Atty. Raymond G. Stanbury smashed up a piece of glass, made a sandwich of the pieces, and ate it.

He said it would prove Willcutt couldn't have suffered the injuries he claimed.

Nixon In Panama

PANAMA, Feb. 23 (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon arrived in Panama today after achiving what he called one of the major objectives of his Caribbean good will tour. This was the promise of peace he got from the presidents of Nicaragua and Costsa Rica.

Navy Plane Sets Climbing Record

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Feb. 23 (AP)—Douglas Aircraft Co., said today that one of its planes, the Navy's F4D Skyray, has set a new unofficial climbing record of 10,000 feet in 56 seconds.

The climb was made last Saturday at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., by Douglas test pilot Robert O. Rahn from a standing start.

Douglas said Rahn clipped 15 seconds off the time set by a Navy F3H-1N Demon on Feb. 12 at St. Louis, Mo.

GOP Winner Charges Chicago Vote Fraud

CHICAGO, Feb. 23 (AP) — Two vigorous men—Richard J. Daley and Robert E. Merriam—squared off today as candidates for mayor of Chicago. Merriam immediately opened the battle with a charge of fraud in yesterday's city primary.

Merriam, onetime Democrat who won the Republican nomination with GOP organization backing, said he has a photograph of a man switching votes on ballots to Daley's favor.

Daley won the Democratic mayoral primary, defeating incumbent Martin H. Kennelly by 100,000 votes. Kennelly was dumped by the party organization in favor of Daley, currently Cook County (Chicago) clerk and Democratic county chairman.

Merriam, an alderman, told the City Council today the vote-switching incident occurred in a West Side ward. He said the photograph shows a man erasing votes for Kennelly and giving them to Daley.

26-Letter Name

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 23 (AP)—George Pappavlahodimitrakopoulous retained the distinction today of having the longest name in the Lansing telephone directory. A restaurant owner, he has a standing offer of a free meal for anyone who can pronounce his name correctly the first time.

Case Won't Back Ike's Road Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Sen. Francis Case (R-SD), who introduced the administration's highway bill yesterday, said today he "cannot support it in its present form."

He said the President's proposal for a 101-billion-dollar highway program over the next 10 years was a "challenging" plan.

But, he added, the financing arrangements in the administration bill "posed some serious questions."

Ranking Democrats in the Senate already have assailed the financing plan. Under it a new federal borrowing agency would float 21 billion dollars worth of bonds to finance a 40,000-mile interstate highway network.

The administration bill calls for new federal spending of 25 billion dollars over the next 10 years to finance most of the cost of the interstate network. The federal government also would put up six billions for other road programs. The remaining 70 billions would come from the states.

Case said he had not read the bill when he introduced it on behalf of himself and Sens. Chavez (D-NM) and Martin (R-Pa).

Butler Hopeful For North-South Demo Harmony

LEXINGTON, Va., Feb. 23 (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler tonight said he hoped that northern and southern Democrats can be brought closer together for the good of "our party."

"I will sincerely welcome cooperation from anyone who seeks this objective," said the new Democratic chairman in an address prepared for delivery at Washington and Lee University.

Butler, discussing the "impact of the cold war on our political parties," also accused the national administration of giving only "lip service" to the principle of bipartisan consultation on foreign policy. He asserted:

"Our own party is understandably annoyed these days at the many professions of attentiveness to the principle and the regularity with which it is ignored by the Eisenhower administration."

Speaking in one of the four southern states that gave its majority vote to Eisenhower in the 1952 election, Butler made a gesture toward Democratic North-South harmony by a polite reference to Virginia's Democratic senators, including Harry F. Byrd, who refused to support Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate in 1952.

He said the university was honored by the presence of Sen. Byrd on its governing board.

8 European Nations Cut Off CARE List

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—CARE, a private relief agency formed to aid war-stricken lands, today called a halt on shipments to eight European nations on grounds they're now able to shift for themselves.

Paul Comly French, the agency's executive director, said the "great degree of recovery" in these countries had put them in a position to handle relief needs of their people without outside help.

Countries cut off the list are Great Britain, France, Belgium, Austria, Norway, Luxembourg, the Netherlands and West Germany.

Since 1946, French said, the agency has sent $84,843,303 worth of goods to the eight countries via 7,116,783 relief packages purchased by Americans at $5 and up each.

Elderly Woman Would Sell Title

CHICAGO, Feb. 23 (AP)—An elderly woman who says she is the widow of a baron, wants to sell the title to the highest bidder.

Mrs. Lina von Lamezan, 81, who lives on the Northwest Side, says the title is 700 years old and belonged to her husband Franz, now dead.

She is childless and says she doesn't want "the title to die with me." She says her husband once was an aide to Archduke Ferdinand of Austria, whose assassination touched off World War I.

The woman plans to offer the title for sale in a want ad tomorrow in the Chicago Daily News.

U. S. Washes Its Hands Of Noel And Herta Field

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—The United States today washed its hands of Noel and Herta Field, Americans in political asylum in Communist Hungary.

This added one more chapter to the fabulous story of the four vanishing Fields.

Noel's brother Herman, spent five years in Communist jails, as did Noel. Noel's adopted daughter, Erika, is still missing, presumably in a Soviet prison camp.

State Department press officer Henry Suydam told his news conference today that U.S. protection has been withdrawn from Noel and Herta, who stayed on in Budapest after being released from jail by the Hungarian government.

"At the moment they haven't a valid passport," Suydam said. That was all he would say.

However, it was learned the effect of the action is this:

Noel and Herta will get no help from the U.S. government if they fall into difficulties again with Hungary's Red regime. If jailed again on "spy" charges, as they were before, no U.S. diplomats would be badgering the Budapest government with inquiries.

The action also takes them one step closer to losing their U.S. citizenship. But the next step is up to them. And it must be one of the 10 or so affirmative acts spelled out by law.

FBI Chief Says Sex Offenders Major Problem

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says sex criminals constantly are being turned out of jail to prey again on the nation's children, and only united community action can solve this growing problem.

Hoover, writing in the current issue of American Magazine, says sex offenses reached an all-time high in 1953 and "the degenerate sex offender looms today as a menace to the safety and well-being of every boy and girl in America."

He urged more watchful care and training by parents, and a more "realistic" attitude toward sex offenders by law enforcement authorities.

"The prevalent practice," he said, "is to handle such an offender like any other criminal and to punish him according to the gravity of his crime, rather than to give him a psychiatric examination or medical attention . . .

"Nothing could be less realistic than this idea, embodied in many laws and implemented by many judges, that the sex offender should be treated like any other criminal.

"Police records all over the country show that punishment alone almost never reforms such an offender. Hardly a day passes that a serious crime is not committed somewhere by a degenerate who, in the past, has been convicted over and over again for similar crimes."

Hoover said in the judgment of the FBI, the increase in sex crimes stems largely from "social and family upheavals which occurred during and immediately after World War II.

"South Stinks" Incident

Douglas Sues For Million After Play Ordered Closed

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23 (AP) — Actor Paul Douglas filed suit today for a million dollars damages against Paul Gregory and Gregory Associates, Inc., charging defamation and injurious falsehood.

Gregory ordered cancellation of the national tour of the play "The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial" in which Douglas had a starring role.

The cancellation followed an interview in the Greensboro, N. C., Daily News in which the actor was quoted as saying "The South stinks. It is a land of sow belly and segregation."

Gregory said the company was scheduled to open Feb. 14 in Charleston, W. Va., and make a seven-week tour of southern cities. A spokesman for the producers said, "the company, which had been doing capacity business in the North, found itself practically boycotted in the South after Douglas' remarks."

Douglas denied making the remark attributed to him. The executive news editor of the newspaper answered, "We think Douglas was correctly quoted."

In filing the damage suit today, Douglas contends Gregory used the article as an excuse to go ahead with a cancellation he had already planned. He charged in his civil suit that statements blaming the tour cancellation on his remarks were "false and malicious." He claimed that subsequent to the Greensboro newspaper story the play was enthusiastically received by capacity or near-capacity audiences in Atlanta, Ga.; Montgomery, Birmingham and Mobile, Ala.; Chattanooga Tenn., and Jackson, Miss.

'Most Educated Hobo,' Struck By Auto, Dies

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—Roger Payne, 78, known as "the world's most educated hobo," died today in a hospital, a week after he was struck by an automobile.

Born in England and reportedly possessor of bachelor of arts and bachelor of laws degrees from Cambridge, he was a successful building contractor until he suffered a nervous breakdown 40 years ago. Recovered, he came to the United States and traveled extensively for the next 20 years.

Harry Baronian, editor of the Bowery News, a monthly publication with the slogan, "The Voice of Society's Basement," said Payne, in the late 1930s, wrote and published a thick volume, "Why Work?" in which he contended working one day a week was enough for anyone.

McKeldin Names Baltimorean To Tidewater Fish Commission

Small Slated To Get Motor Vehicles Post; Munshower Retained As Police Superintendent; Goldstein Gets Movie Censorship Job

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 23 (AP) — The biggest surprise when the Senate opened Gov. McKeldin's "Green Bag" of job nominations today was William Hilgenberg of Baltimore to the Tidewater Fisheries Commission.

The name of the Baltimore seafood merchant and financial backer of its two major sports teams, the Orioles and Colts, didn't even pop up until minutes before the nomination was received by the Senate.

This was in contrast to other major changes and reappointments in the executive list which gets its name from days of old when it was delivered in a green cloth bag.

The "bag" previously had leaked that Gov. McKeldin desires to have Frank Small Jr., defeated Republican congressman, to be motors vehicles commissioner instead of Thomas B. R. Mudd, C. Morton Goldstein chief movie censor as replacement for the controversial Sydney Traub, and defeated attorney general Edward D. E. Rollins for state industrial accident commissioner.

The governor also ended months of speculation by reappointing Elmer F. Munshower of Frederick for four more years as state police superintendent.

The nomination of Hilgenberg was a well kept secret although the job had been the most actively sought of the 37 general jobs the governor has to distribute this year.

Names of four other candidates, Del. White (D-Wicomico), John F. McNulty, former Anne Arundel delegate, Levin Harrison, Tilghman's Island fishing boat operator, and Paul McNabb, former Harford County senator, had been bandied about freely.

The decision obviously was one of the hardest the governor had to make. It held up release of the entire list almost to the last minute.

The legislators and those supporting other candidates were amazed when they learned it was Hilgenberg not only because he hadn't been mentioned publicly before, but also by the fact the choice was a Baltimorean.

Fred P. Glose, another member of the three-man commission, also is from Baltimore and many doubted that Gov. McKeldin would appoint two from the city.

Actually, the governor designated Hilgenberg to continue the term of John P. Tawes of Crisfield which expires in 1957. He in effect then extended the term of Tawes for six years rather than reappoint Arthur Brice.

The governor recently relieved Brice of his duties after the tidewater chairman was charged with violating duck hunting laws. Tawes also was designated by the governor to succeed Brice as chairman, thus raising his salary from $3,000 to $7,500 a year.

A letter dated Monday in which Mudd said he wanted to "formally confirm my statement to you prior to the convening of the Legislature that I would not seek reappointment as commissioner of motor vehicles" was distributed by the governor's office in connection with his nomination of Small.

Police Pick Up Trail Of Suspect In Girl's Slaying

BALTIMORE, Feb. 23 (AP)—Police said today they finally have picked up the trail of a man they've been wanting to question for three months about the slaying of 14-year-old Carolyn Wasilewski.

Capt. George H. Mintiens, chief of detectives, said he is a soldier about 20 years old and detectives working on the case now know where to find him.

Mintiens said he would be brought to Baltimore within a few days. He did not identify the Army camp where he is stationed.

The latest development in one of Baltimore's strangest mysteries apparently developed from the arrest of three women and a man, all in their early 20's, by police yesterday.

Two of the women were released after questioning. The man was held on a traffic charge and the third woman a check on her parole status.

The body of the Wasilewski girl was found almost nude on railroad tracks under a highway bridge in the northern part of Baltimore last Nov. 8.

When she left her nome in southwest Baltimore the evening before she supposedly was headed for a juke joint to meet a girl friend.

Investigators discovered the severe beating which caused her death was administered in a vacant lot near her home.

Md. Film License Fee Boost Urged

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 23 (AP)—Sydney R. Traub, Maryland's out-going movie censor, proposed today 33-50 per cent increases in state film license fees.

He said the raises are necessary to bolster sagging revenues in his department, which may wind up in the red next fiscal year for the first time since its creation in 1916.

Traub, who officially learned a few hours later that he was not reappointed head of the film censorship board by Gov. McKeldin, made his recommendation at a budget hearing before the Senate Finance Committee.

He said the board's receipts have fallen about $3,200 behind last year's rate and will be less than expenses if the Legislature approves a bill to eliminate newsreels from censorship. The censorship board grosses about $10,000 a year on newsreels, he said, and this is his chief opposition to the bill.

Traub suggested $1 increases on the board's rates for licensing film. Those rates are now $3 per 1,000 feet of film on original prints and $2 on duplicates.

One reason for the board's decreased revenues, said Traub is the recent introduction of various new screen techniques—cinemascope, vista-vision, etc. Exhibitors must run such movies for much longer periods—sometimes for 10 or 12 weeks—because of the costlier processes.

As a result, fewer pictures have been distributed and licensed.

Manslaughter Case Sentence Suspended

BALTIMORE, Feb. 23 (AP)—Clyde Riddle, 27-year-old Havre de Grace man convicted of manslaughter in connection with a fatal traffic accident, won freedom on a suspended sentence today with the provision he must not drive a car for a year.

Riddle was convicted of the charge Feb. 11 and served notice he would ask for a new trial. He dropped that maneuver when Judge Joseph R. Byrnes agreed to the suspended one-year sentence.

Judge Byrnes ruled imprisonment would serve no purpose and work a hardship on Riddle's wife, who is expecting their second child.

Oil Firm President Dies In Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Feb. 23 (AP)—Henry A. Rosenberg, 57-year-old president of Crown Central Petroleum Corp. and a member of the management committee of the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, died of a heart attack today at his home in suburban Eccleston.

Rosenberg was a member of the board of Associated Jewish Charities and of the executive committee of the Boy Scout Council. He formerly was president of the board of Sinai Hospital, treasurer of the symphony, and a trustee of the Baltimore Hebrew Congregation.

Survivors include the widow, a son, two daughters and a sister.

Virginia Firm Low Bidder On Bridge

BALTIMORE, Feb. 23 (AP) — Talbott Marks Co. of Clarksville, Va., today submitted the apparent low bid of $65,947 for building a three-span bridge to carry the new Baltimore-Harrisburg expressway over Bunker Hill Road in Baltimore County.

The Bay City Construction Co. of Baltimore was second low at $69,647 and nine other bids ran as high as $86,557.

Court Move May Delay Baltimore Primary

BALTIMORE, Feb. 23 (AP)—Court action launched today over a little-known law could delay Baltimore's primary election, set for next Tuesday.

The law requires police to tell election officials whenever anyone over 21 moves to a new address.

Francis X. Dippel, one of the Democratic candidates for mayor, says the police haven't been following the law and it has resulted in voter registration becoming "grossly inaccurate."

Dippel asked the court to order police to make a complete canvass of registered voters to see if they actually live at the addresses where they are registered.

Judge Joseph L. Carter gave the board of election supervisors and the police commissioner until Friday to present any arguments they may have. A hearing was set for 2 p.m. Friday.

Attorneys for Dippel suggested that if the judge orders the canvass Tuesday's primaries will have to be postponed.

The law Dippel and his attorneys dug up is Section 216 of Article 33 which says:

"It shall be the duty of the police commissioner of Baltimore City to secure from the several patrolmen the name of every person above the age of 21 who shall have remove to or from any permanent residence upon their respective posts. . . and to furnish (the) information at least twice in every month to the board of supervisors of elections. . . ."

U. Of Md. Prexy Calls On Education Forces To Help Sustain Humanity

BALTIMORE, Feb. 23 (AP) — The president of the University of Maryland has traced mankind's progress from simpler times to the present age of ulcers and called upon the forces of education to help sustain humanity in these difficult times.

Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, a Texan recently adopted by Maryland, made his remarks at the 79th Commemoration Day of Johns Hopkins University.

He praised Hopkins as an institution "associated with ideas, discoveries and progress . . ." He also told the students and educators he hoped his appearance before them "presages a long and productive relationship between the Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland."

Dr. Elkins took over last year as University of Maryland president, succeeding H. C. Byrd who left to wage an unsuccessful campaign for election as governor of Maryland.

Hopkins conferred upon the former Texas educator an honorary degree as doctor of laws. Others receiving honorary degrees in today's ceremony were Dr. Samuel J. Crowe, professor-emeritus of the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine, and Dr. Millicent Carey McIntosh, president of Barnard College of Columbia University.

"In the not too distant past the life of the individual was relatively simple," Elkins said.

Expanding his theme, "The Individual In A Complex Society," Elkins pointed to the contrasting conditions of today.

"Free land is no longer available to those who do not choose to live in close proximity with others. . . While food and shelter remain primary requisites, the individual seeks a multitude of conveniences which were unknown a century ago. . .

Elkins listed as fundamental requirements for preparing the individual for society "health, the tools of learning, character, a philosphy of life, an understanding of democracy coupled with a sense of responsibility and the means of making a living."

Blown and Carlton successfully crashlanded the plane on the sea and helped the survivors into dinghies.

Police Chief Gets Man, Pay Boost For Cops

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Feb. 23 (AP)—Police Chief Donald Vanarsdall got his man—and $15 more a month for each member of the Police Department.

Mayor A. P. Prather vetoed a City Council vote this week which would have granted the officers a $15 monthly increase.

The measure had passed, 5-2, but this was one vote short of the number needed to override a veto.

Vanarsdall sought—and brought in—the only absent member of the council, O. R. Green. He voted to override the veto.

The increase will boost the officers' pay to $200 a month.

Romania Strengthens Its Heavy Industry

VIENNA, Austria, Feb. 23 (AP)—Communist Romania's Premier Gheorghe Gheorhiu-Dej declared yesterday Romania will put greater emphasis on development of the country's heavy industry.

He said in a speech before the Romanian Parliament, broadcast by radio Bucharest, that "our decision to strengthen the heavy industry is the basis for our national economy."

His speech marked the first time in several weeks the Premier had attended an official function. His absence had given rise to Western speculation he had become the victim of a government shakeup in connection with the ouster from his premiership of Russia's Georgi Malenkov.

"Do-It-Yourself" Trend

Little Woman Now Running Power Tools, Laying Sewer

By RUTH COWAN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—The little woman is putting her manicured fingers to running electric power tools, laying sewer pipe, building barbecue pits as well as hanging wallpaper and painting the house inside and out.

It is the latest chapter in the "do-it-yourself" trend, evident at the 9th annual Washington Home Show now in progress.

Some representatives of building supply concerns report they are amazed at the increasing number of women who are apparently deciding to fix it themselves rather than wait for some man to get around to it.

"I've especially noticed the increase in the last year and a half," said Bryce Weaver, head of one of the city's oldest hardware stores.

Richard W. Conway who has been with one builders supply firm for 27 years said: "I can remember when women wouldn't even come into our store. Now we have them in our home remodeling classes — nailing and sawing away."

"I'll never forget the shock I got when a woman who said she was building a home told me she was installing the kitchen and bathroom equipment," said Al Silver of a plumbing supply house.

"She even dug the trench for the sewer pipe. We took her out in back of the shop and showed her how to lay the pipe. We warned her plumbing installation has to pass city inspection. Well, she got the equipment in and it did pass inspection."

A representative of a lumber yard said women shop for lumber in the same way they buy cloth for a dress. "They come into the shop and ask to see some oak. They'll finger the board as though it were wool yard goods. Then they'll ask for two yards and a half."

Bids For Span To Be Sought Next Month

Bids for the bridge across the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and access roads into the new Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant site at North Branch will be advertised in about a month, William H. Lemmert, president of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, said yesterday.

The commissioners had postponed their regular meeting Tuesday to yesterday because of Washington's Birthday.

Lemmert reported on the meeting he attended in Baltimore last week with State Roads Commission officials along with Commissioner James Orr, Board Secretary James Stevenson and J. Walker Chapman, supervisor of the County Roads Department.

This morning a State Roads Commission report on increase in the cost of the project was approved by the board.

A communication from G. Bates Chaires, district engineer of the SRC, noted the grade elevation on the bridge approach was increased slightly at a cost of $750 in engineering fees, and the overall cost of the project from $500,000 to $510,000. Half of the $10,000 hike would be borne by federal funds.

A breakdown on the project cost was given the county commissioners by the SRC last week.

The bridge will cost $200,000, with $180,000 coming from federal funds and $20,000 from the railroad. The county does not participate in this cost, Lemmert added.

The remaining $310,000 will find $155,000 coming from the county and $155,000 from the federal aid funds obtained by the SRC.

As of January 31, eighty-five per cent of road and bridge engineering had been completed and SRC officials informed the commissioners the project would be ready for advertisement for bids the middle of March.

The SRC will allow contractors only two weeks to get their bids in, Commissioner Orr said he had been informed.

Roads Are Damaged By Timber Cutters

Timber cutters have been chewing up a number of county roads with their big trucks, it was charged at the meeting of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday morning.

After hearing a report of some bad road conditions by phone prior to the meeting, Board President William H. Lemmert said the Dan's Mountain Road is being damaged by lumber trucks.

He pointed out farmers at this time of the year usually do not work in the fields and cut timber along with the commercial cutters.

They use the county roads at a time when frost damage is occurring and the surfaces are more vulnerable to damage, Lemmert said.

J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, said the commercial cutters from Pennsylvania are using the West Shipley Road.

He decried the damage being done by these timbermen, adding that he didn't know the answer to the problem.

Hoppers Wreck In RR Mishap At Oakland

Hitting a bulldozer that had just fallen off an eastbound freight train, three Diesel units and 21 cars of westbound extra B&O Railroad freight wrecked in the heart of Oakland early yesterday.

Cumberland division officials reported that no one was injured on the train which had as its engineer L. H. Hedrick of Keyser.

The wreck caused the rerouting of the Diplomat, crack Washington-St. Louis passenger train from Grafton to Connellsville and then into Cumberland. Due at Keyser at 6:40 a.m. yesterday it was five hours and 20 minutes behind schedule when it pulled into Cumberland at noon after coming in on the Monongah and Pittsburgh divisions.

East and westbound traffic over the West End of the Cumberland Division was halted until noon when wreck crews cleared the pileup on the eastbound track.

The accident occurred at 5 a. m., several hours after the extra freight with 85 empty coal hoppers had left Keyser, A. W. Conley, Cumberland Division superintendent said.

Conley reported the eastbound train had just passed the site of the wreck, one-eighth of a mile west of the Oakland station, prior to the westbound's arrival.

The bulldozer fell from the eastbound train onto the westbound track, just minutes before the Diesel engine hit it, authorities reported.

While the Diplomat was rerouted, other passenger trains were not affected as the eastbound lane was open by noon. Freight trains were backed up on either side and were not rerouted, with the exception of the "Southwest Timesaver," the fast freight that left Cumberland at 10:10 a.m. yesterday, on its way from Washington to St. Louis. This train with high priority was shunted over the Monongal. Division from Connellsville getting back on the main southwest line at Grafton.

PTA Favoring Juvenile Court Improvements

A committee from the Allegany County Council of Parents and Teachers has recommended legislation to the county delegates that would add to the facilities and staff of Allegany County Juvenile Court.

The report was made public yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, where a copy had been filed by the committee headed by Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel for the County Board of Education.

These minimum recommendations were made:

Addition of a secretary to the staff which now contains one magistrate, one secretary, and one probation officer, one female probation officer, and one social caseworker to provide a better liaison between the court, the home and other agencies.

The committee commended the present personnel but said the personnel recognizes deficiencies which exist in services to children due to the lack of help.

The court, operating with only three persons, is functioning on a 1925 basis, the report said.

The secretary or clerk is responsible for the collection of $150,000 annually in alimony or support for aid to dependent children, the committee said.

The committee also recommended facilities for physical examinations for children, plus psychological and psychiatric services to those youngsters needing them.

Members of the committee headed by Higgins were Dr. Lilliam C. Compton, retired president of Frostburg State Teachers College; Dr. Adam Baer, Frostburg; Mrs. Stanley Buckley, member of the Board of Education; Mrs. Ralph Isiminger, William Scott, Rev. Kenneth W. Grove and Mrs. Lester B. McGill, county PTA official.

Four Men Are Held In Theft Of Cable

Four men were ordered held under $1,000 bond each yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court for action of the April grand jury on a grand larceny charge resulting from the theft of 2,000 feet of copper trolley cable.

Committed to Allegany County Jail in default were Mosby Densmore, 28; Junior Lee Yates and Glen Morgan, both 24, of Woodland near Klondyke, and Daniel Francis Crable, 22, Lonaconing.

State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher said he will forward details of the case to Pennsylvania authorities.

The cable, he explained, was stolen in Maryland but received in Pennsylvania, and that any action against the receiver of the stolen goods would have to be taken in the state in which the offense occurred.

Lemmert Cites DeHaven Road Work

Work done on DeHaven Road during the month of January was commented upon by William H. Lemmert, president of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, at yesterday morning's meeting.

Lemmert made his observation after J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, made his statistical report for work completed during January.

At one of the first meetings of the board attended by Commissioner C. N. Wilkinson, the former board president and DeHaven Road resident, commented upon the need for work on several county thoroughfares, including DeHaven Road.

Lemmert pointed out after reviewing the report that the Roads Department had covered nearly all of the districts in the county, including the fact that "DeHaven Road had been taken care of," and noted the Post Office Department was involved.

The report showed the Roads Department spent $707.89 in repairs on the road which is in District 23.

The county figures were as follows:

District 1, $2,155; District 2, $1,338; District 3, $522; District 4, $25.60; District 5, $315.10; District 6, $6.53; District 7, $1,017; District 8, $11.30; District 9, $2,071; District 10, $56; District 13, $738.

District 15, $409; District 18, $254; District 19, $337; District 20, $10; District 21, $202; District 22, $937; District 23, $707; District 24, $403; District 25, $123. District 27, $214; District 29, $387; District 31, $632; District 33, $850.

Recapitulation showed $3,925 for snow clearances; $13,042 for labor; and $2,043 for materials, and $3,786, for a total of $18,871 for the cost of keeping the county roads in shape during January.

Mr., Mrs. Isaac Hirsch Will Observe 60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Hirsch will observe their 60th wedding anniversary Saturday at their home, 218 Schley Street, with the family. There will be no formal celebration because of the recent serious illness of Mrs. Hirsch.

The marriage of the former Miss Ray Abrams, Pittsburgh, to Mr. Hirsch, February 26, 1895, was solemnized in Pittsburgh, with Rabbi Harry G. Mayer, Pittsburgh, and Rabbi J. L. Stern, Cumberland, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Hirsch are the parents of one son, Sumner A. Hirsch. They have one grandson.

Although Mrs. Hirsch is regaining her strength, she has not been able to have visitors.

Mr. Hirsch, who goes to his office each morning, is writing his memoirs, dealing mainly with his greatest interest, municipal affairs.

A native of Germany, Mr. Hirsch was reared in Cumberland and educated at the Allegany County Academy. In 1885 he and his brother, the late Louis Hirsch, took over their father's wool and hide business.

Interested in civic affairs, Mr. Hirsch was named a member of the City Council in 1897. It was through his proposal that the voters adopted a municipal street lighting plan, and while he was water commissioner in 1908, that the first dam at Lake Gordon was built. In 1910, as chairman, he drafted a new charter for the city, providing for the present commission form of government.

Mr. Hirsch has been president of the Kiwanis Club, the First National Bank and B'er Chayim Congregation; served on the Public Service Commission for the city and on the State Policy and Revenue Commission; and as a director for the Cumberland Free Public Library. He is a 32nd degree Mason.

Equally active in social, civic and church affairs, Mrs. Hirsch served as president of the Ladies Aid Society of B'er Chayim Congregation, as a trustee of the National Council of Jewish Women and of the Sisterhood of B'er Chayim Congregation, and has been active in the Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, the local chapter of the American Red Cross and the Cumberland Free Public Library.

The former Miss Ida May Daugherty, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Daugherty, Rio, W. Va., became the bride of Mr. Liller, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Liller, Purgittsville, W. Va., February 26, 1895. Rev. John Leatherman officiated at the ceremony in the home of Dr. Nicholas Leatherman.

Prior to their marriage, Mrs. Liller taught school in Purgittsville and Mr. Liller assisted his father on the farm. The couple moved to New Creek, where he was employed in the tannery until 1912, when they came to Cumberland and Mr. Liller was employed by the General Textile Mills. He retired in 1934 and they moved to their present home.

Mr. and Mrs. Liller are the parents of five children, the late Guy Liller, who was killed in World War I; Mrs. Irma Schade, Cumberland; Ronald Liller, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., the late Mrs. Wilhelmina McDaniel, and Mrs. Olive Workman, at home. Rails And Aircrafts Pace Advance In Stock Market

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—Railroads and aircrafts transported the stock market higher today while many industrials lagged behind.

Steels, motors, airlines and most mining stocks favored the minus column, though losses were generally fractions. After spending most of the session in a depressed condition, oils, chemicals and rubber makers turned mixed. Distillers and motion-pictures were also irregular.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced to a new all-time peak of $160.50 with a 40-cent increase. The railroad component rose $1.40 to $127.50, a new 1954-55 high. The utility group inched up 10 cents but industrials dipped 30 cents.

Volume amounted to 3,030,000 shares compared with 3,010,000 shares on Monday, when railroads led the market higher.

Curtis-Wright Corp. raised its quarterly dividend and reported favorable earnings, sending the stock up 1⅞ at 22⅝ on 72,500 shares, the second most active issue.

Wheeling Steel Corp. called its 3½ per cent convertible debentures for redemption by March 28, pushing the stock down 3⅛ at 53⅞.

Woman Hurt In Fall

Mrs. Grace VanMeter, Cresaptown, wife of J. French VanMeter, judge of Allegany County Orphans Court, is a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital where she was admitted February 7 after fracturing a leg in a fall at her home. She is reported to be improving slowly.

The more you rush, the more you may regret it — if courtesy is sacrificed along the way!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

It has often been noted that busy and important people — those whom you might expect to be abrupt — are usually the most gracious. This theory is borne out by the experience of a young friend looking for a job.

Betty arrived in New York with letters of introduction to two acquaintances of her former employer. Neither had a job to offer, so after each interview Betty was discouraged. Still, each of these top-notch executives made several calls for her, arranging appointments — one of which resulted in a fine position.

Remarked Betty later: "I expected to be allowed five or ten minutes to sell myself into a job. Instead, all the people I met seemed genuinely interested . . . each spent half an hour or more asking me about myself, and giving advice. I appreciate their being so kind and helpful, but how can people devote so much time to counseling strangers?"

Being Aware

Betty was lucky in encountering "big" people, aware that courtesy is no more time-consuming than curtness, yet far more productive.

When you find yourself snapping at those about you, or cutting them short, remind yourself that time for graciousness is never lacking. The more you rush, often, the less your accomplish.

That certainly is true in the everyday matter of getting along with people. When you are dashing to an appointment and fail to speak to a friend as you pass, don't you think that person wonders at being snubbed? When the telephone rings, and without explanation you say, "Sorry, I can't talk to you," don't you imagine your caller is hurt? Or when discussion becomes argument because you are harassed, aren't you sorry when you think about the incident afterwards?

Time Well Spent

To say "hello" and "how are you" requires only a moment or two. Perhaps the brief exchange of amenities, however, will relax you, or a light conversation enable you to tackle a task with new vigor.

Haste makes waste, the saying goes, and you can waste friendships as well as time if you rush through each day, oblivious to others. Courtesy can't take up too much of your time!

Commissioners Seek Stand On County Roads Program

The Allegany County delegates want the State Roads Commission's stand in writing on a three-point Allegany County program.

Del. Charles M. See, chairman of the delegates, said this was the result of a conference yesterday in Annapolis with Russell McCain, chairman of the SRC.

The program concerns SRC plans for Route 40 improvement SRC to take over maintenance of interstate bridges at Pinto and Luke, and making the Wiley Ford bridge more adequate.

The delegation has scheduled a hearing on Tuesday March 1 at 7 p. m. with a delegation from the Allegany County Bar Association on its proposal to continue two judges in Allegany County.

Del. See said some members feel that present legislation should be amended to provide for continuance of the second jurist.

A conference has been arranged for next Thursday at 7 p.m. with Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of Allegany County schools, who will present the views of the school board on current legislative problems.

Del. See said the delegation has taken no action on the request of the Allegany County Teachers Association for a boost in the salary scale, pending the receipt of the views of the Board of Allegany Commissioners and the Allegany County Board of Education.

Del. Lester B. Reed, Mt. Savage, has introduced a bill to allow the use of volunteer fire houses as voting places.

Mrs. William A. Douglas To Head Md. Women's Clubs

BALTIMORE—Mrs. William A. Douglas, wife of a Cumberland contractor and mother of three children, has been nominated for the presidency of the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs to succeed Mrs. Thomas W. Fleming, of St. Michael's.

Mrs. Douglas' unopposed selection by the nomination makes her election automatic.

Mrs. Fleming's term will expire at the annual convention of the organization, to be held in April at the Emerson Hotel. Her predecessor was Mrs. Harry R. Christopher, of Baltimore, thus, with the election of Mrs. Douglas, such widely separated communities as the city, the Eastern Shore and Western Maryland will have been represented in the head office of the statewide federation.

The president-elect of the Maryland clubwomen is a past president of the First District of the State Federation, which embraces women's clubs in the Western Maryland area.

For the past two years she has been treasurer of the state-wide organization.

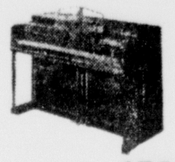

The Douglases have four grandchildren. Their daughter, Mrs. Chauncey S. Sanner, of Cumberland, is the mother of two young daughters, and their son, William Bruce Douglas, is the father of two sons. Their youngest son, D. Alan Douglas, who has been attending the University of Virginia, is awaiting a call to service.

The Persian cat which originated in what is modern Iran has become relatively scarce in that country.

Frostburg Lions Make Report On Club Activities

Spent $681.75 For Community Service

FROSTBURG — The annual report of James Smith, president of the Frostburg Lions Club, submitted at the February meeting disclosed that $681.75 was spent for community work. This total included $306.75 for eye glasses and doctors, appropriated to the sight conservation program which supplies eye glasses for needy children.

Contributions to local drives amounted to $375. This included the March of Dimes, Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Beall High Music Department, Little League, Christmas lights and Maryland Singers.

The club also cooperated in the formation of Teen Town and donated five tables to the club for the youth of the community. Two uniforms for the Little Baseball League were purchased during the past season.

A walker was purchased for the Community Health Center at a cost of $68.75. The national "Lions Magazine" recently carried a photograph of this donation. In past years the Lions have purchased two wheel chairs for the center and a third chair is now on order.

"A Pennsylvania Lions Club is now in the process of studying the Mountain City plan of assisting the Health Center, so they may set up a similar plan," President Smith announced.

Proceeds from the Lions work came from the Rubinoff Concert, the Sample Fair, the Christmas tree sale, and light bulb project, for which Smith thanked the public for their support. The Lions collected $192.87 for the Salvation Army at Christmas time which helped to provide food baskets for the needy in the area.

James Sittig and Jonathan Jenkins were admitted to the Lions at their last meeting at Happy Hills Restaurant, bringing the total membership to 71.

LOGAN (AP)—A rock slide blocked a Chesapeake & Ohio Railway branch line near Gilbert early today.

At the C. & O. yards in nearby Peach Creek, a spokesman said 300 feet of track was damaged. The rails were pushed off the roadbed and partly onto secondary Rt. 80, limiting traffic on that highway to one-way.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

EUSTIS, Fla., Feb. 23 (INS)—A selfless doctor named George Speri Sperti, engaged in an almost sleepless quest of a cure for cancer, has become the new wonder of Florida's billion dollar citrus industry. For Dr. Sperti it is but a passing thing that provides more money for cancer research. For the industry it promises a shot in the arm comparable to the development of concentrated juices.

Americans just can't get enough oranges, grapefruit, lemons, limes, and tangerines. Florida alone will provide 110,000,000 boxes of oranges toward the enormous task of slaking the thirst and appetite (and vitamin needs) of the land during 1955, twice the pre-war output. The U. S. trend is always toward "make it easier."

About 65 per cent of all the oranges picked in Florida today go to the public in concentrate form. The concentrate process relieved the housewife of the job of squeezing the fresh fruit. But a great percentage of the flavor disappears in the process, though not as much as evaporates during the hot pasteurization of ordinary canned orange juice.

The goal of pickers and packers for many years has been a packaged juice that tastes freshly squeezed and will "keep" under ordinary refrigeration. Dr. Sperti found that process down a by-path in his search for a cancer cure.

The dedicated and youthful-looking Sperti, head of the famed Institutum Divi Thomae of Cincinnati and Palm Beach, research centers devoted to greater Catholic participation in the march of medical science, chose the X-ray as his first avenue into the baffling mystery of the causes and cures of cancer. Soon he was deep into the magic of the ultra violet rays' spectrum and the effect of those rays on the enzymes.

Enzymes are organic matter that cause milk to sour, and fruit, meat and vegetables to rot, and juices of all edibles to change taste when neglected. Deep-freezing retards the putrefying enzyme action. But not too many people own deep freeze appliances. For 20 years Dr. Sperti pursued this particular will o' the wisp in the broader picture of cancer research, and in time came across the combination of violet rays that will render food enzymes inert and keep them that way for several weeks at normal ice-box temperatures without a change in the product's taste.

General Foods gave him $300,000 for the process and a share in the profits of two sub-companies. Dr. Sperti gave and gives all this money to the institutum, as he gives every material product of his inventive genius. He could be one of the richest men in his field. Instead, he lives on what amounts to the salary of a clerk . . . or an industrious orange picker.

The institutum is the beneficiary of the money he is currently receiving from "Golden Gift," a comparatively small orange and grapefruit juice company at Eustis and Deland, Fla., which uses his irradiation process. Refrigerated trucks take the fresh-squeezed product to markets and dairies over the eastern half of the U. S. Few drops are more than three days away. The Sperti process holds the enzyme action at bay for at least three weeks, and sometimes more.

It retains the vitamin C content that fades in so many other treatments of that most volatile of berries, the orange, and improves the vitamin D content.

Divi Thomae's fundamental research scientists are now at work in 14 schools and hospitals, attacking cancer largely with funds derived from the public's taste for good orange juice. In time Israel will be contributing to that work, for it is becoming a licensed producer under the Sperti process, and the citrus trade is that nation's largest export business.

A happy figure in the picture is the grower. Because of Dr. Sperti, cancer hunter, he is more secure than ever. If he doesn't realize 15 per cent on his grove investment, he somehow goofed.

This is Brotherhood Week. Eric Johnson, president of the Motion picture Association of America, tells us: "We talk about building bridges of brotherhood around the world in answer to Communist pretensions, and that's a splendid vision. But brotherhood begins on a man to man basis here at home."

Lonaconing Officials Seek Use Of School

The Town of Lonaconing wants "authentic information" from the Allegany County Board of Commissioners concerning the possibility of using the old Jackson School building in Lonaconing.

Sara M. Schramm, city clerk of Lonaconing, sent a letter to the commissioners yesterday asking for clarification. She said that the Town of Lonaconing was informed verbally last August that the county commissioners desired to have the town use the building, last occupied as a school in June 1953.

However, the town has not yet received a lease for the building. The matter was referred to Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the county commissioners.

Swift & Company Marks Centennial

A century of progress in the food industry is being celebrated in Cumberland this year, C. W. Whetzel, manager of the local Swift & Company plant, announced yesterday.

The celebration, he said, will highlight the importance of the Cumberland area in the nation's food industry. The observance coincides with the year-long centennial celebration by Swift & Company.

Swift came to Cumberland in 1898, and has since grown to the point where its local expenditures in wages, supplies and other business costs add more than $175,000 a year to the economic life of the area, Whetzel said.

Russia Ogles Japan With Peace Move

Russia is now wooing Japan. When Moscow remained defiantly obstructive, Washington negotiated a Japanese peace treaty on its own initiative. Russia was invited to participate but declined. Now she proposes to make her own peace with Japan.

In Europe the key to Soviet policy is the Kremlin's desire to achieve direct or indirect control of Germany. In Asia its interest in Japan is almost as great. Now that Japan is again at peace with most of her former enemies, she is of course free to make any arrangements she wishes with Russia.

Russia has additional reasons for wanting a treaty now. Under the San Francisco treaty, Japan gave up all rights to the Kuriles and South Sakhalin —both promised to Russia at Yalta in return for her "help" in beating Japan—but Russia's right to them was not formally recognized.

The same treaty requires Japan to grant "substantially the same terms" to other nations with which she signs a peace treaty within three years. The three years expire on April 28.

Japan will have plenty of concessions to seek at the bargaining table. It will be interesting to see how many of them she gets, which will be a clue to the urgency of Soviet interest and to future Soviet plans. Japan wants United Nations membership, which has been blocked by Russia's veto.

Japan wants Shikotan and the Hobamai Islands back. Russia claims these islands—near which she recently shot down an American plane—belong to her as part of the Kuriles. She seized them and holds them today, but Japan and the United States agree she has no right to them.

Japan wants fishing rights, to seek salmon in the formerly Japanese streams of South Sakhalin, and other fish in the cold northern waters off Siberia. As an island nation, Japan is desperate for trade. Russia can offer concessions. But Russia cannot compete with the United States in providing other forms of economic aid, and there is no reason—if Washington plays its cards expertly—to fear that Japan will gravitate into the Soviet orb.

Indeed, Russia and Red China may have serious disagreements about Japan, an area in which both consider they have vital interests, and the United States should benefit in consequence. But conjecture as to the outcome of the Red campaign to woo Japan remains just that at the moment.

The Miscalculators

The miscalculations of statesmen are no different from the mistakes that any of us make. Statesmen are the same human beings that the rest of us are, except that they are supposed to be possessed of more information about important matters and a wider experience. It is not the possession of information that counts; it is the capacity to reason, to relate current material to the whole of human history, to grasp the impact of social forces and of psychological reactions to a pending matter that counts. Nations have been destroyed by the faulty judgment of those in power.

Of statesmen, it can only be said that some possess such judgment and some do not, and often history, distantly written, discovers the truth. Many of the calculations of European statesmen concerning their own and global affairs were influenced by their certainty that the United States would suffer a severe depression after World War II. Even as late as November 1953, "The Manchester Guardian," that palladium of British liberalism, published two articles on "Danger Signs of an American Slump."

The first article appeared on November 19, 1953, and here we are in the second month of 1955 and we ain't got no depression yet. Mr. Colin Clark said:

"The possible originating causes of depression—trifling or serious—in the American economy are now quite well understood by the ordinary well-informed man (though he may not be familiar with the economist's description of such causes as 'exogenous variables') . . ."

Well, the American people never quite understood what Mr. Clark's "ordinary well-informed man" knew, with the result that we passed through the year 1954 without going to the Devil. Perhaps it is our ignorance that saved us. We just did not know how badly off we were, so we did nothing to make ourselves worse off. We just went on producing goods and helping Europe, including Great Britain, as though nothing were the matter with us. We did not know that we were as sick as Colin Clark diagnosed us to be. It is sad, indeed, that we are so unconscious of our defects, but somehow the Lord takes care of us, as He does of pigeons and drunks. In a learned editorial, "The Manchester Guardian" comments on the views of American economists:

". . . They expect to see between three and four million unemployed at certain periods of next year. Their reasons are much the same that Mr. Clark puts forward. But all of them, so far as we know, differ from him in one crucial point. They are convinced that the government is able to take effective counter-action to prevent the recession from getting out of hand. This is where Mr. Clark makes his chief point. He admits that Washington has learned the lesson taught by Keynes—in a depression, you must spend, not retrench. But if they are Keynesians, they are not Keynesian enough . . ."

The truth of the matter is that the American consumer took care of the American market in 1954 and did rather well. It is true that the administration failed to balance the budget, to reduce the national debt or restore the value of the dollar as it has promised to do. But despite all that, we did not go broke and have, in fact, shouldered a heavier-than-ever budget, which while it has not yet passed Congress, will in one form or another. And General Motors has entered upon a larger production program than ever before.

This is what "The Manchester Guardian" says about us:

"Up and down that vast country, business people, farmers, and ordinary consumers have been looking over their shoulders almost constantly for the last five years. They are always torturing themselves to decide whether they have borrowed too much, bought too much stock, or committed themselves too far to be safe in the event of a set-back. Yet business men have not shown any intention so far of reducing their expenditure for new plant and equipment even in 1954, and consumers have behaved with complete confidence. It would need more than the absence of a new stimulus to thrust that prosperous nation into chaos."

Brother, if you have not been looking over your shoulder, you should have. There is no telling what ghost of a depression you might have seen during 1954!

U. S. Dismisses Charges Against Men Accused In Texas Wheat-Mixing Case

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—A peculiar thing happened down in Texas the other day. It was Saturday, February 12, and federal court seldom meets on Saturday. But a special prosecutor for Attorney General Brownell went into court in Houston and asked U. S. District Judge Ben Connally to dismiss criminal charges against five men indicted for secretly mixing frost-damaged Canadian wheat, graded as hog feed, with good government-owned American wheat, and then selling it as edible wheat.

They also had collected wheat subsidies from the U. S. government and were charged with defrauding Uncle Sam of $1,700,000.

Despite this, Attorney General Brownell ordered the indictments against the five men dropped. That there was clear guilt in the case, however, was shown by the fact that the company for which most of them worked, the Argentine Bunge Corporation, pleaded guilty and was fined $5,000.

A corporation, of course, cannot go to jail. Individuals can. And one of the individuals involved was E. H. Thornton Sr., whose son is now Gov. Allan Shivers' highway commissioner, his campaign manager for re-election, and is one of those closest to Shivers in the entire state of Texas.

C. K. Richards, the special prosecutor sent by Attorney General Brownell to dismiss the case on February 12, 1955, was the same prosecutor who had indicted the five men for Brownell on June 10, 1954. The reason he was in such a hurry and got the court to sit on Saturday was because trial was to start in a week.

Richards carefully carried out Brownell's orders but seemed unhappy about it.

"I have nothing more to say about this thing," he said as he left the court.

In Washington, however, it is known that Governor Shivers, the man who swung Texas for Ike, lunched at the white House shortly before the indictments were dismissed. Shivers refused to tell newsmen at the time what he had discussed with the President.

Justice Department and White House officials refused to comment on the nature of details of their conversation.

Kansas City Pattern

What happened in Galveston followed a pattern set only one month before in Kansas City when another special prosecutor for Attorney General Brownell, Earl A. Jinkinson, went into federal court and moved to dismiss a criminal case against Roy Roberts, close personal friend of Ike's and publisher of the Kansas City Star.

This motion to dismiss was made on Friday, January 14, the last court day before the criminal case was to start on Monday, January 17. The Houston motion to dismiss was made on Saturday before trial was to start the next week.

The Kansas City motion was also made shortly after Roy Roberts had called at the White House and after he had been entertained frequently at dinner there. He had also brought his attorney, Elton Marshall, to Washington for a series of conferences on December 12. Roberts was one of the first to urge that Ike run for president and one of his unofficial advisers during the campaign.

As in the Galveston case, the Justice Department proceeded criminally against the Kansas City Star as a corporation and against its advertising manager, Emil A. Sees. It had been known that Stanley Barnes, assistant attorney general in charge of the Anti-trust Division, which brought the Kansas City suit, had been pressured for some months to drop the entire Kansas City case but refused.

Texas Skulduggery

This writer happens to have been among the first to expose influence-peddling around the White House during the Truman administration. Therefore let's take a thorough look at what happened in Galveston to the father of Governor Shivers' close friend and the man who re-elected him last summer.

The records show that it was probably the most flagrant case of cheating the government on grain ever seen in the U.S.A.

"On foggy days," testified E. H. Thornton Sr. before a Senate Agriculture Subcommittee, "the windows of the elevator would be conveniently left open to permit moisture to enter the elevator, thereby increasing the weight of the wheat. This practice would inure to the benefit of the elevator as overages."

"Thornton admitted," reported the Senate committee, "that the elevator, during a five-year period, reaped a profit of over a million dollars on overages."

Elevator B was owned by the City of Galveston. It was managed by the father of Governor Shivers' close friend.

Thornton made no apology for cheating the government. On the other hand he complained that government inspection was too strict.

"Thornton testified," continued the Senate committee, "that Elevator B had too much federal inspection and disclosed that he had pleaded with the U. S. Department of Agriculture over a period of time for less supervision at Elevator B, and more inspection at other elevators.

"Other testimony convinced the subcommittee," reported the senators, "that there had been a woeful lack of inspection at Elevator B."

Hog Vs. Human Wheat

The senators went on to expose in great detail how the Bunge Corporation had shipped frost-damaged wheat into the U.S.A. from Canada, paying 13 cents less than the usual duty because it was "unfit for human consumption."

This damaged wheat was then sent to Elevator B at Galveston, where the Bunge people knew their friend, E. H. Thornton Sr. would mix it with good quality Commodity Credit wheat owned by the U. S. taxpayers. This mixed wheat was then sold as flour fit for human consumption, after which the Bunge Corporation collected a subsidy from the U. S. government under the international wheat agreement.

Thus the Argentine corporation profited three ways: on lower duty, by getting a share of U. S. government wheat stored in Elevator B under Thornton's supervision, and by the wheat subsidy. Yet the Bunge Corporation officials, with Thornton, had their indictments hurriedly dismissed a few hours before going to trial, while the corporation, which could not go to jail, pleaded guilty.

More shocking details on this amazing story will follow soon.

Democrats Described As Out To Buy The Electorate

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—There's an even more penetrating way to "share the wealth" as the late Huey Long phrased it, than the Democratic party leaders have thought of with their $20 cut in taxes for everybody. It's equally logical and it could mean an even bigger potential in vote getting.

Thus there are about 55,000,000 citizens with incomes under $5,000 a year. This is a sizeable number of voters and enough to win an election if they vote solely on selfish grounds.

A scheme could be devised to free this entire group from the payment of any federal taxes whatsoever. It would cost the Treasury of the United States $8.5 billions. But if demagoguery is to be the rule, then there's a simple way to make it up—just increase the taxes on the persons with incomes of $25,000 a year or more. They're paying $8.7 billions a year already. The addition of $8.5 billions in tax payments would, of course, virtually confiscate the incomes of the most thrifty and the most successful citizens. Confiscation, however, is the eventual goal of the Socialists, and the Democratic party is rapidly becoming the socialistic party in America anyway.

Carry Heaviest Burden

It so happens that there are about 800,000 taxpayers in this country whose incomes are $25,000 a year or over. They pay more in total taxes than do the 55,000,000 who have incomes under $5,000 a year. They are carrying the heaviest tax burden already.

If the "share the wealth" doctrine is to become dominant, it would mean the eventual destruction of incentive and a consequent drop in the incomes of all persons now earning incomes over $5,000 a year. The goal of communism —as well as of its twin brother, socialism—is to do away with the managerial class or so to weaken its spirit as to cause the whole private-enterprise system to collapse.

Union labor, which has thrived under the system of risk capital, would not be able to get the increases in wages or pension benefits now enjoyed if the management class in America were wiped out as it has been in Soviet Russia or in countries where state capitalism is in vogue.

Democrats Abandon Pledges

It is a paradox that the labor-union leaders in America have lined themselves up politically with the Democratic party, whose latest program confirms a suspicion that the party is bent on impairing the very economic system that has benefitted labor so widely. But the rank and file of the workers do not have much to say about the political maneuvers of the labor bosses. Their dues, which are supposed to be used for union benefits, are applied to pay big salaries to executives of the unions who spend a large part of their time in political activities.

Also, by the use of the compulsory unionization law, the union bosses hold the power of economic life or death over the worker and, unless he goes along with the political-campaign programs, even though they lead to socialistic ends, the ordinary union member can lose his job as a punishment for failing to conform.

The Democratic party in the last election said through its leaders that it would support the President and promised also to favor policies of fiscal soundness. But the Democratic-controlled Congress has been here less than two months, and it is becoming crystal clear that such campaign pledges have already been abandoned.

A pattern of strategy is emerging. The Democratic leaders favor more and more spending — more billions for all kinds of socialistic adventures, including a program of government-owned electric-light-and-power projects. They also favor more and more exemptions from taxation for the maximum number of voters. Both approaches, while contradictory from any standpoint of fiscal soundness, mean a budget unbalanced by a wide margin. Then the Democratic party spokesmen will claim that the Eisenhower administration has failed to balance the budget as promised in 1952.

Deceptive Compaigning

It is beginning to look as if the 1954 election was very costly to the American people because it was influenced by the most deceptive piece of campaigning that the country has ever witnessed. The Democratic argument was that a depression was coming and that the number of unemployed would increase. It turns out now that the mild recession was short-lived and that business is booming because, in making 1955 plans, business men have had confidence in the fiscal policies of the Eisenhower administration. They expanded facilities after making a remarkable adjustment to the post-Korean War shrinkages in government spending.

If, however, the budget is to be heavily unbalanced and the Democratic party in Congress—which never balanced a budget in 20 years—is to continue in power after the next election, the country will experience a real inflation. That would come from a rapid increase in the cost of living and a severe drop in the purchasing power of the dollar. That threat apparently has no terrors for the Democrats, who are out to win in 1956 by what Representative Daniel Reed of New York, a veteran member of Congress, describes as a scheme for buying the electorate. It remains to be seen whether the electorate can be bought by a $20 tax cut per voter, and whether socialism, as offered by the Democratic party leadership, is going to be accepted in preference to a sound dollar and a system of private enterprise.

Baering Down On The News

Cecil DeMille is tailoring for the Air Force out at the Flying Academy. Remember when Earl Carroll designed the smocks for the New Yo k state troopers?

The boys were as snappy as bon-bons and as well-drilled as oil wells in Texas.

The cloud college at Colorado Springs is the West Point of the Air. It is also an upstairs Annapolis.

We're glad Cecil is sprucing up the jet videttes. Back here in New York we just lost our police glee club and band. The lads still have their whistles. And can beat time with their nightsticks on Staten Island sidewalks.

Our brave firemen have also been reduced to hook, ladder and glockenspiel. That makes us look to DeMille to bring back the glamor in uniforms. They buzz us the airmen will look like retir d British kernels of the old Indian army. The old boys who bagged their lion and their eyes.

Cecil hasn't released his trailers yet .There will be no high hats in the mess lines but trousers will be short, the waist line loaded, necks long and pup tents pleated. Opening at Grauman's Chinese.

What Mao Said

By Joseph Alsop

TAIPEI, Formosa

The Chinese Communist government has sent another solemn warning, through diplomatic channels, of their determination to conquer Formosa at all costs.

This time, it can also be disclosed, the warning was sounded by Mao Tse-tung in person. And Mao spoke when the Formosa resolution and the strengthened American guarantees of this island were already staring him in the face.

For these two reasons, this latest incident has even greater significance than the previous Chinese Communist boasts that they would conquer Formosa this year, which were made to Burmese and Ceylonese leaders before American policy was so clear. Taken together with these earlier boasts, the new warning by Mao Tse-tung himself makes a pattern. Whether or not they are bluffing, the Peking bosses are doing everything possible to show they mean business.

The recipient of the new warning was Finland's ambassador to Peking, Karl Sundstrom. The Finns evidently are regarded in Peking as valuable diplomatic speaking tubes, for on January 6, Chou En-lai also had his word to say to them.

Fragment Of Pattern

The Chinese premier appeared at an official party honoring Finland's National Day, and took this rather curious opportunity to make a speech to Peking's assembled diplomatic colony. Chou En-lai's speech was another fragment in the pattern already mentioned — a vehement declaration that Formosa had to be and would be added to the Chinese Communist empire.

Shortly thereafter, the Finnish legation was elevated to the status of an embassy and the new ambassador presented his letters of credence on January 28. He was then received by Mao Tse-tung. And what should have been a routine diplomatic occasion was transformed into a major political episode, when Mao took Sundstrom aside to discuss the Formosa problem.

What Mao said, according to authentic report, was marked by the same intransigence that the Chinese Communists have been showing in all they say on this topic. At considerable length and with maximum emphasis Mao developed the theme that nothing could alter his intention to conquer Formosa. He defied the American guarantee. He ridiculed the idea of a ceasefire deal. In short Mao said the Communists meant to have Formosa, come hell or high water.

As though to give added point to Mao's remarks, there is important news of troop movements on the mainland. The picture of 10 days ago is changing. No longer is the reinforcement of the Chinese Communist armies along the coast confined to the Yangtse river delta region, across the water from the Tachen Islands.

Significant Reinforcement

The most significant kind of reinforcement, which is a movement of Korea trained units equipped up to the high standard of the Chinese armies in Korea, has now been noted in Fukien Province. Two additional divisions from the special Korean category have entered this area which directly threatens Quemoy and the Matsus.

It will still be some time before the Fukien airfields can provide the right kind of air cover for operations in the Formosa strait. But this movement of two veteran divisions — an almost sufficient force, in themselves, for an attack on the rather lightly held Matsu Islands — is still a sign that cannot be wisely ignored.

What then is really behind these troop movements and these menaces? No one can say with certainty. But one thing is very certain, as is proven by the experience of Ambassador Sundstrom.

Finland, after all, has the strongest Western sympathies despite the careful neutrality that geography imposes on her. When Mao Tse-tung chose the Finnish ambassador to receive his startling confidences, he surely did so with the expectation that what he said to Sundstrom would eventually be heard in the chanceries of the Western powers. And so it has been, causing no small fluttering in these diplomatic dovecotes.

The truth seems to be that the Chinese Communist leaders are carrying on a carefully calculated war of nerves, which is all the more effective because the most significant maneuvers are made under the impressive guise of diplomatic exchanges.

Nearly All Victims Of Rose Rash Are Under 2½ Years

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Some conditions are so mild and unimportant, physicians hesitate to call them a disease. Rose rash (exanthema subitum) belongs in this category and there is doubt whether it should be classified as a typical form of grippe, measles, scarlet fever, or German measles.

The nature of questionable disorders like this usually is determined in time but 40 years have elapsed since exanthema subitum was first described and no progress has been made since then.

Practically all victims are under 2½ years of age. The onset is abrupt, with sudden fever and extreme restlessness. The tyke is irritable, refuses food, and is obviously ill. More than half the youngsters have a convulsion or two and are sick enough to warrant hospital care. The throat is red and tonsils are enlarged.

At first the tot seems to be coming down with a cold, tonsilitis, or a contagious disease. By the end of the third day, however, fever subsides, the child feels better, and everyone is happy.

Suddenly the clue appears in the form of a rash. The lesions start on the neck and trunk and spread over the entire body. The skin of the nose and cheeks is the only part that escapes. The outbreak resembles measles and consists of hundreds of pale or rosy red spots.

By the following morning the rash begins to fade and soon disappears entirely. Hindsight helps in making the diagnosis. But no harm is done by the delay in recognizing the disorder as there are no complications and complete healing is the rule.

The cause is not known although a virus is suspected. The disorder is contagious because epidemics occur occasionally. The reason why diagnosis is important—even when delayed—is because exanthema might be confused with measles, rubella, encephalitis, or other disturbances it mimics.

Treatment is unnecessary except when convulsions occur. This complication may require the use of calcium or one of the sedatives, such as pentobarbital.

Aspirin helps reduce fever and one of the antibiotics may be started when the initial symptoms are severe and bronchopneumonia is suspected. But the wonder drugs have little effect because exanthema subsides on the third day, whether or not these products are used.

Worried parents may be consoled by knowing that when the rash breaks out, the worst is over and the little one is on the mend. Second attacks have not been reported.

No one knows the cause of this phenomenon, which occurs every now and then. Occasionally the grandmother-to-be suffers from morning sickness during her daughter's term of pregnancy.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

A conservative old couple from Garden City, L. I., decided to take a trip all the way to the Pacific Coast. Harry Maule, a neighbor from the publishing world, told them. "You can't afford to miss the Grand Canyon. Be sure you include it in your itinerary."

"I guess not," responded the wanderer. "Mom and I decided we don't need to see that canyon. We were up at Niagara Falls, you know, some years back, and we figure if you've seen one of those places, you've seen 'em all!"

Junior was reluctant, to say the least, to leave his big, luxurious home and go to prep school. "Write us every day for a while," suggested his mother. "It may make you feel less alone and homesick."

He sent his first letter two hours after he had hit the school grounds. "There are 590 boys here this term," he reported, "and how I wish there were 589."

Roe Decides Not To Hurl

Orioles Pitcher Says He's Retired

BALTIMORE, Feb. 23 (AP) — Preacher Roe, veteran Brooklyn Dodger pitcher who will be 37 Saturday, disclosed tonight he definitely has decided to retire from baseball and will not play for Baltimore this season.

Roe revealed his not-unexpected decision, in a telephone conversation with Sportswriter Bob Maisel of the Baltimore Sun.

"This is no spur of the moment decision," said Preacher, reached at his West Plains, Mo., home. "I kept telling them all last summer at Brooklyn that it was my last year. And then after the season I told them I wasn't going to play anymore.

"It's just too much of a grind for me to get in shape and pitch," said the pitcher who four seasons ago won 22 and lost only 3 games for the Dodgers.

The Dodgers sold Roe to the Orioles, along with Billy Cox for a reported $70,000 last Dec. 14. In addition to the cash, the Orioles also sent pitcher John Jancse and infielder Harry Schwegman from their San Antonio farm club to Brooklyn's Fort Worth team.

Baseball Briefs

OAKLAND, Calif., Feb. 23 (AP)—Veteran outfielder Sam Chapman announced his retirement from baseball today.

Chapman, 37, played with two major league teams and the Pacific Coast League Oakland Oaks during his 17-year career.

He went directly to the Philadelphia Athletics from the University of California campus in June, 1938. He shifted to Cleveland just before coming to Oakland in 1952.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 23 (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies announced today they had signed Jimmy Coker, 19-year-old catcher of Holly Hills, S. C., to a farm club contract. He is being assigned to Reidsville of the Carolina League.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 23 (AP)—Pitcher Joe Presko agreed to terms today with the St. Louis Cardinals, leaving only catcher Del Rice and a "missing" rookie pitcher still unsigned.

The Cardinals said Presko, who had been asked to take a cut in salary, agreed to terms in a telephone conversation with Cardinal Vice President Bill Walsingham. Presko had a 4-9 won-lost record last year.

Rice, who lost his first-string catching job to Bill Sarni after he was injured last season, has balked at taking a pay cut.

And the Cardinals reported they have been unable to locate Tony Jacobs, a relief pitcher who won 13 and lost only 1 with Rochester of the International League last year.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 23 (AP) — Shortstop Dick Groat, recently discharged from the Army after a two-year stint, today signed his 1955 contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Groat, one-time basketball star at Duke University, was a standout in his rookie year with the Pirates in 1952, batting .284 and fielding in stellar fashion.

The 24-year-old Swissvale, Pa., resident came to terms after a brief conference with Branch Rickey Jr., a vice president of the club. Salary was not disclosed.

Only two Pirates are unsigned, outfielder Frank Thomas and pitcher Vernon Law.

CLEARWATER, Fla., Feb. 23 (AP) —The Philadelphia Phillies today signed infielder Granny Hamner for a reported $28,500 and announced he would hold down the shortstop spot this season.

Tennis Moguls Hopeful That Mo Will Return

Queen Of Net Game Announced Retirement

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Feb. 23 (AP)—Uncle Sam's tennis brass refused to take too much stock today in Maureen Connolly's retirement announcement—they think she'll be back.

"I believe this is just temporary," said Lawrence Baker, a leading figure in the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association. "She'll take a year off for her marriage and then we'll be seeing her on the courts again, I'm sure."

"The champions always come back," commented USLTA Secretary Ed Baker. "I don't believe Little Mo will be able to resist the urge to compete again."

Little Mo, at 20 winner of three national and three Wimbledon titles and recognized queen of the world's courts, surprised friends with the announcement yesterday she is through with tournament tennis.

She said she didn't have the "keen interest" any more, that her injured right leg is still giving her trouble and, besides, she is going to marry Norman Brinker in June.

However, she hinted she may be lured back some time later after she is well settled in domestic life.

Mrs. William Kalt, for 20 years head of the USLTA's women's tennis ranking committee, said she felt Little Mo's retirement was more the result of her accident than her wedding plans.

Miss Connolly hurt her right leg in a horse riding accident last July, which prevented the defense of her U.S. title, and she said she was not satisfied with the way the injury was responding to practice.

"Miss Connolly's game is built to a large extent on her remarkable speed of foot," Mrs. Kalt said. I don't think she would attempt a comeback until she is sure she is 100 per cent all right.

"If I were to analyze Maureen's game I think I would call the strong points her speed of foot, intense concentration and fierce competitive spirit."

Gavilan Upset By Constance

Trinidad Youth Wins Unanimous Decision

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 23 (AP) —Hector Constance, a tough young sharpshooter from Trinidad, knocked Kid Gavilan off the comeback trail tonight with a unanimous decision over the ex-welterweight champion.

Gavilan's defeat by the ninth-ranking contender may have ruined the once-great champion's hopes of beating his way back to the title he lost Oct. 20 to Johnny Saxton in Philadelphia.

It was a close fight from start to finish. Referee Cy Gottfried gave Constance, the 9-5 underdog, a margin of 96-95.

Judge Gus Jacobson voted it 97-95 and Judge Morris Feingold 99-97. The Associated Press gave Constance a 97-96 edge.

Terps To Drop Boxing Sport

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Feb. 23 (AP)—The University of Maryland, which will be host to the Eastern Intercollegiate Boxing Tournament March 11 and 12, announced today it will drop boxing as a sport at the end of the season.

Coach Frank Cronin said schedule difficulties, the same reason advanced by Army recently, made it necessary to throw in the towel.

"I am sorry to see boxing go," Cronin said. "With the teams dwindling in the East, we would have to go to the Midwest, Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast areas for opponents. Travel costs are prohibitive."

Maryland, which has a 2-3-1 record so far this season, entertains Syracuse Saturday in a rematch and travels to Virginia next week for the regular season finale.

Best Golfers Seek $30,000 Houston Prize

Open Begins Today With 150 Entries

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 23 (AP) — The nation's top golfers tackle the longest course on the winter tour tomorrow in the first round of the $30,000 Houston Open.

Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis dentist who has won the tournament twice, again is a top favorite to grab the $6,000 first prize, the richest jackpot on the winter tour.

Grouped with Middlecoff, however, are several other long drivers who should gain advantage from the wide fairways on the 7,200-yard, par 72 Memorial Park course.

These include Dave Douglas, the defending champion, and two hometown favorites, Jack Burke Jr. and Tommy Bolt. Others include Gene Littler, recent winner at Los Angeles and Phoenix, and Mike Souchak, who collected his first big championship last Sunday by winning the Texas Open at San Antonio.

Officials of the sponsoring Houston Golf Assn. nervously watched weather reports as the approximately 150 pros and amateurs took their final practice rounds. The severest cold wave of the season had been predicted to arrive here tomorrow afternoon. Late reports indicated however, the full force of the cold wave might not reach the Texas Gulf Coast.

Middlecoff, rejoining the tour after a two-week rest, won the Houston Tournament in 1950 and 1953 and was runnerup in 1949 and 1954. Last year he trailed by two strokes as Douglas recorded the fifth 72-hole 277 winning score in the history of the 7-year-old tournament.

Bolt apparently has recovered from an illness that knocked him out of the Texas Open after having won at San Diego and Tucson. Littler, the season's top money winner, is the only other double winner for the first eight tournaments of 1955.

Morris Harvey Five, Glenville, Concord Win WVIAC Tilts

BUCKHANNON, W. Va., Feb. 23 (AP)—Morris Harvey managed to get past West Liberty 74-67 tonight to join other first-round winners in the State Conference tournament here.

Earlier today Glenville drubbed Beckley 104-74, and Concord upended Salem, 79-73. Tonight's additional game between West Virginia Tech and Davis and Elkins completes first-round action and the quarter finals start tomorrow.

Men's Shuffle Teams To Play Six Matches

Six matches are on tap in the Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League tonight.

Fisher & Robinette, leading the league by the comfortable margin of seven games, takes on the Redmen in the latter's wigwam.

The runner-up Cumberland Knights of Columbus swing into action Friday night when they visit the Woodmen of the World.

VMI Is Favored In Swim Meet

DAVIDSON, N.C., Feb. 23 (AP) — Virginia Military Institute will be an odds-on favorite to win the Southern Conference swimming championship starting here tomorrow night.

The Keydets won the championship last year held in the Virginia Tech pool, taking 11 individual titles and the diving championship for a total of 178 points.

More than 80 swimmers are entered with teams from VMI, VPI, Washington and Lee, Davidson, The Citadel and West Virginia.

Finals are scheduled Friday night and Saturday afternoon.

Blackwell Demanding New Pact Or Release By Yanks

"The Whip" Says He Is Able To Pitch

NEW LSU COACH — Army line coach Paul F. Dietzel, 30, is the new head football coach at Louisiana State University, succeeding Gaynell Tinsley, who was fired. Dietzel was a former star gridder at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and a bomber pilot during the war. (International)

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 23 (AP)—Ewell Blackwell said today he will appeal to Commissioner Ford Frick if the New York Yankees don't give him a contract or his unconditional release.

Asserting he still is the property of the Yankees, the former National League pitching great, harassed by recurring arm trouble, said:

"The Yankees refused to give me a contract last year.

"If they don't want me to play, why don't they release me from my contract. I think I can pitch again. If not with the Yanks, with some other club. I know I can pitch in the Pacific Coast League. I'd love to pitch there."

The righthander, acquired by the Yanks from the Cincinnati Reds in August 1952 for a bundle of cash and four players, developed a sore arm the following year and retired from baseball last spring after the arm failed to respond. In 1947, at the height of his career he won 22 games, 16 of them in a row.

Currently a liquor salesman in Tampa, Blackie said he was eager to come out of retirement but complained the Yankees have lost interest in him. He insisted his arm was sound again and his health, which held back what promised to be a brilliant pitching career, now is perfect.

During a brief rest before embarking for the back nine holes in the ball players' golf tournament at the Tampa Golf and Country Club, the former no run, no-hit ace, spoke bitterly of his relations with the ex-world champions.

Blackwell said he wrote several letters to George Weiss, the Yanks' general manager, last summer asking for his release but was refused.

"Weiss wrote back that the Yankees couldn't release me because they had too much money invested in me," he said. "As if that was my fault."

He then requested and received permission to pitch in the Dominican Republic, in an outlaw league.

"I did all right there," Blackwell said. "I won five games and lost only one. That convinced me my arm was all right again but apparently the Yankees don't believe me. They still refuse to either give me a contract or release me."

Queen Margie, breaking from the game inside post position used by Well Marked, won the second division under Jockey Jimmy Nichols, covering the three furlong straightaway course in :32 4/5, only a fifth of a second slower than the record set by Make Swing on this same date in 1949.

Hercules Sets Rifle Record

Fort Hill Gunners Score Over LaVale

WESTERN MD. RIFLE LEAGUE Team Standings

	W.	L.	Pct.
Hercules	9	3	.750
Fort Hill	8	4	.667
Mountain Top	7	5	.583
LaVale	0	12	.000

Hercules and Fort Hill copped wins in the Western Maryland League's twelfth smallbore rifle match fired Sunday afternoon at Bowman's Addition and Oakland.

High-powered Hercules gunners set an all-time four position League team mark as they swamped Mountain Top, 1156 to 1128. Jim Grosh's 292 points topped the winners on the local range. The Mountain Toppers were sparked by Bob Cain's 286 markers at the Oakland National Guard Armory.

Fort Hill stopped LaVale, 1134 to 1096, at Bowman's Addition. Norm White's 290 headed the victors, and LaVale was paced by Leo Ford's 277.

Match No. 13 will be fired next Sunday at both ranges and will feature a change in the program providing for ten shots in each of the four positions for a total of 400 points possible instead of the previous 300.

St. Michael's Plays Crucial Game With St. Peter's Tonight

The Catholic Youth League lowers the curtain on its regular schedule tonight and the chief interest of its followers is in the outcome of the game between St. Peter's and St. Michael's of Frostburg on the Bruce High School court, Westernport, at 7:30 o'clock.

St. Michael's is tied with SS. Peter and Paul for first place, each team owning 7-2 records, but a St. Michael's defeat at the hands of St. Peter's would keep "Tubby" Small's quint in the running for the second half title. If Frostburg wins and SS. Peter and Paul defeats Mt. Savage, which has won only one of 19 games this season, the race will end in a tie, thus necessitating a playoff for second half honors. SS. Peter and Paul finished on top in the first half.

The game in Westernport is of particular interest in view of the fact that St. Peter's holds two decisions over the Frostburg quint, 40-38 and 69-65, while losing 37-32.

If St. Peter's wins it has a chance to tie SS. Peter and Paul for first place and to do that must down St. Patrick's of Cumberland in the playoff of a protested game.

St. Patrick's plays at St. Mary's and Mt. Savage meets SS. Peter and Paul on the latter's floor in tonight's games here at 7:30 o'clock.

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, Feb. 23—(INS)—You were duly warned what to expect when Ezzard Charles went to work on Charley Norkus, one of the four so-called contenders for Rocky Marciano's heavyweight title.

And you are herewith doubly and triply warned to expect an even worse farce when Marciano is matched with England's Don Cockell.

Jack Solomons, the Jim Norris of the British Isles, is due here Thursday with Cockell in tow and shortly thereafter Cockell is slated to sign up for the title shot with Marciano.

It is expected that this thing will be wished on San Francisco, a grand town which deserves a better fate. Maybe Norris and Solomons want to get San Franciscans in shape to stand more punishment listening to politicos at the convention next year.

You are going to read some of the most unadulterated tripe in connection with this alleged fight that ever a press agent put out.

Herewith is some of the tripe the press agents will try to shove down your throat: Cockell is a beautiful boxer and he is likely to bust up Marciano's "vulnerable" nose and the fight may have to be stopped.

Again, because of that nose—so badly cut by Charles—Rocky will be gun shy and maybe afraid to leave himself open while throwing haymakers.

Of course, the powers that be will have to explain how it happened that a mere middleweight like Randy Turpin and a very poor light heavyweight like Jimmy Slade could knock out Cockell.

That will be glossed over by saying Cockell was weakened by taking off too much weight, but now that he is big and suety, he is a roaring tiger.

The overall scheme will be to play down Marciano and play up Cockell.

The four "worthy contenders" as the announcers have it were Cockell, Nino Valdes, Norkus and Archie Moore. Ezzard Charles eliminated Norkus with ease, as he would eliminate the others, if given a chance. Valdes, no bargain he, will be saved for a later shot and Moore, twice decisioned and once knocked out by Charles, will have to wait his turn.

Charles actually is the second best heavyweight around but since he was beaten twice by Marciano we doubt that he will get another chance.

Meanwhile, Sandy Saddler, at long last will defend his feather title against Red Top Davis, who has lost 47 battles, 15 of them in one, 1948.

Gov. Marland Withdraws Nomination

Drops Poling From Liquor Commission

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 23 (AP) — Gov. William C. Marland changed his mind today and notified the Senate he was withdrawing the nomination of 63-year-old Clyde Poling to continue on the State Liquor Control Commission.

Poling has served on the comission since 1949. His name was on the list which Marland sent up for confirmation by the Senate several weeks ago.

The governor advised Poling this morning that he was making a substitute, and when the Senate convened at 2 p.m. the formal notification was read in that chamber by the clerk.

Marland said that a substitute nomination for the Republican minority position on the three-man control commission would be submitted later.

The Senate has scheduled a secret meeting tomorrow after the regulation session to act upon executive appointments.

Poling declined comment on the development, other than to confirm that he had talked with the governor by telephone earlier today.

Poling said nothing was mentioned specifically as far as his being fired or his resigning was concerned, but added the governor told him he was withdrawing Poling's name from the list.

Poling was on the list for confirmation for a term to end Feb. 28, 1958.

W. Va. Gas Tax Bill For Roads Hits New Snag

Secondary Road Amendment Proposed

By HERB LITTLE

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 23 (AP)—Del. Davis (D-Kanawha) tried a new tactic today in his effort to have part of the income from a proposed gasoline tax increase applied to the bonded debt on secondary roads.

His maneuver took the form of an amendment to a bill which is a companion measure of the 2-cent gasoline tax increase approved by the House yesterday.

The tax measure, which now goes to the Senate, would raise the tax on gasoline and diesel fuel from five to seven cents a gallon. Half of the proceeds from the increase would be earmarked for "construction and reconstruction" of secondary roads.

At amendment stage in the House today was the companion measure spelling out on a percentage basis each county's share of the earmarked local road fund. It has been estimated the total amount earmarked for local roads would average about five million dollars a year.

Davis, a former majority leader, submitted today an amendment to apply part of the dedicated money to retirement of bonds still outstanding from the 50 million dollar issue voted in 1948 for secondary roads.

His amendment would bar any allocations to counties until enough money had first been set aside to pay one-half of all current and past due principal and interest under the 50 million dollar issue. The present debt under the issue is approximately $39,800,000.

Davis told reporters that, at the rate at which the bonds fall due, his amendment would take some $1,900,000 a year for that purpose.

Primary road funds at present are the source of money for debt service on outstanding bonds for both primary and secondary road purposes. Davis said the combined debt requirement is about 11 million dollars a year.

He was unsuccessful Monday in an effort to have the gasoline tax bill dedicate the earmarked one cent to secondary road bond retirement.

A bill which would establish by law the dates for squirrel hunting seasons now set by the conservation director was passed by the House, 63-35. It now goes to the Senate.

Split seasons of two weeks each would begin on Sept. 15 and Nov. 11. A similar bill passed the House in 1953, but was not acted upon by the Senate.

Interest Mounts In Keyser's Sample Fair And Farm Show

KEYSER — Interest is mounting in the coming Ham, Bacon and Egg Show and the Sample Fair, to be sponsored by the Keyser Kiwanis Club in the Keyser City Fire Hall on March 14 and 15. The Ham, Bacon and Egg show is an annual production by the Future Farmers of America clubs in the five-county area of Pendleton, Grant, Hardy, Hampshire and Mineral counties, and the sponsoring Kiwanians.

The planning has been carried on for several weeks in setting the stage for the presentation, and there is every indication that this will not only be an outstanding show, but one of merit showing an accomplishment that will be pleasing to the city and rural citizens. Already 22 businesses and industries have been accepted for the Sample Fair phase of the combined program.

The Kiwanis committee on Sample Fair exhibits reports that only two booths remain available for potential exhibitors.

The list of door prizes is growing steadily, and it is the expectation that a prize will be awarded to some person every five minutes that the show is open. Donald Heare is chairman of the committee on prizes.

The Kiwanis committee has placed table place mats in restaurants all through the five-county area and has issued automobile bumper stickers, showing the title of the fair and Bacon-Ham and Egg Show and Auction together with the dates, place, etc.

An acre of good farm land will provide forage for a dozen young pigs and the necessary breeding stock.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 23—(INS)—Edmund Grainger's choice for the lead in Robert Hardy Andrews' novel, "Great Day In The Morning" is Richard Burton.

Well, Burton is the choice of many producers these days. However, Grainger, who heads the Edmund Grainger Productions, has started negotiations with the British actor.

June first is the starting date with locations in Denver, and this is the second of the Edmund Grainger Productions, an independent company releasing through RKO. The first is "Treasure Of Pancho Villa" and James Street's "Oh, Promised Land," starring Alan Ladd is the third.

After a week of rest in Honolulu with Jennifer Jones, David Selznick comes to the coast. He said that he will be working with Ben Hecht on the first film that he is making for MGM, although said David, "I have not made a decision on what it will be."

Jennifer is enroute from Hong Kong, where she made "A Many Splendored Thing" with William Holden.

Speaking of Ben Hecht, he has written "Not For Money" for J. Arthur Rank. Katharine Hepburn is now reading the script.

Anita Ekberg, pretty blonde Swedish actress, will have $100,000 spent on exploiting her by the Wayne-Fellows Company.

This includes dramatic coaching, new wardrobe and publicity pictures to put her over. This is all extra special and aside from renewing her contract for another year.

The wolf whistles are loud and lusty whenever Anita appears on the scene, but her chance with the Wayne-Fellows Company is really her first opportunity of any importance.

Visiting on my street are Dr. Charles and Alice Mayo, of Mayo Clinic fame. They are the house guests of Dr. and Mrs. Marc Rabwin.

Dr. Charlie was appointed to the United Nations by President Eisenhower, and now divides his time between Washington and Rochester, Minnesota, where the famous Mayo Clinic is located.

The Rabwins will take the Mayos, who have never been to Palm Springs, there for a weekend at the El Mirador.

When I was in Rochester I saw a great deal of the Mayos. Alice then had her own radio show, and Dr. Charlie was working hard at St. Mary's Hospital and all the other Mayo Clinics.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Marlon Brando and Rita Moreno—yes, you heard me—were a dinner duo.

Johnny Silver, Broadway actor playing Johnny Southwest in "Guys And Dolls," and his wife are expecting a baby.

Rosalind Courtright, back in town, leaves for Europe April 15 to open in London. In answer to the reports that she's marrying Ben H. Silberstein, new owner of the Beverly Hills Hotel, the lady says she has no plans.

Peter Fairchild and Katherine Machris will marry in Las Vegas over the weekend. Their engagement was announced last week.

Duke Wayne has promised Pilar that when he finishes "Blood Alley" he'll go to Peru to meet her relatives in Lima, for the first time. He certainly should take a rest after he finishes this picture.

Dana Andrews says the $30 earned by his two daughters for their bit work in "Strange Lady In Town" has already cost him more than $20 in accountants fees on his income tax. Maybe he'd better pay the salaries himself next time.

Jack Palance surprised everyone on "The Jagged Edge" set at Warners by talking fluently in Polish to Lisa Mortell, Polish actress, who paid a visit to her boyfriend, Perry Lopez.

Gigi Perreau says it's the third time that Fred MacMurray has been her father, and the second time that Joan Bennett has been her mother in "There's Always Tomorrow."

Fred Clark, back from New York, reports to 20th next Monday for "How To Be Very, Very Popular."

Marguerite Piazza's act at the Cocoanut Grove has been a sensation, and now she's signed by Jack Entratter for two weeks at the Las Vegas Sands starting March 16. And, at the Desert Inn in Las Vegas, Wilbur Clark gets Noel Coward beginning Tuesday, June 7.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

A BAD ALIBI

IT IS all very fine to "place key cards where they figure to be because of an opposing bid," but that is never a sound alibi when the declarer could have used a safety play.

North dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

	♠ 8 4 3 ♥ K 10 9 ♦ A K 5 ♣ A J 10 8
♠ A Q J 10 7 ♥ 5 3 ♦ Q J 9 2 ♣ 7 4	N W E S	♠ 9 6 ♥ 7 2 ♦ 10 8 7 4 ♣ K 6 5 3 2
	♠ K 5 2 ♥ A Q J 8 6 4 ♦ 6 3 ♣ Q 9

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♥	1 ♠
2 ♥	Pass	4 ♥ (final bid)

West opened the queen of diamonds, and when South saw the dummy he announced his regret that he hadn't bid a slam. Taking the first trick, he drew the outstanding trumps and then confidently finessed the queen of clubs through West. He was horrified when East took the trick and returned the nine of spades—and down South went.

It was highly superficial analysis on South's part that placed West so surely with the club king because of his vulnerable spade bid. West's overcall was perfectly correct without the club king, and in any case it was up to South to protect himself if he could.

Full protection in this hand consisted of letting West hold the first trick with the diamond queen. Observe the effect. West can do no better than continue diamonds. Now South draws two rounds of trump, discards a club on dummy's second diamond honor, cashes the club ace and then leads the club jack through East for the safe ruffing-finesse. (If East covers the club jack, South ruffs, goes back to the table with a trump, and discards two spades on the 10-8 of clubs. If East plays low on the club jack, South discards a spade then and there, and continues with the club ten. This method of handling the club suit is called an "avoidance play"—i.e., it avoids the possibility that the dangerous hand, East in this case, will gain the lead.)

If the contract had been six hearts, or even if the hand had occurred at match-point play, South's club finesse through West would have been sound, but at rubber bridge, with overtricks inconsequential, the described safety play was a must.

Hazelwood Firm Bids $1,513,440 For New School

Board Decision May Hinge On Alternates

The George F. Hazelwood Company submitted the low overall base bid of $1,513,440 for construction of a new Bruce High School on Philos Avenue Extended at the edge of Westernport when bids were opened by the Allegany County Board of Education yesterday afternoon.

However, the board took the bids under advisement to determine what alternates might be accepted and whether any combination of other bids and alternates might be lower than the Hazelwood proposal.

It had been anticipated that about half of the $3,500,000 allocated in the current school construction program in 1953 would go for the new school at Westernport. That figure would include all equipment and other additional costs.

Six general contractors, three plumbing and heating contractors and two electrical contractors from Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania submitted bids to the board. Between 30 and 40 persons, including a Westernport delegation, were on hand as Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster opened the bids and turned them over to Kenneth R. Malcolm, board president, for his examination.

Three Complete Bids

Three contractors submitted bids covering the general contract, the plumbing, heating and ventilation contract and the electrical contract. Besides Hazelwood's proposal there was one for $1,675,000 from W. Harley Miller, Martinsburg, W.Va., and $1,768,000 from Moyer Brothers Construction Company, Altoona, Pa.

Each general contractor submitted a base bid and prices on two alternates. The first alternate covered use of asphalt tile instead of a plastic material. The second covered the seeding and sodding of the school grounds after the job is finished.

The general contractors' bids, including the two alternates:

Southeastern Construction Company, Charleston, W.Va., $1,058,000, deduct $10,000 on first alternate, add $28,500 on second alternate; John I. Vandegrift Company, this city, $1,064,900, deduct $12,800 on first alternate, add $18,800 on second alternate; Hazelwood, $1,092,000, deduct $10,500 on first alternate, add $34,300 on second alternate.

George Construction Company, $1,153,160, deduct $10,600 on first alternate, add $38 680 on second alternate; Miller, $1,175,000, deduct $12,000 on first alternate, add $23,900 on second alternate; Moyer, $1,283,000, deduct $11,000 on first alternate, add $18,000 on second alternate.

Four Plumbing Bids

There were four bids submitted on the plumbing, heating and ventilating contract. They were H&S Heating and Plumbing Company, this city, $335,151; Walter N. Yoder, McMullen Highway, $349,820; Mulch Brothers, Hollidaysburg, Pa., $397,793, and Moyer, $414,500.

Three bids on the electric contract also were submitted. Each had an alternate covering a change in the distribution system. They were Sterling Electric Company, this city, $124,000, deduct $73 for the alternate; Moyer, $129,447 and add $335 for the alternate; A. K. Everest, Fairmont, W.Va., $142,500 and add $500 for the alternate.

The lowest combination of bids covered Southeastern, general contract; H&S Heating, plumbing, heating and ventilating, and Sterling Electric, electrical, and they totaled $1,517,151, which is $3,711 higher than Hazelwood's overall bid.

The ultimate decision apparently will be determined on what alternates are accepted. For instance, Southeastern bid $5,800 less than Hazelwood on the seeding and sodding alternate, which would more than make up for the $3,711 difference in base bids.

S. Russ Minter, architect for the project, commented after the bids were tabulated that Hazelwood's overall bid was about $175,000 less than the same company's successful bid on the Valley High School job at Lonaconing, a comparable project.

A decision probably will be made soon because Webster would like to have the school ready for occupancy in September 1956. Hazelwood promised to finish the job in 530 calendar days, just under 18 months. Southeastern said it would take 600 days, which is 20 months.

Maplehurst Plans Include Family Recreation Area

A general family recreation area as well as a nine-hole golf course are among the present plans for immediate construction by the Maplehurst Country Club, Inc., upon completion of its drive for 200 charter members.

Temporary officers of the club hope to complete the membership bid by the first of the month in order to insure beginning of construction of the $50,000 golf course by May 15.

In conjunction with the golf course a family picnic area, archery range, children's playground and fishing ponds will be built at the same time.

The club has obtained 120 acres of ground one mile south of Frostburg on Route 36.

One of the foremost golf course architects in the country, James G. Harrison, Turtle Creek, Pa., who is a member of the club, drew up the plans for the nine-hole golf course which will be of championship quality. Club organizers hope in the future to add an additional nine holes for an 18-hole course.

Harrison, in examining the natural terrain of the club grounds, said a course worthy of professional championship play would be built on the locale. He is president of the National Association of Golf Course Architects.

The club grounds are centrally located in the Tri-State area and an overall membership of 300 to 350 is being sought from such cities as Cumberland, Westernport, Grantsville, Keyser, Uniontown, Pa., Salisbury, Pa., Bedford, Pa., and others.

Shares of non-assessable stock will be transferable, the club officers stated. A share entitles a stockholder to family membership in the club, including his wife and any children under 18 years of age.

Upon completion of the 200 charter membership drive the organization's membership will be closed until a permanent organization is formed, incorporated, with officers and directors elected by the stockholders.

Following the formation of the permanent club, membership again will be opened to the public.

Temporary locker and shower facilities and a snack bar will be available upon completion of the golf course and picnic grounds. The course will be open for use by Memorial Day of 1956 if present plans are not delayed.

The organization hopes also to provide for winter sports with ice skating on two large ponds on the club grounds, skiing and sledding on the natural slopes in the area.

Also included in plans for the future are tennis courts, a skeet range, a permanent club house and a larger golf course.

The organization hopes to provide low-cost recreation facilities for future industry which may come to the Tri-State area. Dues will be kept at a minimum, officers say.

A large parking area adjacent to Route 36 will be available with space for more than 200 cars.

The non-profit corporation now has 110 members and 50 other pledged toward its goal of 200 charter members. Temporary officers are Fred Dean, president; Charles Pinto, secretary, and Sidney S. Green, vice president.

The club will hold a sports dance March 4 at the Clary Club with dancing from 9 until 1 to help raise funds for the organization. Money from membership fees is being held in escrow in a Frostburg bank until 200 shares are sold, before construction of the recreation area will begin.

Pamphlet Asks Drivers To Keep Maryland Clean

"Maryland Needs Your Help"

That's the title of a pamphlet all Maryland motorists are receiving with their applications from the Department of Motor Vehicles for their new license tags. There is a message from Governor Theodore R. McKeldin asking all residents to help in getting rid of the litter along the state's highways.

David E. Kirk, Allegany County representative on the Governor's "Keep Maryland Beautiful" Committee, commented about the pamphlet in a report he submitted yesterday to the county commissioners about a meeting of the committee in Baltimore Monday.

Kirk said that a number of "Keep Maryland Beautiful" signs are being prepared at the State Penitentiary and will be available for use by various county groups. The county representative also added that a special highway clean-up drive is planned throughout the state during Holy Week.

Turnbull, Boone Propose 2-Cent Cigaret Excise

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 23 (AP) — Two Democratic leaders tonight recommended a 2 cents a pack tax on cigarets and lowering of the sales tax to purchases of 14 cents as a means of getting around Gov. McKeldin's proposed penny increase in the sales tax.

They also advocated collecting of corporation income taxes annually instead of quarterly as a substitute to his proposal to boost all income taxes.

Sen. Turnbull and Del. Boone, Finance Committee chairmen of the two houses, said these proposals would raise more than 30 million dollars in extra revenue—enough to get the State out of the 28 million dollar budget hole it faces, and leave some 2 million extra.

They said they would introduce the program in the form of bills in the two houses of the Legislature tomorrow. The proposals still had not been cleared by the finance committees and the president of the Senate and speaker of the House said they had no advance knowledge of it.

Gov. McKeldin had recommended increasing the sales tax from 2 to 3 cents on the dollar, boosting individual income taxes 50 per cent and those on corporations 25 per cent, and putting the state on a pay-as-you-go income tax collection basis as a means for raising needed revenue.

He spurned a suggested cigaret tax as creating a hardship on a Maryland industry.

Turnbull and Boone said their proposed 2-cent cigaret tax would add 6 million dollars a year to the State treasury.

Their provisions to broaden the sales tax would raise an estimated 9½ million dollars.

They stuck with McKeldin's plan to have individual income taxes withheld from pay checks starting July 1 and increasing exemptions for dependents from $600 to $1,000.

However, they would gain additional revenue for one fiscal year by making corporations pay all their income taxes in one lump instead of allowing them to pay on a quarterly basis. This would net an estimated $2,750,000.

They estimated their income tax proposals—without increasing the rate—would raise $21,144,400 extra next fiscal year, of which $6,254,086 would be returned to subdivisions. Some 2½ millions of this would go to Baltimore City and the rest to the counties.

The Weather

Yesterday was a pretty day with the sun shining brightly, although the air was a little chilly, which is usual about this time of the year. The official high temperature yesterday was 41 degrees with a low reading of 37, which was the same temperature recorded at 7:30 p. m. in Constitution Park. Humidity at 6 p. m. was 53 per cent and the total amount of rainfall was .27 inches.

Jewelry Window Smashed; Youth Held By Police

A young Cumberland man was arrested for questioning early today within minutes after a jewelry display window at the L. Bernstein Furniture Company Store on North Centre Street had been smashed.

Assistant Chief B. Frank Gaffney said someone used a rock to break the window, then fled toward Baltimore Street as the glass crashed to the pavement.

Officer Harry A. Iser, on duty on Baltimore Street, heard the crash and went to investigate. He then picked up the young man in the vicinity.

Gaffney said an eyewitness who was standing on the other side of the street when the window was broken at 11:50 p. m. had identified the prisoner. As far as police could determine, nothing was missing from the window.

The prisoner, Gaffney said, will be taken to the State's Attorney's office this morning by Iser and Detective Joseph Stitcher for questioning.

Nine Lawyers Participate In Trial

Lawyers really had their day in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday.

Miss Selma Anderson of Washington, the plaintiff, seeks $10,000 damages from Miss Ada Taylor, now of this city. Miss Anderson asks the damages for a broken leg and other injuries which she contends were received June 14, 1953, while she was a passenger in Miss Taylor's car involved in an accident near Milton, Del.

At the time both were attorneys for the Veterans' Administration in Washington. Two other passengers in the car, also women attorneys, testified at yesterday's jury trial. The four female lawyers had been at Ocean City for a weekend and were returning to Washington when the accident occurred.

Miss Anderson, the plaintiff, is represented by three attorneys, William H. Geppert, this city; Bennett Fitzgerald and Miss Joan Murphy, both of Washington. Miss Taylor, the defendant, has two attorneys representing her. They are William C. Walsh, this city, and Jeffrey B. Smith of Baltimore.

Instructions from Chief Judge George Henderson and final argument to the jury by the five attorneys representing the two participants will conclude the case this morning. Then the lawyers will await the jury's verdict.

Area Sailor Is Reported Missing

City Police yesterday received a call from a resident of Fort Ashby Road stating her son-in-law, who is in the Navy, is missing.

Lt. James E. Van, City Police Detective, last night said that Mrs. Frank Aldridge told her that James Forbes Jr., 24, stationed at Norfolk, Va., was last seen on Monday at the Cumberland Savings Bank shortly after cashing a check for a fairly large sum of money.

Van said the sailor is five feet, eight inches tall, weighs 130 pounds, is of slender build, with dark hair and blue eyes. He was dressed in his uniform.

Meanwhile police have been notified that Gene Kuykendall, 14, of Wiley Ford, who left his home at 8 a. m. Tuesday and failed to return home, has been located at the home of an aunt in Baltimore.

Magistrate Asks State Police To Check Truck Fleet

Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick yesterday ordered Maryland State Police to inspect all of the vehicles of a local trucking firm after the driver of one of the tractor-trailers was arrested on a charge of driving with inadequate brakes.

The magistrate said Bruce Swan, driver for the Harris Motor Express, Inc., was arrested by Trooper L. C. Clark on the traffic charge.

He said the local manager of the firm was instructed to have all vehicles inspected before next Tuesday.

The state trooper yesterday afternoon inspected three vehicles at the terminal here, and condemned one until it is placed in top operating condition.

The trooper said the trailer brakes were not hooked up on the rig which was stopped on McMullen Highway, and that other brakes were inadequate.

JAMES H. RADCLIFFE

J. H. Radcliffe Gets Reserve Commission

James H. Radcliffe, 26, of 803 Trost Avenue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Radcliffe, Monday was commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve in a ceremony at the Naval Reserve Training Center, McKaig's Hill.

Lieutenant Radcliffe, a graduate of the University of Maryland, who received his law degree from Washington and Lee University, was presented his commission and was sworn in by Capt. Henry W. Tubbs Jr., inspector-instructor of the Sixth Special Infantry Company, USMCR.

The newly-appointed officer will report to Quantico, Va. on February 28 for active duty. He is a graduate of Allegany High School. He had been a sergeant in the Reserve and attended platoon leaders' classes for two summers while attending college.

County Officials Again Discuss Salary Question

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners and the Board of Education conducted a two-hour closed door discussion of the teacher salary question yesterday afternoon to give the commissioners a better understanding of the financial problems involved.

William H. Lemmert, president of the county commissioners, said that he and Commissioner James Orr got considerable information on financing and costs but still had not arrived at any decision as to the amount of salary increase they will be able to give the county's teachers.

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster said the school board has made no change in its original recommendation of a $300 increase for county teachers above the state minimum. That would place the salary range between a $3,100 minimum and a $4,900 maximum for those with a bachelor's degree. The board also would up the county salaries another $100 in the 1956-57 school year when they would range between $3,200 and $5,000.

The County Teachers Association has asked for a $500 increase next year, placing the range between $3,300 and $5,100. Then the association wants additional $200 annual raises for the ensuing five years.

Attending the meeting besides Lemmert and Orr were Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the commissioners, and James G. Stevenson, clerk to the commissioners; the five Board of Education members, Kenneth R. Malcolm, Mrs. Albert Cook, Mrs. Stanley Buckley, Edward J. Ryan and W. Earle Cobey as well as Webster. Illness kept Commissioner C. N. Wilkinson away.

The Commissioners were told that the financial problems concerned more than simply finding the funds to raise all of the teachers now employed. There will be additional positions to fill with the opening of the new elementary school in LaVale.

Youths Are Held For Sentencing

Two local youths yesterday pleaded guilty to the theft of about $8 in cash from a Goethe Street delicatessen Monday.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick sent Richard G. Colbert, 17, city, and Charles W. Johnson, 18, of North Mechanic Street, to the County Jail to await sentencing on Monday.

The magistrate said he planned to check into the background of the lads before passing sentence.

He said Lt. James E. Van reported, in Trial Magistrates Court, that the cash has been recovered.

Lt. Van said the youths admitted the money was taken from the store's cash register. One took the money, he said, while the owner was waiting on the other.

Reserve Officers Conference Set

Col. Norman Beasley, USAR, representative of the Reserve Officers Association of Washington, will conduct a conference at the local Army Reserve auditorium in the Footer Building, South Mechanic Street.

The session, for all reserve officers of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps, will be held from 8 p. m. to 10 p. m. March 2. The "Fine Points of the Reserve Officers Program" will be discussed.

Kimble To Make Decision Today On Job Offer

Situation Produces Much Speculation

Senator Robert B. Kimble said last night he will make a definite decision today on his nomination as chairman of the Department of Employment Security.

He said last night from Annapolis the situation was "as is," but that a decision must be made one way or the other today.

The Associated Press yesterday said it is fully believed around the Legislature that Senator Kimble will accept the job of directing the employment security board and leave the Assembly after 22 years of service, adding:

"This set in motion politicking to arrange for the appointment of a Senate successor. The nomination to the governor will be made by the Republican State Central Committee of Allegany County.

Beall, Cook Boomed

"One strong report had J. Glenn Beall Jr., son of the U.S. Senator, being a likely recipient. Another had it that Del. Cook (R-Allegany) would move over to the Senate and that young Beall would take his seat in the House of Delegates."

No position on the possibility of a successor has been taken by the GOP heads.

James S. Getty, chairman of the committee, said yesterday:

"We are taking no position in the matter until Senator Kimble actually resigns. Until he does, there is no vacancy and nothing to consider."

An earlier AP dispatch said that Sen. Kimble had agreed to be nominated for chairman of the Department of Employment Security, but to delay final decision of acceptance if confirmed until some future date.

His agreement with the governor, the dispatch said, is that he be allowed to continue serving during this Legislature while he mulled over whether to resign.

In the meantime, he could be confirmed for the $10,000 a year state job, but would not be sworn into office.

Reluctant To Leave

Also mentioned for the post was Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason, who is serving as legislative assistant to Kimble, the minority floor leader of the Senate.

It was learned from reliable sources that Mason is "not interested" in the post.

Kimble has said he is reluctant to leave his Senate post since it would mean resigning after this session and taking a leave of absence from his job as safety supervisor for the B&O Railroad.

He has served 21 years in the Senate, and is the dean of that legislative body, in addition to a term from 1933-35 in the House of Delegates.

Driver Freed In Accident

A reckless driving charge against the driver of a car which struck and injured a nine-year-old local boy was dismissed yesterday.

William Hartung, son of City Fireman and Mrs. William M. Hartung, 1826 Frederick Street, was in "good" condition last night at Memorial Hospital, where he was admitted for treatment of a fractured right leg after the accident.

The boy was struck at about 8 a. m. in the 1900 block of Frederick Street by a car driven by Grover C. Blissard, 36, of Marshall, Texas.

Blissard said the boy ran in front of his car. Trial Magistrate Morris Baron dismissed the reckless driving charge against Blissard, but the driver posted $1,000 bond pending outcome of the boy's injuries.

Edwin R. Lilya, county investigator, said yesterday afternoon the state has not yet completed its investigation, but that from all indications, the boy had run in front of the car.

Detective Donald H. Smith said the Hartung boy, accompanied by Kenneth Robertson, 1821 Frederick Street, was en route to Gephart School when the accident occurred. He said the Robertson youngster ran back to the curb and was not hit by the oncoming car.

Local Sailors Slated For Naval Exercises
